

The background of the entire cover is a painting. It depicts a young child with light-colored hair, seen from the back, sitting in a bathtub. The child's arms are outstretched, and they appear to be playing with the water. The water is rendered with dynamic, swirling brushstrokes in shades of blue, green, and yellow. Above the child, a large, stylized sunburst or starburst shape is painted in a dark blue color, with rays extending outwards. The overall style is expressive and somewhat abstract, with visible brushwork throughout.

Age in David Almond's Oeuvre Vanessa Joosen, Michelle Anya Anjirbag, Leander Duthoy, Lindsey Geybels, Frauke Pauwels, Emma-Louise Silva, 2023-07-28 In recent decades age studies has started to emerge as a new approach to study children's literature This book builds on that scholarship but also significantly extends it by exploring age in various aspects of children's literature the age of the author the characters the writing style the intended readership and the real reader Moreover the authors explore what different theories and methods can be used to study age in children's literature and what their affordances and limits are. The analyses combine age studies with life writing studies, cognitive narratology, digital humanities, comparative literary studies, reader response research and media studies. To ensure coherence, the book offers an in-depth exploration of the oeuvre of a single author, David Almond. The aesthetic and thematic richness of Almond's works has been widely recognised. This book adds to the understanding of his oeuvre by offering a multi-faceted analysis of age. Readers will also get a fuller understanding of Almond as a crosswriter of literature for children, adolescents and adults.

Driving the Green Kevin Markham, 2014-05-01. Mark Twain had it all wrong: golf is not a good walk spoiled; golf is a journey. And when Ireland provides the map, it becomes an 11 000km odyssey for one man in a camper van. Kevin plays every 18-hole golf course in Ireland in all kinds of weather and with all kinds of golfers. He deals with a leaky roof, potholes, born-again Christians and even an Irish mammy. Ireland's beauty shines through, but the people encountered along the way, the golf clubs visited and the idiosyncrasies of a twenty-year-old camper van form the fairways on which this story plays. From tee-off to putting the final hole, this is a true Irish golfing adventure.
