Spectacle Unto God:

The Aesthetics of Spectacle in Early Modern Drama and Modern Cinema J. Sager, 2013-09-20 Examining the work of the Elizabethan playwright Robert Greene this book argues that Greene's plays are innovative in their use of spectacle. Its most striking feature is the use of the one-to-one analogies between Greene's drama and modern cinema in order to explore the plays' stage effects.

God on Broadway Charles A. Gillespie, 2025-11-18 What has Broadway to do with Jerusalem? God on Broadway explores the theological questions cracked open by commercial theatre. It shows how the Great White Way, that apex of tourist consumerism and a synonym for the business of spectacle, can be a place for theophany and critical reflection on religion. God is ready to be part of the show. God takes the stage as the clowning Jesus Christ of Godspell and in the comedian of An Act of God. God seems to overhear Tevye's soliloquy prayers from the balcony. God gets invoked in backstage traditions and superstitions in the booming voice of a director calling cues with a god mic and in the mystifying rules about a Scottish King's name. Broadway has a God waiting in the wings. Broadway shows operate in wider culture as a secular catechist. They instruct us about God outside the walls of an institutional church. God on Broadway sits out in the house where an audience of paying customers and strangers transform into co-players and shows how God is revealed in the small choices of a playwright and in the flashy song and dance numbers of musicals. Looking for God on Broadway is a way of doing theology, a method for interpreting and talking about God for and with a mixed public and inclusive audience. A commercial theology performs on Broadway. This book invites theatre lovers and theologians to play along.
