Spectral Emanations New And Selected Poems:

Spectral Emanations John Hollander, 1978 Selected Poems Hélène Aji, Jennifer Kilgore-Caradec, 2013-01-16 Complete poems are bulky and too heavy to carry around Collected poems pretend to be complete but usually are not Selected poems are altogether unpretentious and reader friendly But they can be problematic Who decides what poems are important for inclusion in a volume of selected poems When the selection occurs during the author's lifetime may one assume that the author was involved What motivates the choice of one poem over another How do readers' preferences influence this choice How do new readers and familiar readers of a poet negotiate the poems that are left out of the selection The essays in this volume address these questions in a variety of ways and also provide an overview of poetic writing from modernist poets to the present day using selections from the 1940s until now They offer new insight into the uses both pedagogical and critical of selection Because Selected Poems usually address a large general public these essays have also been written for all those who wish to know more about how these slimmer more attractive volumes are produced Apocalyptic Messianism and Contemporary Jewish-American Poetry R. Barbara Gitenstein, 2012-02-01 Focusing on the rich context of esoteric Jewish literature this collection presents in depth analyses of Jewish American poetry Gitenstein defines Jewish messianism and the literary genre of the apocalyptic describes historical movements and kabbalistic theories and analyzes their influence as part of the post Holocaust consciousness Represented are works by such poets as Irving Feldman Jack Hirschman John Hollander David Meltzer and Jerome Rothenberg Gitenstein recounts the lives of such spectacular eccentrics and holy men as the Abraham Abulafia thirteenth century Isaac Luria sixteenth century Shabbatai Zvi seventeenth century and Jacob Frank eighteenth century and identifies their theories as part of the history of the literary apocalyptic genre the literature of exile the literature of catastrophe Acts of Mind Richard Jackson, 1984-05-30 There have been any number of books of interviews with contemporary writers but none precisely like this one The author editor has somehow managed to get these very different poets to follow his lead and in many cases for the first time anywhere to reveal much about their intellectual habits assumptions and preconceptions In almost every case he has been able to get these poets to talk more openly and freely than anyone else has ever done George Garrett Color Codes Charles A. Riley (II.), Charles A. Riley, 1995 A multidisciplinary look at the role of color in contemporary aesthetics Selected Poetry John Hollander, 2012-05-02 Perfection is a rare accomplishment particularly in American poetry and the perfection of much of Hollander's work makes it essential reading for anyone who genuinely cares for the craft of poetry But in our fallen world we seem fated to value power of perfection and John Hollander's poetry has shown a visionary power just often enough to secure him a place as one of the major figures of our moment Vernon Shetley The New Republic Fourteen on Form William Baer, 2009-06 When free verse and its many movements seemed to dominate poetry other writers worked steadfastly insistently and majestically in traditional forms of rhyme and meter Such poets as Anthony Hecht Donald Justice Derek Walcott and Richard Wilbur utilized sonnets villanelles blank verse and many other forms to create dazzling lasting work Their writing posed a counterpoint to free verse sustained a tradition in English language verse and eventually inspired the movement called New Formalism

Fourteen on Form Conversations with Poets collects interviews with some of the most influential poets of the last fifty years William Baer editor of The Formalist asks incisive questions that allow writers to discuss in detail a wide range of topics related to their work methods of composition and the contemporary poetry scene Maxine Kumin reflects on being a woman poet during a period in which women were not encouraged to submit to journals With clarity and passion Walcott remembers the impetus of his famous Eulogy to W H Auden British poet Wendy Cope talks about the differences between how her barbed poems are received in England and abroad The conversations return continually to the serious matter of poetic craft especially the potential power of form in poetry These well paced conversations showcase poets discussing their creative lives with insight and candor The sum total of their forthright opinions in Fourteen on Form not only elucidates the current situation of the art form but it also serves as a primer for understanding the fundamental craft of poetics

The Ritual of New Creation Norman Finkelstein, 1992-01-01 Finkelstein examines a wide range of recent Jewish writing including poetry fiction and literary criticism in order to determine the changes such writing has undergone in its exposure to modern and postmodern conditions of culture Featuring discussions of such figures as Gershom Scholem Harold Bloom George Steiner Cynthia Ozick and John Hollander The Ritual of New Creation explores certain themes that recur in modern Jewish literature the relation of the sacred to the secular in Jewish writing the role of loss and exile wandering meaning and textual transformation This is a book for all readers interested in modern Jewish literature but especially for readers concerned with literary theory the relations of text and commentary and the fate of literary traditions in the contemporary and postmodern cultural milieu
