Soundscapes of Wellbeing in Popular Music Gavin J. Andrews, Paul Kingsbury, Robin Kearns, 2016-04-01 Unearthing the messy and sprawling interrelationships of place wellbeing and popular music this book explores musical soundscapes of health ranging from activism to international charity to therapeutic treatments and how wellbeing is sought and attained in contexts of music Drawing on critical social theories of the production circulation and consumption of popular music the book gathers together diverse insights from geographers and musicologists Popular music has become increasingly embedded in complex and often contradictory discourses of wellbeing For instance some new genres and sub cultures of popular music are associated with violence drug use and the angst of living yet simultaneously define the hopes and dreams of millions of young people At a service level popular music is increasingly used as a therapeutic modality in holistic medicine as well as in conventional health care and public health practice The genre of popular music then is fundamental to human wellbeing as an active and central part of people s emotional lives By conceptually and empirically foregrounding place this book demonstrates how music whether from particular places about particular places or played in particular places is a crucial component of health and wellbeing

Female Police Officers in Pakistan Sadaf Ahmad, 2025-10-02 Pakistan s police have historically displayed significant apathy towards recruiting women considering them unsuitable for this profession The social stigma of working in a notorious male dominated organization has also prevented many women from joining in the past Today female police officers comprise just over 3% of the Pakistani police This book is the first to examine their experiences within it It draws on extensive ethnographic research on female police officers of all ranks in cities across Pakistan to illustrate the diversity of their recruitment roles experiences and career prospects across rank cadre and region It also demonstrates how female officers are combatting patriarchal challenges to make greater inroads into a masculine terrain taking on diverse roles and playing an increasingly important role in supporting women s access to justice and why these changes cannot be conflated with the idea that these will automatically and radically transform the organization itself

The SAGE Handbook of Human Geography, 2v Roger Lee, Noel Castree, Rob Kitchin, Vicky Lawson, Anssi Paasi, Chris Philo, Sarah Radcliffe, Susan M. Roberts, Charles Withers, 2014-05-22 Superb How refreshing to see a Handbook that eschews convention and explores the richness and diversity of the geographical imagination in such stimulating and challenging ways Peter Dicken University of Manchester Stands out as an innovative and exciting contribution that exceeds the genre Sallie A Marston University of Arizona Captures wonderfully the richness and complexity of the worlds that human beings inhabit This is a stand out among handbooks Lily Kong National University of Singapore This wonderfully unconventional book demonstrates human geography s character and significance not by marching through traditional themes but by presenting a set of geographical essays on basic ideas practices and concerns Alexander B Murphy University of Oregon This SAGE Handbook stands out for its capacity to provoke the reader to think anew about human geography essays that offer some profoundly original insights into what it means to engage geographically with the world Eric Sheppard UCLA Published in association with the journal Progress in Human Geography edited and written by the principal scholars in the discipline this Handbook demonstrates the difference that thinking about the world geographically makes Each section considers how human geography shapes the world interrogates it and intervenes in it It includes a major retrospective and prospective introductory essay with three substantive sections on Imagining Human Geographies Practising Human Geographies Living Human Geographies The Handbook also has an innovative multimedia component of conversations about key issues in human geography as well as an overview of human geography from the Editors A key reference for any scholar interested in questions about what difference it makes to think spatially or geographically about the world this Handbook is a rich and textured statement about the geographical imagination

 Intimacy expressed through the feelings and sensations of the researcher is bound up in the work of a feminist geographer Tapping into this intimacy and including it in academic writing facilitates a grasping of the effects of power in particular places and initiates a discussion about how to access and tease out what constitutes the intimate both ethically and politically throughout the research process This collection provides valuable reflections about intimacy in the research process from encounters in the field through data analysis to the various pieces of written work A global and heterogeneous pool of scholars and researchers introduce personal ways of writing intimacy into feminist geography As authors expand existing conceptualizations of intimacy and include their own stories chapters explore the methodological challenges of using intimacy in research as an approach a topic and a site of interaction The book is valuable reading for students and researchers of Geography as well as anyone interested in the ethics and practicalities of feminist critical and emotional research methodologies

Feminisms in Geography Pamela Moss, Karen Falconer Al-Hindi, 2008 In this innovative reader Pamela Moss and Karen Falconer Al Hindi present a unique reflective approach to what feminist geography is and who feminist geographers are Their carefully crafted textbook invigorates feminist debates about space place and knowledges with a fine balance among teaching chapters reprints and original essays Offering an anthology that actually questions the very purpose of an anthology the editors create and then negotiate a tension between reinforcing and destabilizing scholarly authority They challenge the idea that there is one set of works that acts as the vision interpretation voice and feel of feminist geography while both reproducing key previously published works and including fresh essays from a number of feminist geographers in a single volume The first chapter frames feminism geography and knowledge as a m lange of ideas principles and practices Each of the three major sections of the volume begins with an introductory essay that places individual contributions into the overarching argument about the construction of feminist geography Each introduction is then followed by a combination of reprints and original essays that contribute both to understanding how feminist geographical knowledge is constructed differently in different places and to showing what feminist geographers do wherever they are The final chapter extends the anti anthology arguments and raises questions that feminisms in geographies have yet to address Students and scholars will find both the approach and the discussion essential for a full and nuanced

Affective Tourism Dorina Maria Buda,2015-05-15 This book brings together explores and expands socio spatial affect emotion and psychoanalytic drives in tourism for the first time Affect is to be found in visceral intensities and resonances that circulate around and shape encounters between and amongst tourists local tourism representatives and places When affect manifests it can take shapes in the form of emotions such as fun joy fear anger and the like When it remains a visceral force of latent bodily responses affect overlaps with drives as expounded in psychoanalysis The aim of the title therefore is to explore how and in what ways affects emotions and drives are felt and performed in tourism encounters in places of socio political turmoil such as Jordan Palestine Israel with a detour to Iraq Affective Tourism is highly innovative as it offers a new way of theorising tourism encounters bringing together critically examining and expanding three areas of scholarship affective and emotional geographies psychoanalytic geographies and dark tourism It has relevance for tourism industries in places in the proximity of ongoing conflicts as it provides in depth analyses of the interconnections between tourism danger and conflict Such understandings can lead to more socio culturally and politically sustainable approaches to planning development and management of tourism This ground breaking book will be of valuable reading for students and researchers from a number of fields such as tourism studies geography anthropology sociology and Middle Eastern studies Building a House in Heaven Mona Atia,2013-11-01 Charity is an economic act This premise underlies a societal transformation the merging of religious and capitalist impulses that Mona Atia calls pious neoliberalism Though the phenomenon spans religious lines Atia makes the connection between Islam and capitalism to examine the surprising relations between charity and the economy the state and religion in the transition from Mubarak era Egypt Mapping the landscape of charity and development in Egypt Building a House in Heaven reveals the factors that changed the nature of Egyptian charitable practices the state s intervention in social care and religion an Islamic revival intensified economic pressures on the poor and the subsequent emergence of the private sector as a critical actor in development She shows how when individuals from Egypt's private sector felt it necessary to address poverty they sought to make Islamic charities work as engines of development a practice that changed the function of charity from distributing goods to empowering the poor Drawing on interviews with key players Atia explores the geography of Islamic charities through multiple neighborhoods ideologies sources of funding projects and wide social networks Her work shifts between absorbing ethnographic stories of specific organizations and reflections on the patterns that appear across the sector An enlightening look at the simultaneous neoliberalization of Islamic charity work and Islamization of neoliberal development the book also offers an insightful analysis of the political and socioeconomic movements leading up to the uprisings that ended Mubarak's rule and that amplified the importance of not only the Muslim Brotherhood but also the broader forces of Islamic piety and charity

A Companion to Feminist Geography Lise Nelson, Joni Seager, 2025-07-28 A Companion to Feminist Geography captures the breadth and diversity of this vibrant and substantive field Shows how feminist geography has changed the landscape of geographical inquiry and knowledge since the 1970s Explores the diverse literatures that comprise feminist geography today Showcases cutting edge research by feminist geographers Charts emerging areas of scholarship such as the body and the nation Contributions from 50 leading international scholars in the field Each chapter can be read for its own distinctive contribution

Phobic Geographies Joyce Davidson, 2017-10-24 Despite recent estimates that there are currently 10 million people in the UK suffering from phobias there is a substantial and conspicuous gap in existing academic literature and research on this topic This book addresses this gap in relation to geography literature but also extending beyond this field to connect with a wide range of academics health professionals and phobic others whose ideas are reformed by fear In doing so it provides non clinical specifically geographical insights into phobia of relevance for its sufferers and expands human geographical understandings of the relations between gender embodiment space and mental health via a study of agoraphobia This book argues that a critical geographic perspective is better placed to take account of the importance of wider social contexts and relations and can give a fully spatialised account of the disorder more faithful to the way sufferers actually describe their experiences By drawing attention to some of the more unusual ways that people relate to each other and to their environments we can illuminate some ordinarily taken for granted aspects of personal geographies

Making a Scene Liz Millward, 2015-11-15 Starting in the mid 1960s Canadian lesbians started leaving their closets en masse to find each other and build community After decades of being pathologized or erased from public view lesbians were ready to make a scene both by bringing attention to themselves and by creating physical spaces and opportunities where they could meet to form relationships debate politics and forge their own culture Making a Scene documents the lesbian movement that emerged in Canada between 1964 and 1984 Not just a story of big city life it chronicles the range of spaces lesbians created across rural and urban Canada from physical locations such as lesbian and gay centres bookstores and private members clubs to ephemeral sites of encounter such as conferences festivals and Dykes in the Streets marches Enriched by interviews and excerpts from letters club meeting minutes diaries and more Making a Scene brings to life the exuberance and determination of these young women
