Fads, and Consumer Culture Arthur Asa Berger, 2015-01-22 The fifth edition of this approachable text draws on both academic and applied perspectives to offer a lively critique of contemporary advertising's effects on American character and culture. Berger explains how advertising works by employing a psycho-cultural approach encouraging readers to think about advertisements and commercials in more analytical and profound ways. Among the topics he addresses are the role of brands, the problem of self-alienation and how both relate to consumption. Berger also considers the Values and Lifestyle VALS and Claritas typologies in marketing. Distinctive chapters examine specific advertisements and commercials from multiple perspectives including semiotic, psychoanalytic, sociological, Marxist, mythic and feminist analysis. Ads, Fads and Consumer Culture provides an accessible overview of advertising in the United States spanning issues as diverse as sexuality, politics, market research, consumer culture and more, helping readers understand the role that advertising has played and continues to play in all our lives.

World Made Sexy Paul Rutherford, 2007-08-11 The cult of eroticism is a pervasive force in modern society affecting almost every aspect of our daily lives. In this book Paul Rutherford argues that this phenomenon is a product of one of the major commercial and political enterprises of the twentieth and twenty-first centuries: the creation of desire for sex for wealth and for entertainment. A World Made Sexy examines museum exhibitions, art books, magazines, films and television to explore the popular rise of eroticism in America and across the developed world. Starting with a brief foray into the history of pornography, Rutherford goes on to explore a sexual liberation movement shaped by the ideas of Marx and Freud, the erotic styles of Salvador Dalí and pop art, the pioneering use of publicity as erotica by Playboy and other media, and the growing concerns of cultural critics over the emergence of a regime of stimulation. In one case study, Rutherford pairs James Bond and Madonna in order to examine the link between sex and aggression. He details how television advertising after 1980 constructed a theatre of the libido to entice the buying public and concludes by situating the cultivation of eroticism in the wider context of Michel Foucault's views on social power and governmentality and specifically how they relate to sexuality during the modern era. A World Made Sexy is about power and pleasure, emancipation and domination, and the relationship between the personal passions and social controls that have crafted desire.
