Submarine Grayback Rick Cline, 1999-01-01      United States Submarine Losses in World War II United States Navy, 2008-09-01 Originally printed in 1946 at the order of Vice Admiral Lockwood Commander of Submarines Pacific Fleet United States Submarine Losses memorializes the 374 officers and 3131 men lost at sea between 1941 and 1945 It also chronicles the gallantry and persistence of these men who under the most difficult conditions possible performed critical missions and almost single handedly decimated Japan's merchant fleet To those whose contribution meant the loss of sons brothers or husbands in this war Admiral Lockwood noted in a speech given on Navy Day 1945 I can assure you that they went down fighting and that their brothers who survived them took a grim toll of our savage enemy to avenge their deaths May God rest their gallant souls This book is a testament to all those living and dead who served in the Silent Service in WWII This enhanced softbound edition features the entire original text and includes an official appendix of Axis submarine losses      United States Submarine Losses, World War II United States. Naval History Division, 1963      Patrol Area 14

Dave Lotz, 2018-01-05 As the war in the Pacific progressed the role of the US submarines evolved to meet the challenges confronting the United States Navy in the Western Pacific This story is vividly portrayed in Patrol Area 14 and details the exploits of the US submarines in one specific patrol area of the Pacific Ocean the waters of the Mariana Islands whose control became essential to victory in the Pacific for the United States and defeat for Japan Patrol Area 14 describes the submarine patrols from solitary patrols beginning in 1942 to aggressively patrolling the offshore waters to bold approaches to harbor entrances to sinking ships within sight of the islands in spite of determined Japanese air and sea anti submarine efforts and supporting the US invasions of the islands in 1944      Regulus David K.
