Subsistence Perspective:

The Subsistence Perspective Maria Mies, Veronika Bennholdt-Thomsen, 1999 First published in Germany in 1997 as Eine Kuh fur Hillary Die Subsitenzperspective Provides an alternative to the current global free market industrial system by calling for a new economics and politics based on a subsistence perspective Explains subsistence as empowerment based on people s strength and cooperation Analyses recent feminist politics and argues that the fight for equality with men has failed to make an egaliltarian society Includes case studies from Africa Latin America and Europe references and an index Mies is professor of sociology at the Fachhochschule Cologne Bennholdt Thomsen is director of the institute of the theory and praxis Just Methods Alison M. Jaggar, 2015-11-17 The supplemented edition of this important of subsistence Bielefeld Germany reader includes a substantive new introduction by the author on the changing nature of feminist methodology It takes into account the implications of a major new study included for this first time in this book on poverty and gender in equality and it includes an article discussing the ways in which this study was conducted using the research methods put forward by the first edition This article begins by explaining why a new and better poverty metric is needed and why developing such a metric requires an alternative methodological approach inspired by feminism Feminist research is a growing tradition of inquiry that aims to produce knowledge not biased by inequitable assumptions about gender and related categories such as class race religion sexuality and nationality Just Methods is designed for upper level undergraduate and graduate students in a range of disciplines Rather than being concerned with particular techniques of inquiry the interdisciplinary readings in this book address broad guestions of research methodology They are designed to help researchers think critically and constructively about the epistemological and ethical implications of various approaches to research selection and research design evidence gathering techniques and publication of results A key theme running through the readings is the complex interrelationship between social power and inequality on the one hand and the production of knowledge on the other A second and related theme is the inseparability of research projects and methodologies from ethical and political values

Culture + the State: Landscape and Ecology ,2003 The Poverty of Life-Affirming Work Mechthild Hart,2001-12-30 While society may applaud middle and upper class women who decide to stay home to raise their children there exists a decided abhorrence for single mothers welfare queens who collect public funds but do not work Here Hart challenges traditional notions of welfare mothers by providing first hand accounts of poor urban mothers and revealing the life affirming and moral aspects of their motherwork a form of subsistence work involving many tasks that incorporate the physical psychological emotional and spiritual dimensions of life Though the mothering work these women do is vilified in public discourse as unnecessary and unwanted the author contends that the ethical and epistemological dimensions of life affirming work a key component of motherwork not only structure social political activism but also educational efforts that are oriented towards radical change Concrete experiences of motherwork policy analyses regarding welfare reform efforts oriented towards educational and epistemological border crossings and collective struggles for social change are examined here in a larger theoretical political economic framework Pulling together the many strands of different theoretical fields addressing issues related to critical transformative pedagogy community activism and forms of unpaid work this unique work calls for the unlearning of ways of thinking and feeling which uphold prejudices and life threatening social political hierarchies While the public may sneer at women who choose to accept welfare in order to stay home to raise their children these mothers must continue to perform this invisible work in order that their children may break the cycle of poverty in which they are entrenched The author examines ways in which these mothers organize and carry out educational efforts and political work in the context of extreme poverty and against the harsh criticisms of an unforgiving public Ultimately Hart hopes to convince the public of the inherent importance of motherwork and break down the prejudices that have worked against the urban poor and single mothers Poetry & Commons Daniel Eltringham, 2022-05-13 Winner of the ASLE UKI Book Prize 2023 The commons and enclosure are among the most vital ways of thinking about poetry today posing urgent ecological and political questions about land and resource ownership and use Poetry Commons is the first study to read postwar and contemporary poetry through this lens by putting it in dialogue with the Romantic experience of agrarian dispossession Employing an innovative transhistorical structure the book demonstrates how radical Anglophone poetries since 1960 have returned to the enclosure of the commons in response to political and ecological crises It identifies a commons turn in contemporary lyric that contests the new enclosures of globalized capital and resource extraction In lucid close readings of a rich field of experimental poetries associated with the British Poetry Revival as well as from Canada and the United States it analyses a landscape poetics of enclosure in relationship with Romantic verse Canonical Romantic poetry by Wordsworth and Clare is understood through the fine grain textures of the period's vernacular and radical verse and discourse around enclosure which the book demonstrates contain the seeds of neoliberal political economy Engaging with the work of Anne Lise Fran ois and Anna Tsing Poetry Commons theorizes commoning as marking out subsistence rhythms of resource which articulate plural irregular and tentative relations between human and nonhuman lifeworlds Transversal Ecocritical Praxis Patrick D. Murphy, 2013-06-20 In Transversal Ecocritical Praxis Theoretical Arguments Literary Analysis and Cultural Critique Patrick D Murphy Ph D utilizes ecocriticism and ecofeminism to develop his concept of transversal practice an interdisciplinary combination of theory and applied criticism He begins by explaining the necessity for cutting across disciplinary boundaries of all kinds in order to address the ecological dimensions of culture and literature The dialogical foundation of this orientation is elaborated through a consideration of the theories of Mikhail Bkahtin particularly in terms of the ethical responsibilities of the reader and critic Murphy then takes up issues of identity and subject formation in relation to genetics embodiment and selfhood These same issues play out in the history of the aesthetic category of the sublime which the author critiques from an ecofeminist perspective Following that he turns attention to cultural issues of consumption both at home and internationally looking particularly at postcolonial literature and forms of resistance to globalizations and agricultural land grabs Resistance and postcolonial literature is further analyzed through consideration of two book length Latin American poetic sequences one by Pablo Neruda and the other by Ernesto Cardenal Switching from works focused on the present Murphy turns his attention then to how these themes play out in the future oriented worlds of science fiction He concludes with two chapters that combine ecocriticial cultural critique and economic analysis in studies of the destructive role of megadams particularly in Asia and the impact of the combined threats of peak oil and climate change on one island s tourist economy The conclusion contains a discussion of further drivers of future ecocritical analysis Traversing a wide range of examples literary cultural and economic this work fleshes out the benefits of an ethically grounded interdisciplinary ecocriticism Ecofeminism Vandana Shiva, Maria Mies, 2014-03-13 This groundbreaking work remains as relevant today as when it was when first published Two of Zed s best known authors argue that ecological destruction and industrial catastrophes constitute a direct threat to everyday life the maintenance of which has been made the particular responsibility of women In both industrialized societies and the developing countries the new wars the world is experiencing violent ethnic chauvinisms and the malfunctioning of the economy also pose urgent questions for ecofeminists Is there a relationship between patriarchal oppression and the destruction of nature in the name of profit and progress How can women counter the violence inherent in these processes Should they look to a link between the women's movement and other social movements Maria Mies and Vandana Shiva offer a thought provoking analysis of these and many other issues from a unique North South perspective They critique prevailing economic theories conventional concepts of women s emancipation the myth of catching up development the philosophical foundations of modern science and technology and the omission of ethics when discussing so many questions including advances in reproductive technology and biotechnology In constructing their own ecofeminist epistemology and methodology these two internationally respected feminist environmental activists look to the potential of movements advocating consumer liberation and subsistence production sustainability and regeneration and they argue for an acceptance of limits and reciprocity and a rejection of exploitation the endless commoditization of needs and violence approach applicable in the Global South and in Southern Africa in particular The study argues that the process and substance of nhakanomics with its pre emphasis on the relational South provides a robust and holistic approach to social innovation and social transformation grounded in relational networks and meshworks The central idea is a call to re GENE rate society through local Grounding and Origination and tapping into local global Emergent Foundations via a newly global Emancipatory Navigation while ultimately culminating in global local transformative Effects in four recursive cycles of re GENE rating C K umusha Culture Communication and Capital after re Constituting Africa the 5Cs With a novel and radical approach the book is an interrogation of neo liberal economics in the Global South As such this book is remarkably handy to students and practitioners in the fields of economics development studies political science science and technology studies business management sociology transformation studies and development related non Governmental Organisations working with grassroots communities Globalization: The Key Concepts Annabelle Mooney, Betsy Evans, 2007-03-12 Viewed as a destructive force or an inevitability of modern society globalization is the focus of a multitude of disciplines A clear understanding of its processes and terminology is imperative for anyone engaging with this ubiquitous topic Globalization the Key Concepts offers a comprehensive guide to this cross disciplinary subject and covers concepts such as homogenization neo Liberalism risk knowledge society time space compression reflexivity With extensive cross referencing and suggestions for further reading this book is an essential resource for students and interested readers alike as they navigate the literature on globalization studies Living (In)Dependence Bill F. Ndi, Benjamin Hart Fishkin, Adaku T. Ankumah, 2024-11-29 Living In Dependence Critical Perspectives on Global Interdependence embraces a multidisciplinary approach to the interconnectedness of independence and dependence in every ramification of the words These scholars and academics from different disciplinary area examine independence which rhetoric is aimed at legitimizing nationalist and isolationist positions and with exclusionists clamoring for walls separating people who supposedly live in a global village Living In Dependence Critical Perspectives on Global Interdependence is a timely reminder especially when the world is at cross purposes with generation old alliances falling apart like the Berlin Wall that less than 30 years ago fell to mark an end to sadness and separation that same engendered from 1949 1989 In short this study explores the binary of life experience of independence and that of dependence as constituent flipsides of a coin whose meaning can only be grasped by taking a closer look at each Transformations Torry D. Dickinson, Robert K. Schaeffer, 2015-12-03 Bringing feminist and world systems theories facet together this analytic anthology examines the rise of intersecting women centered movements that contribute to alternative development and the rise of new societies The authors consider feminist movements and humanistic transformations that create new work and market relations promote democracy and equality redefine gender and sexuality regenerate the environment and construct nonviolent and peaceful relations At the end of each chapter articles by feminist theorists and practitioners on these topics are included to illustrate the analysis Using a global historical framework the book shows how diverse multicultural and international feminist ideas can be brought together to provide a comprehensive and differentiated understanding of change Integral Economics Ronnie Lessem, Alexander Schieffer, 2016-05-23 Why on earth is economics perceived to come in only one or at best two different a cultural if not a moral guises There are real and many alternatives to the economic mainstream The trouble is of course that they are hidden from us In Integral Economics Ronnie Lessem and Alexander Schieffer pave the way for a sustainable approach to economics building on the richness of diverse economic approaches from all over the globe By introducing the most evolved economic perspectives and bringing them into creative dialogue they argue that neither individual enterprises nor wider society will be transformed for the better without a new economic perspective Here they introduce a comprehensive framework based on the same Four Worlds model that is applied to enterprise and research in their earlier works Given the richness of even mainstream economic theory reviewed in this book let alone the variety of alternative approaches introduced it is frustrating that policymakers and business practitioners are impoverished by a lack of apparent economic choice between a seemingly failing capitalism and an already failed communism The villains of the piece in relation to this lack of choice are not so much the financial community and governments though they do have much to answer but the schools of economics and the business schools that have created the very social ethos the philosophical principles and the mathematical models that influence events Integral Economics is partly addressed to academics and students in those very schools who have either realized the error of their ways or less dramatically are curious to explore whether our businesses and communities could be run in a different way It will be welcomed by informed senior practitioners eager to understand the current rethink of economic theory and practice and to discover how to position themselves their organizations and their society within a new framework Political Theory and the Ecological Challenge Andrew Dobson, Robyn Eckersley, 2006-08-10 In recent years the engagement between the environmental agenda and mainstream political theory has become increasingly widespread and profound Each has affected the other in palpable and important ways and it makes increasing sense for political theorists in each camp to engage with one another This book first published in 2006 draws together the threads of this interconnecting enquiry in order to assess its status and meaning Andrew Dobson and Robyn Eckersley have gathered together a team of renowned scholars to think through the challenge that political ecology presents to political theory Looking at fourteen familiar political ideologies and concepts such as liberalism conservatism justice and democracy the contributors question how they are reshaped distorted or transformed from an environmental perspective Lively accessible and authoritative this book will appeal to scholars and Towards a Political Economy of Degrowth, Ekaterina Chertkovskaya,, Alexander Paulsson, Stefania students alike Barca, 2019-10-04 Since the 1970s the degrowth idea has been proposed by scholars public intellectuals and activists as a powerful call to reject the obsession of neoliberal capitalism with economic growth an obsession which continues apace despite the global ecological crisis and rising inequalities In the past decade degrowth has gained momentum and become an umbrella term for various social movements which strive for ecologically sustainable and socially just alternatives that would transform the world we live in How to move forward in an informed way without reproducing the existing hierarchies and injustices. How not to end up in a situation when ecological sustainability is the prerogative of the privileged direct democracy is ignorant of environmental issues and localisation of production is xenophobic These are some of the questions that have inspired this edited collection Bringing degrowth into dialogue with critical social theories covering previously unexplored geographical contexts and discussing some of the most contested concepts in degrowth the book hints at informed paths towards socio ecological transformation Integral Economics Dr Alexander Schieffer, Professor Ronnie Lessem, 2012-08-28 Why on earth is economics perceived to come in only one or at best two different a cultural if not a moral quises There are real and many alternatives to the economic mainstream The trouble is of course that they are hidden from us In Integral Economics Ronnie Lessem and Alexander Schieffer pave the way for a sustainable approach to economics building on the richness of diverse economic approaches from all over the globe By introducing the most evolved economic perspectives and bringing them into creative dialogue they argue that neither individual enterprises nor wider society will be transformed for the better without a new economic perspective Here they introduce a comprehensive framework based on the same Four Worlds model that is applied to enterprise and research in their earlier works Given the richness of even mainstream economic theory reviewed in this book let alone the variety of alternative approaches introduced it is frustrating that policymakers and business practitioners are impoverished by a lack of apparent economic choice between a seemingly failing capitalism and an already failed communism The villains of the piece in relation to this lack of choice are not so much the financial community and governments though they do have much to answer but the schools of economics and the business schools that have created the very social ethos the philosophical principles and the mathematical models that influence events Integral Economics is partly addressed to academics and students in those very schools who have either realized the error of their ways or less dramatically are curious to explore whether our businesses and communities could be run in a different way It will be welcomed by informed senior practitioners eager to understand the current rethink of economic theory and practice and to discover how to position themselves their organizations and their society within a new framework Gender and Energy Transition Katarzyna Iwińska, Xymena Bukowska, 2021-11-01 This volume takes an ecofeminist perspective in analysing societal changes related to energy transition with a focus on Upper Silesia in Europe following the closure of coal mining industries in the region It provides both a macro and micro view of how energy transition in societies built around an energy industry can lead to major shifts in societal and familial dynamics and how women locate themselves in this transition period affecting the economy as well as social and environmental structures and values Densely populated Upper Silesia in southern Poland with one of the longest histories of industrialization extractivism and environmental degradation in Europe can be considered as a microcosm of regions that have undergone such changes due to energy transition The traces of telling socio economic changes as well as the tangle of modernity and conservatism are both clearly visible in the local region and society The book documents the Silesian changes and highlights the female perspective their culture identities as well as empowerment and the agency The paradigm of feminist and masculinity studies helps in presenting the complexity and the challenges of the just energy transition This is a topical volume given that many regions of the world are undergoing similar changes and is an interesting read for decision makers policy experts environmentalists as well social scientists who study issues related to sustainability and environmental societal challenges in energy transition Chapter 1 is available open access under a Creative Commons Attribution 4 0 International License via link springer com
