Galenson, 2025-01-21 Some innovators are luminous shooting stars think Pablo Picasso Albert Einstein Sylvia Plath Bob Dylan Steve Jobs who make bold leaps early and suddenly then lose their creativity Others are late bloomers Paul Cezanne Charles Darwin Virginia Woolf Alfred Hitchcock Warren Buffett who show little early promise but spend long periods doggedly pursuing distant goals and attain greatness in old age By analyzing the careers of scores of great innovators this book reveals systematic differences in the motivations and methods of these two types and their very different patterns of creativity over the life cycle The result is a new and deeper unified understanding of the sources of human creativity

Vision and Society John Clammer, 2014-03-26 The sociology of art is now an established sub discipline of sociology But little work has been done to explore the implications not of society on art but of art on the nature and principles of sociology itself Vision and Society explores the ways in which art here mainly understood as visual art structures in fundamental ways the constitution of society the relations between societies and the ways in which society and culture should be theorized Building initially on an unfulfilled project by the French sociologist of art Nathalie Heinich to derive a sociology from art this book pushes this idea in unconventional directions Rethinking the relationships between the study of art and the study of sociology and anthropology this book explores how this rethinking might impact sociological theory in general and certain aspects of it in particular especially the study of social movements social change the urban the constitution of space and the ways in which human social relationships are mediated and expressed Pentecostal Aesthetics Steven Felix, 2015-02-04 Pentecostals have not sufficiently worked out a distinctively Pentecostal philosophy of art and aesthetics In Pentecostal Aesthetics Theological Reflections in a Pentecostal Philosophy of Art and Aesthetics with a foreword by Amos Yong Steven Felix J ger corrects this by reflecting theologically on art and aesthetics from a global Pentecostal perspective particularly through a pneumatic Pentecostal lens Felix J ger contends that a Pentecostal philosophy of art and aesthetics must comply with the global experiential and pneumatocentric nature of the Pentecostal movement Such a philosophy can be ontologically grounded in a relativistic theory of art Theological reflections concerning the nature and purpose of art must then be sensitive to the ontological foundations secured thereof In this fashion Pentecostals can gain ample insight about the Spirit's

Fashion analyzes the writer's use of clothing from a variety of critical approaches considering how clothing and dress intersect with race class and gender across Faulkner's works. It also considers clothes as material objects using Thing Theory and Object Oriented Ontology to illuminate the role clothing plays as an object in conjunction with its multiple layers of symbolic meaning to both the wearer and the observer. Evading Class in Contemporary British Literature L. Driscoll, 2009-06-22 This trenchant book argues that the cultural attempt to erase class during the period from Margaret Thatcher to Tony Blair has only generated its return as a troubling subterranean element in British literature and theory. Driscoll critiques the way postmodern theory idealizes contemporary British literature as a space of fluid flexible decentered subjects, arguing that beneath this ideology are clear evasions of class. Offering critical readings of canonized middle class authors from Martin Amis to Graham Swift, Driscoll makes the compelling argument that the contemporary British novel, assisted by class blind postmodern literary theory, consistently works to control the problem of class.

Ambition Eckart Goebel, 2022-06-02 We describe people who are consumed or devoured by ambition as if by a predator or an out of control inferno Thinkers since deepest antiquity have raised these questions approaching the subject of ambition with ambivalence and often trepidation as when the ancient Greek poet Hesiod proposed a differentiation between the good and the bad goddess Eris Indeed ambition as a longing for immortal fame seems to be one of the unique hallmarks of the human species While philosophy has touched only occasionally on the problem of burning ambition sociology psychoanalysis and world literature have provided rich and more revealing descriptions and examples of its shaping role in human history Drawing on a long and varied tradition of writing on this topic ranging from the works of Homer through Shakespeare Freud and Kafka and from the history of ancient Greece and Rome to the Italian Renaissance and up to the present day to modernity and the current neoliberal era Eckart Goebel explores our driving passion for recognition that insatiable hunter in the mirror and power

Faulkner and Postmodernism John N. Duvall, 2002 Since the 1960s William Faulkner Mississippi's most famous author has been recognized as a central figure of international modernism But might Faulkner's fiction be understood in relation to Thomas Pynchon's Gravity's Rainbow as well as James Joyce's Ulysses In eleven essays from the 1999 Faulkner and Yoknapatawpha Conference held at the University of Mississippi Faulkner and Postmodernism examines William Faulkner and his fiction in light of postmodern literature culture and theory The volume explores the variety of ways Faulkner's art can be used to measure similarities and differences between modernism and postmodernism Essays in the collection fall into three categories those that use Faulkner's novels as a way to mark a period distinction between modernism and postmodernism those that see postmodern tendencies in Faulkner's fiction and those that read Faulkner through the lens of postmodern theory's contemporary legacy the field of cultural studies In order to make their particular arguments essays in the collection compare Faulkner to more contemporary novelists such as Ralph Ellison Vladimir Nabokov Thomas Pynchon Walker Percy Richard Ford Toni Morrison and Kathy Acker But not all of the comparisons are to high culture artists since even Elvis Presley becomes Faulkner's foil in one of the essays A variety of theoretical perspectives frame the work in this volume from Fredric Jameson's pessimistic sense of postmodernism's possibilities to Linda Hutcheon's conviction that cultural critique can continue in postmodernism through innovative new forms such as metafiction Despite the different theoretical premises and distinct conclusions of the individual authors of these essays Faulkner and Postmodernism proves once again that in the key debates surrounding twentieth century fiction Faulkner is a crucial figure John N Duvall an associate professor of English at Purdue University is the editor of Modern Fiction Studies Ann J Abadie is associate director of the Center for the Study of Southern Culture at the University of Mississippi

The Beforelife Franz Wright, 2010-02-24 In this stunning collection Franz Wright chronicles the journey back from a place of isolation and wordlessness After a period when it seemed certain he would never write poetry again he speaks with bracing clarity about the twilight world that lies between madness and sanity addiction and recovery Wright negotiates the precarious transition from illness to health in a state of skeptical rapture discovering along the way the exhilaration of love both divine and human and finding that even the most battered consciousness can be good company Whether he is writing about his regret for the abortion of a child describing the mechanics of slander I can just hear them on the telephone and keening all their kissy little knives or composing an ironic ode to himself To a Blossoming Nut Case Wright's poems are exquisitely precise Charles Simic has characterized him as a poetic miniaturist whose secret ambition is to write an epic on the inside of a matchbook cover Time and again Wright turns on a dime in a few brief lines exposing the dark comedy and poignancy of his heightened perception Here is one of the poems from the collection Description of Her Eyes Two teaspoonfuls and my mind goes everyone can kiss my ass now then it's changed I change my mind Eyes so sad and infinitely kind
