(The Chartered Institute of Building), 2013-01-23 Design management as a recognised role in the built environment industry is relatively new, initially arising from the need for better co-ordination and delivery of design information from design teams to main contractors, particularly important as procurement routes involving contractor-led design have become much more commonplace. The advent of design packages driven by specialist sub-contractors has also increased the need for co-ordination and management of the design process. With the growing complexity of construction projects, effective design management is increasingly central to project success. BIM, as it gains acceptance across the industry, will undoubtedly have a huge impact on project delivery process and the role of the Design Manager.
