Dury and Andrews' Map of Hertfordshire Andrew Macnair,Anne Rowe,Tom Williamson,2015-11-30 This book is about the map of an English county Hertfordshire which was published in 1766 by two London mapmakers Andrew Dury and John Andrews For well over two centuries from the time of Elizabeth I to the late 18th century the county was the basic unit for mapping in Britain and the period witnessed several episodes of comprehensive map making The map which forms the subject of this book followed on from a large number of previous maps of the county but was greatly superior to them in terms of quality and detail It was published in a variety of forms in nine sheets with an additional index map over a period of 60 years No other maps of Hertfordshire were produced during the rest of the century but the Board of Ordnance later the Ordnance Survey established in the 1790s began to survey the Hertfordshire area in 1799 publishing the first maps covering the county between 1805 and 1834 The OS came to dominate map making in Britain but of all the maps of Hertfordshire that produced by Dury and Andrews was the first to be surveyed at a sufficiently large scale to really allow those dwelling in the county to visualize their own parish local topography and even their own house and its place in the wider landscape The first section examines the context of the map s production and its place in cartographic history and describes the creation of a new digital version of the map which can be accessed online The second part describes various ways in which this electronic version can be interrogated in order to throw important new light on Hertfordshire s landscape and society both in the middle decades of the eighteenth century when it was produced and in more remote periods The attached DVD contains over a dozen maps which have been derived from the digital version and which illustrate many of the issues discussed in the text as well as related material which should likewise be useful to students of landscape history historical geography and local history

Catalog of Copyright Entries Library of Congress. Copyright Office,1974    Peter Stent, London Printseller Alexander V. Globe,2011-11-01 From the 15th century on engravings influenced European culture almost as profoundly as books Like stained glass windows in the Middle Ages or television today popular prints were designed to reach even the lowest orders of society In the 17th century Peter Stent whose shop stood outside Newgate was England s most prolific seller of popular prints maps and copybooks to the working and rising middle classes His inventory of copper plates reflected the shifts of popular tastes during this period and commented directly on the turbulent events of the day In documenting Stent s output Alexander Globe studied the printsellers advertising catalogues as external controls for reconstructing inventories as well as indices to contemporary tastes From these and other contemporary sources Globe cites every engraving and book attributable to Stent breaking down the material into types portraits maps miscellaneous sheets and books including works on handwriting politics natural history anatomy costume and architecture References and additions are made to the catalogues of Donald Wing and A M Hind Globe takes the history of engraving beyond Hind by including prints from the Commonwealth Protectorate and early Restoration periods Eight appendices supplement the catalogue information They provide evidence for print identification discuss paper sizes and list Stent's artists suppliers and business associates All the collections in which Stent items may be found are named The volume concludes with a bibliography and indices of subject as well as post 17th century authors Globe's introduction to Stent's work is concerned with the social political and economic conditions leading to the emergence of a popular printseller who catered to a different clientele from that usually studied by art historians Stent's career illustrates the mid 17th century commercial revolution which saw the artisan's customers change from the wealthy leisure class to the worker who wanted mass produced cheap goods Drawing on material in a hundred libraries and museums around the world the catalogue describes over fifteen hundred engravings including 319 sheets and five books of portraits 42 maps 102 miscellaneous prints and sets with religious classical heraldic and satirical subjects and 86 books on handwriting politics military training natural history figure sketches costume architecture and ornament Richly illustrated with 319 plates Peter Stent will prove valuable not only to print dealers art historians museums and libraries but also to social cultural and political historians     The Publishers Weekly, 2002
