[Illustrated Edition] Brigadier-General Paul-Werner Hozzel,2014-08-15 Includes the World War Two On The Eastern Front 1941 1945 Illustration Pack 198 photos illustrations and 46 maps General Hozzel is one of a few remaining German officers who fought in the Second World War and held position high enough to allow generalizations about the war and to extract historical genre for future operations Due to special circumstances involving the eleventh hour sickness of his commanding officer Hozzel as a lieutenant led a group of Stuka JU 87 aircraft from East Prussia into combat against the Poles in 1939 in the first Blitzkrieg in modern war Hozzel led his Stukas against the heavy Polish fortification on the Narwa River line and is credited with breaking them with the most accurate tactical bombing technique of the Second World War the classic high angle Stuka attack Late in 1941 Hozzel moved to the Eastern Front where he had the distinction as a major later in 1942 to command the famed Immelmann Wing The Wing was reinforced to compose over 200 aircraft in support of the 6th Army and its advance toward Stalingrad in Aug 1942 Later in the year he initiated the dive bombing operations against the heavy Soviet fortifications in Stalingrad through the dense air defense network screening the city At the end of 1942 Hozzel conducted defensive air operations against the great Soviet offensive which drove the Germans back to the Central Ukraine His last operation as a commander of Stuka units was during Operation Citadel in support of the southern prong of the German attack near Kursk In late 1944 moved to the Northern Front where he ended the war as Chief of Staff of the Luftwaffe Air Fleet supporting the German army group backed up against the sea in the Kurland Latvian pocket These final experiences in combat against the Soviets are particularly instructive Kamikaze Peter C. Smith,2014-11-28 In this brand new publication from eminent historian Peter C Smith we are regaled with the engaging and often incredibly disturbing history of the Kamikaze tradition in Japanese culture Tracing its history right back to the original Divine Wind major natural typhoons that saved Japan from invaders in ancient history Smith explores the subsequent resurrection of the cult of the warrior in the late nineteenth century He then follows this tradition through into the Second World War describing the many Kamikaze suicide attacks carried out by the Emperor's pilots against Allied naval vessels in the closing stages of the Pacific campaign These pilots were at the mercy of an overriding cultural tradition that demanded death over defeat capture or perceived shame Despite often being under trained and ill prepared psychologically for the sacrifices they were about to make they were nonetheless expected to make them The dedication of sacrifice for the Emperor and the Nation is explored by dissecting the traces left behind by these pilots Smith provides a detailed look at the heartbreak of the pilot's families and the men themselves the notes they left and the effects on those who did not share their philosophy The views of individuals under attack are also included in this balanced history Countless attacks carried out over the Philippine Islands including the sinking of the St Lo are analyzed and the Okinawa campaign is afforded particularly strong coverage with the sinking of HMAS Australia explored in detail The collective sacrifice is then summed up with reflections from survivors on both sides appraising events in a humane historical context A detailed appendices then follows featuring units formed sorties mounted ships sunk and damages inflicted Stukas Over the Steppe Peter C. Smith, 1999-03-15 This new edition to the Luftwaffe at War series captures the many roles adopted by the Ju 87 in this demanding theatre from dive bomber to tank buster and the varieties of plane type The illustrations show the planes' courageous contribution to war Air University Review, 1966 Combat Biplanes of World War II Peter C. Smith, 2015-09-30 Aviation and maritime historian Peter C Smith reveals how both Allied and Axis powers used World War I era aircraft in Combat Biplanes of World War II The era of the combat biplane is usually thought to have been between 1914 and 1938 By the outbreak of World War II most of the advanced air forces of the world had moved on to monoplane aircraft for their front line battle forces both in bomber and fighter capacities Yet despite this many biplanes did still survive both in front line service and in numerous subsidiary roles and not just as training machines but as fully operational warplanes Thus in 1939 the majority of major European powers still retained some albeit few biplane aircraft Great Britain had the bulk of such obsolescent machines including the Gladiator Swordfish Walrus Vildebeeste and Audax while the inferior Albacore meant to replace the Swordfish had yet to enter service Germany still managed to conduct missions in which biplanes like the He 50 He 51 and Hs 120 excelled Both France and Italy had active biplanes Mussolini's Regia Aeronautica attaching great importance to the type as a fighter aircraft as late as 1941 while the Soviet Union also retained some machines like the Po 2 in front line service right through the war and beyond By the time Japan and the United States entered the war two years later they had mainly rid themselves of biplanes but even here a few specialized types lingered on Combat Biplanes of World War II describes many of these gallant old warriors representing the author's own personal selection from a surprisingly large range of aircraft that despite all predictions fought hard and well

Torpedo Bombers Peter C. Smith, 2008-03-27 This is a highly illustrated history one of the most deadly types of attack aircraft. The torpedo bomber first appeared during the later years of World War One but served their most useful role in the Second World War. The most famous attacks include Taranto where Fairey Swordfish destroyed the Italian Battle fleet and the infamous surprise attack on Pearl Harbor by the Japanese. In both these cases the attacks were against ships lying in harbor and therefore stationary. Heavy defensive anti aircraft fire was the greatest danger to the torpedo bombers in those circumstances but ships under way in the open sea had far more room to take evasive action. The lengthy time it took a torpedo to reach its target allowed many ships to escape destruction. However notable exceptions were the sinking HMS Prince of Wales and HMS Repulse by the Japanese during the early stages of the war in the Far East. During the hunt for the Bismarck it was an air launched torpedo from a Swordfish that severely damaged the ship's steering gear and enabled the Royal Navy to close in for the final kill. Some of the types included are the Fairey Swordfish, Bristol Beaufort, Fairey Albacore, Bristol Beaufighter, Heinkel He 115, Marchetti SM 79, Fokker T VIII, Grumman Avenger and the Nakajima B5N. Fighting Flotilla

Peter C. Smith, 2010-07-19 The Laforeys were the largest most powerfully armed and successful ships of this type to see frontline action with the Royal Navy in WWII. They were also the handsomest warships to see service and presented a perfect combination of power and speed. They were assigned to the most dangerous theaters of war including Force H sailing between Gibraltar and Malta from where they operated against the German supply lines to North Africa. They escorted minelayers into the German backyard in the North Sea and their convoy escort work in the North Atlantic proved them to be highly effective hunter killers of the U Boat packs that threatened every cargo ship carrying vital supplies to the UK. Such was the pace of their war that out of the eight ships of the class only one survived the war. The book also includes chapters on their origin, planning and building, wartime operations and indices cover weapon systems, general fittings and complements and battle honors for each ship in the class.

Air Power and the Evacuation of Dunkirk Harry Raffal, 2021-07-15 The evacuation of Dunkirk has been immortalised in books, prints and films narrated as a story of an outnumbered inexperienced RAF defeating the battle hardened Luftwaffe and protecting the evacuation. This book revives the historiography by analysing the air operations during the evacuation. Raffal draws from German and English sources many for the first time in the context of Operation DYNAMO to argue that both sides suffered a defeat over Dunkirk. This work examines the resources and tactics of both sides during DYNAMO and challenges the traditional view that the Luftwaffe held the advantage. The success that the Luftwaffe achieved during DYNAMO including halting daylight evacuations on 1 June is evaluated and the supporting role of RAF Bomber and Coastal Command is explored in detail for the first time. Concluding that the RAF was not responsible for the Luftwaffe's failure to prevent the evacuation, Raffal demonstrates that the reasons lay elsewhere. German Bombers Over England, 1940-44 Manfred Griehl, 1999 This exciting ongoing series covers every aspect of the Luftwaffe in World War II and charts the rise and fall of this mighty force Each volume makes use of over a hundred rare and valuable photographs many of them taken by Luftwaffe personnel to bring history to life and record both the men and the aircraft they flew Bombers Over England includes German He111s JU87Bs Ju 88A 1s Do17Zs and Do217s and He177A 3s and examines their role in campaigns in the Luftwaffe at War series Skua! Peter C. Smith,2007-03-28 The Blackburn Skua was the first monoplane to be designed and built for the Royal Navy in the 1930s As a result of continued debate it became a compromise between the Navys desire for a carrier based dive bomber and RAFs preference for a fighter Despite being the first to shoot down a Luftwaffe aircraft in World War II early operations in Norway found the type woefully inadequate as a fighter As a dive bomber the Royal Navy put the design to good use from the outset of WWII It was involved with the hunt for the Graff Spee sunk the major warship Koln suffered with great loss in an attack on the Scharnhorst helped to keep the German advance at bay during the Dunkirk evacuation and attacked the French rogue battleship Richelieu in the Mediterranean This book relates how the final design was created how the dive bombing technique was developed and perfected by naval pilots and traces the wartime operational career of the type with many first hand accounts The History of Dive Bombing Peter C. Smith,2007-11-13 The incredible story of the dive bomber is told through official reports and personal accounts from combat pilots in this sweeping military history The History of Dive Bombing delves beneath the myths to present an in depth history Peter Smith tells the full story of these planes from the first true combat dive bombing by a Royal Air Force pilot in 1917 to the last stirring wartime actions Interviews with pilots from both World Wars representing all combatant nations give eyewitness viewpoints on many of the major actions and methods employed From the first dive bomber missions of World War II through accounts of British attacks on German warships during the Norwegian campaign and Stuka missions against the French and British forces this volume vividly recreates the drama strategy and tactics of dive bombing Some well known aircraft types include such as the Curtiss Helldiver Aichi D3A1 Blackburn Skua and the infamous Junkers Ju 87 The Petlyakov Pe-2 Peter C. Smith,2020-03-30 The definitive book on the development and deployment of the Soviet Union s supreme dive bomber with rare archival and private photos During the Second World War the Petlyakov Pe 2 Peshka was the Soviet Union s main dive and light bomber in operations across the Eastern Front It became a mainstay of the Soviet counteroffensive that led to the fall of Berlin They also led the way in the brief but annihilating Manchurian campaign against Japan in the closing days of the war in 1945 Conceived by a team of top aircraft designers whom Stalin had incarcerated on political charges the Peshka had originally been designed as a high altitude twin engine fighter plane But due to the outstanding success of the German Stukas in the Blitzkrieg it was quickly transformed into the fastest dive bomber in the skies Only a handful had reached front lines by the start of Operation Barbarossa in June 1941 But by 1945 more than 11 000 of the type were built including many variants Many of these remained in service with the air forces of Yugoslavia and the Warsaw Pact countries into the 1950s Using official sources including the official Pe 2 handbook as well as rare color and
