Evil in Contemporary French and Francophone Literature Scott M. Powers, 2010-10-12 Evil remains a primary source of inquiry in contemporary literature of French expression even among its most secular writers In considering French speaking authors from France Belgium the United States the Maghreb and Sub Saharan Africa this collection delineates a rich international perspective on some of the most disturbing events of our time Each essay testifies to the urgency expressed in works of fiction to give an account of human catastrophes from the Shoah and the Rwandan genocide to the terrorist attacks of September 11 and the ongoing oppression of women in Islamic nations Themes underlying this volume include an investigation into the origins of evil its representations in writing and the ethical responsibilities of authors who write on human suffering Contemporary fiction on evil confronts us with fundamental questions Can evil be attributed to intentionality is evil subconscious or is it the result of impersonal forces Which styles of writing are ethically appropriate or effective for depicting evil Can we speak of a veritable poetics of evil shared by contemporary authors When does a literary text on evil become evil In providing informed and nuanced answers to these important questions the scholars engage in crucial theories of psychoanalysis post structuralism and post modernism address a number of issues raised by trauma and genocide studies and draw from critical frameworks in literary theory on testimony the limits of representing the extreme and transgressive writing

Culture and Identity in Belgian Francophone Writing Susan Bainbrigge, 2009

Few full length studies exist in English on French speaking authors from Belgium What if any are the particular features of francophone Belgian writing This book explores questions of cultural and literary identity and offers an overview of currents in critical debate regarding the place of francophone Belgian writing and its relationship to its larger neighbour but also engages with broader questions concerning the classification of francophone literature The study brings together well known and less well known modern and contemporary writers Suzanne Lilar Neel Doff Dominique Rolin Jacqueline Harpman Fran oise Mallet Joris Jean Muno Nicole Malinconi and Am lie Nothomb whose works share a number of recurring themes and features notably a preoccupation with questions of identity and alterity Overall the study highlights the diverse ways in which these questions of cultural identity and alterity emerge as a dominant theme throughout the corpus viewed through a series of literary and cultural frameworks which bring together perspectives both local and global dangerous and mysterious Despite and because of centuries of East West interaction the stereotypes of Western literature stage and screen remain pervasive icons the tea pouring submissive sexually available geisha girl the steely cold dragon lady dominatrix as well as the portrayal of the Asian male as effeminate and asexual These Oriental illusions color our relations and relationships in ways even well respected professional Asia hands and scholars don't necessarily see The Asian Mystique lays out a provocative challenge to see Asia and Asians as they really are with unclouded deeroticized eyes It traces the origins of Western stereotypes in history and in Hollywood examines the phenomenon of yellow fever then goes on a reality tour of Asia's go go bars middle class homes college campuses business districts and corridors of power providing intimate profiles of women's lives and vivid portraits of the human side of an Asia we usually mythologize too well to really understand It strips away our misconceptions and stereotypes revealing instead the fully dimensional human beings beyond our usual perceptions The Asian Mystique is required reading for anyone with interest in or interaction with Asia or Asian origin people as well as any serious student or practitioner of East West relations

Becoming of the Body Amaleena Damle, 2014-04-09
No detailed description available for The Becoming of the Body

Aimer et mourir Eilene Hoft-March, Judith Holland Sarnecki, 2009-01-23 Aimer et Mourir offers a wide ranging selection of essays that collectively address how from the Middle Ages to the present the notions of love and death get inextricably associated with the narratives that are women's lives Some of the essays tackle male writers representations that link women and in particular women's sexuality with death resulting in the figures of the femme fatale the woman in parturition and the desiring vampire A number of essays reiterate that women's hyper sexualized bodies have been used as a social construct and a psychological screen upon which to project a fear of death The challenges to this pat reduction of woman's domain come from the mostly women writers represented here and they span from Marguerite de Navarre to Am lie Nothomb These women writers rework the old formulae giving us instead death defying memories of love love regenerative of language as of bodies love forcing the frontiers of death or love creatively redefined within the parameters of death Nor are these new narratives imagined as belonging to women alone but rather as attesting to a richer more varied and greatly sensitized human experience

Under Foreign Eyes James King, 2012-02-24 This book is about the perception of Japan in the sixty films set there by gaijin foreigners outsiders who almost always do not speak or read Japanese My area of attention is directed to films depicting post World War II Japan and the Japanese and in many cases films showing how foreigners in the same time frame respond to Japan Why have a substantial number of films been set there by strangers As a body of work what do they tell us about contemporary Japan and about cinema These films certainly provide a new cultural history of the West's reaction to Japan but even more they are constructions that demonstrate how the West gazes at Japan As such more information can often be derived about the onlookers as on those looked upon
