Style And Temper Studies In French Fiction 1925 1960:

Style and Temper Wilbur Merrill Frohock, 1967      The French Novel: Theory and Practice Michael Butor, 2024-10-07

"Ces forces obscures de l'âme" Christine Margerrison, 2008-01-01 This is the first major investigation of Camus's prose fiction to explore the developing presentation of women from the author's earliest writings to his last unfinished novel. Avoiding the traditional relegation of this subject to an emotional or private sphere, it traces Camus's intellectual development in order to demonstrate the centrality of this subject to Camus's work as a whole. If the Absurd constructed over the body of the real woman liberates the writer to follow a true path of literary creation, the impending loss of his Algerian homeland impels a return to all that he had not been free to choose: the ties of blood. These conflictual and unresolved ties are here investigated in conjunction with the presentation of mythical female figures expressing Camus's darkest fears, partly voiced in other writings concerning that other Algeria for which he would never fight. Exploring complex interconnections between sexuality, race, and colonialism, this volume is pertinent to all who are interested in the writings of Camus, particularly those seeking relevant new ways of approaching his work.      Encyclopedia of the Novel Paul Schellinger, 2014-04-08 The Encyclopedia of the Novel is the first reference book that focuses on the development of the novel throughout the world. Entries on individual writers assess the place of that writer within the development of the novel form, explaining why and in exactly what ways that writer is important. Similarly, an entry on an individual novel discusses the importance of that novel, not only from analyzing the particular innovations that novel has introduced and the ways in which it has influenced the subsequent course of the genre. A wide range of topic entries explore the history, criticism, theory, production, dissemination, and reception of the novel. A very important component of the Encyclopedia of the Novel is its long surveys of development of the novel in various regions of the world.      Problems and Techniques of the French Novel, 1950-1970 Sister Margaretta Black (O.S.F.), 1972      Jean-Paul Sartre: A Bibliography of International Criticism Robert Wilcocks, 1975 A large comprehensive compilation of journalism and international criticism of the works and activities of Jean Paul Sartre. The work covers Sartre's stormy career from 1937 to 1975, containing nearly 700,000 entries and over 3,200 authors.      Giono Norma Lorre Goodrich, 2015-03-08 Since his death in October 1970, Jean Giono's reputation as a major French novelist has steadily increased. In order to treat most powerfully the essential nature of modern man confronted with the worst problems of the twentieth century, he adapted into prose the tried and true literary modes: the epic, the pastoral, Greek tragedy, Shakespearean tragedy, and autobiography. In Giono's work, the old modes and familiar forms continue to fulfill the age-old functions of great literature: we see the Christian epic suddenly made relevant to everyday life, or the pagan epic re-explain modern male savagery. In Giono's hands, the novel explains man to himself, shows man more clearly the world about him, and offers to men everywhere renewed courage and hope. A Time of Transition in the French Novel Christopher Shorley, 2006 The years around 1930 are marked by turning points in most areas of French life and the fiction of the time is a privileged means of understanding those changes This book traces vital transitions in French politics society and culture the focus then moves to the novel a genre uniquely equipped to reflect topical shifts and breakthroughs

Solitude in Society Robert Sayre, 1978

Robert Sayre brings a special kind of literary intelligence to his study of the problem of isolation in modern society He gives us a spirited instance of a sociological approach to literature more specifically a Marxist approach that forcefully links a literary theme to a social fact In contrast to the existentialist interpretation of alienation in which isolation is the eternal dilemma of Man a Marxist analysis interprets solitude in society as precisely a modern phenomenon directly related to the evolution of advanced capitalism Sayre first discusses the notion of solitude as it is treated in classical literature and carries it through to the nineteenth century with emphasis on the literary history of France In the second part of the book he presents detailed interpretations of five twentieth century French novels by Proust Malraux Bernanos Camus and Sarraute Controversial but persuasive these in depth studies are certain to influence the reader's way of looking at the writers in question
