Miller,A. Bowdoin Van Riper,2018-08-28 From Faust 1926 to The Babadook 2014 books have been featured in horror films as warnings gateways prisons and manifestations of the monstrous Ancient grimoires such as the Necronomicon serve as timeless vessels of knowledge beyond human comprehension while runes summoning diaries and spell books offer their readers access to the powers of the supernatural but at what cost This collection of new essays examines nearly a century of genre horror in which on screen texts drive and shape their narratives sometimes unnoticed The contributors explore American films like The Evil Dead 1981 The Prophecy 1995 and It Follows 2014 as well as such international films as Eric Valette s Malefique 2002 Paco Cabeza s The Appeared 2007 and Lucio Fulci s The Beyond 1981     American Television Nick Browne,2013-07-18 This work brings together writings on television published in Quarterly Review of Film and Video from essays by Nick Browne and Beverle Houston to the latest historical and critical research It considers television s economics technologies forms and audiences from a cultural perspective that links history theory and criticism The authors address several key issues the formative period in American television history the relation between television s political economy and its cultural forms gender and melodrama and new technologies such as video games and camcorders Originally published in 1993     Routledge Library Editions: Cultural Studies Various Authors,2021-05-13 This seven volume set reissues a collection of out of print titles covering a range of responses to modern culture They include in depth analyses of US and Australian popular culture works on the media and television macrosociology and the media and otherness Taken together they provide stimulating and thought provoking debate on a wide range of topics central to many of today s cultural controversies     The Terministic Screen David Blakesley,2007-09-28 The Terministic Screen Rhetorical Perspectives on Film examines the importance of rhetoric in the study of film and film theory Rhetorical approaches to film studies have been widely practiced but rarely discussed until now Taking on such issues as Hollywood blacklisting fascistic aesthetics and postmodern dialogics editor David Blakesley presents fifteen critical essays that examine rhetoric s role in such popular films as The Fifth Element The Last Temptation of Christ The Usual Suspects Deliverance The English Patient Pulp Fiction The Music Man Copycat Hoop

Harriet Malinowitz Granetta L Richardson and Kelly Ritter      Critical Ethnic Studies Critical Ethnic Studies Editorial Collective Critical Ethnic Studies Editorial Collective, 2016-04-15 Building on the intellectual and political momentum that established the Critical Ethnic Studies Association this Reader inaugurates a radical response to the appropriations of liberal multiculturalism while building on the possibilities enlivened by the historical work of Ethnic Studies It does not attempt to circumscribe the boundaries of Critical Ethnic Studies rather it offers a space to promote open dialogue discussion and debate regarding the field's expansive politically complex and intellectually rich concerns Covering a wide range of topics from multiculturalism the neoliberal university and the exploitation of bodies to empire the militarized security state and decolonialism these twenty five essays call attention to the urgency of articulating a Critical Ethnic Studies for the twenty first century      Shades of Noir Joan Copjec, 1993 For this was the summer when after the hiatus of the Second World War

French critics were again given the opportunity to view films from Hollywood The films they saw including The Maltese Falcon Double Indemnity Laura Murder My Sweet and The Woman in the Window prompted the naming and theorization of a new phenomenon film noir Much of what has been written about the genre since has remained within the orbit of this preliminary assessment While sympathetic towards the early French critics this collection of original essays attempts to move beyond their first fascinated look Beginning with an autonomy of that look of the poujadist climate that nourished it and the imminent collapse of the Hollywood studio system that gave it its mournful inflection Shades of Noir re explores and calls into question the object first constructed by it The impetus for this shift in perspective comes from the films themselves viewed in the light of contemporary social and political concerns and from new theoretical insights Several contributions analyze the re emergence of noir in recent years most notably in the hybrid forms produced in the 1980s by the merging of noir with science fiction and horror for example Blade Runner and Angel Heart and in films by black directors such as Deep Cover Straight out of Brooklyn A Rage in Harlem and One False Move Other essays focus on the open urban territory in which the noir hero hides out the office spaces in Chandler and the palpable sense of waiting that fills empty warehouses corridors and hotel rooms Finally Shades of Noir pays renewed attention to the lethal relation between the sexes to the femme fatale and the other women in noir As the role of women expands the femme fatale remains deadly but her deadliness takes on new meanings Contributors Janet Bergstrom Joan Copjec Elizabeth Cowie Manthia Diawara Frederic Jameson Dean MacCannell Fred Pfeil David Reid and Jayne L Walker Marc Vernet Slavoj Zizek      Beyond a Joke Neil Archer, 2016-10-27 At the opening ceremony for the London 2012 Olympics a global audience of nearly one billion viewers were treated to the unprecedented sight of James Bond meeting Queen Elizabeth II Shortly after the Queen hurled herself out of a helicopter her Union Jack parachute guiding her down to the Olympic Stadium What it is about moments such as these that define both a particular idea of Britishness and a particular type of British film comedy How has British cinema exploited parody as a means of negotiating its sense of identity How does this function within a globalized marketplace and in the face of dominant Hollywood cinema Beyond a Joke explores the myriad ways British film culture has used forms of parody from the 1960s to the present day It provides a contextual and textual analysis of a range of works that while popular have only rarely been the subject of serious academic attention from Morecambe and Wise to Shaun of the Dead to the London 2012 Olympics opening ceremony Combining the methodologies both of film history and film theory Beyond a Joke locates parody within specific industrial and cultural moments while also looking in detail at the aesthetics of parody as a mode Ultimately such works are shown to be a form of culturally specific film or televisual product for exporting to the global market in which Britishness shaped in self mocking and ironic terms becomes the selling point Written in an accessible style and illustrated throughout with a diverse range of examples Beyond a Joke is the first book to explore parody within a specifically British context and makes an invaluable contribution to the scholarship on both British and global film culture for students The discussion ranges from the late 1960s to the present a period in which a number of conceptual strands notably politics semiotics and psychoanalysis were woven together in an ambitious synthesis In this book the authors chart the construction of this synthesis and its subsequent fragmentation and clearly explain the various intellectual currents which have contributed to it Divided into two parts the first covers the conceptual background of film theory dealing with historical materialism semiotics and psychoanalysis whilst in the second the authors concentrate on particular topics such as authorship narrative realism the avant garde and postmodernism For this new edition the authors have added a new foreword a fully updated and expanded bibliography and a 60 page Retrospect outlining developments within film theory since the book's original publication in 1988 This Retrospect identifies a number of broad readings of Theory each with a different perspective on the main content of the book As such it provides a new and original mapping of the post theory moment in this complex and often fractured terrain Accessible and authoritative this book is essential reading for students of film theory or indeed anyone seeking a deeper understanding of modern cinema

Rethinking Genre in Contemporary Global Cinema Silvia Dibeltulo, Ciara Barrett, 2018-08-02 Rethinking Genre in Contemporary Global Cinema offers a unique wide ranging exploration of the intersection between traditional modes of film production and new transitional transnational approaches to film genre and related discourses in a contemporary global context This volume's content the films genres and movements explored as well as methodologies used in their analysis is diverse and crucially up to date with contemporary film making practice and theory Significantly the collection extends existing scholarly discourse on film genre beyond its historical bias towards a predominant focus on Hollywood cinema on the one hand and a tendency to treat other national cinemas in isolation and or as distinct systems of production on the other In view of the ever increasing globalisation and transnational mediation of film texts and screen media and culture worldwide the book recognises the need for film genre studies and film genre criticism to cast a broader indeed global scope The collection thus rethinks genre cinema as a transitional cross cultural and increasingly transnational global paradigm of film making in diverse contexts

Reading Mystery Science Theater 3000 Shelley S. Rees, 2013-05-09 First broadcast in the not too distant past on a television station in Minnesota Mystery Science Theater 3000 soon grew out of its humble beginnings and found a new home on cable television This simple show about a man and two robots forced to watch bad movies became a cult classic and episodes of the series continue to be packaged in DVD collections to this day Before its final run the show received Emmy nominations and a Peabody award for Television excellence and in 2007 Time magazine declared MST3K one of The 100 Best Shows of All Time In Reading Mystery Science Theater 3000 Critical Approaches Shelley S Rees presents a collection of essays that examines the complex relationship between narrative and audience constructed by this baffling but beloved television show Invoking literary theory cultural criticism pedagogy feminist criticism humor theory rhetorical analysis and film and media studies these essays affirm the show's narrative and rhetorical intricacy The first section Rhetoric and the Empowered Audience addresses MST3K's function as an exercise in rhetorical resistance Part Two Mystery Science Theater 3000 and Genre analyzes MST3K through distinct generic traditions including humor studies traditional science fiction tropes and the B movie Finally the third section addresses postmodern and intertextual readings of the show By providing an academic treatment of an iconic television phenomenon these essays argue that Mystery Science Theater 3000 is worthy of serious scholarly attention Though aimed at a discerning readership of academics this collection will also appeal to the intellectual nature of the show's well educated audience

The Holy Mountain Alessandra Santos, 2017-08-08 Alejandro Jodorowsky's El Topo helped inaugurate the midnight movie phenomenon Its success spawned The Holy Mountain through interventions by John Lennon and Allen Klein After a scandalous release and a 16 month midnight career The Holy Mountain was relegated to the underground world of fan bootlegs for over thirty years until its limited restored release in 2007 This short study reveals how The Holy Mountain a poetic hilarious and anarchist cult film by an international auteur anchored in post 1968 critiques is at the same time an archaeological capsule of the counterculture movement a timely subversion of mystical tenets and one of the most mysterious films in the history of world cinema

Interpreting Films Janet Staiger, 2020-07-21 Employing a wide range of examples from Uncle Tom's Cabin and Birth of a Nation to Zelig and Personal Best Janet Staiger argues that a historical examination of spectators responses to films can make a valuable contribution to the history criticism and philosophy of cultural products She maintains that as artifacts films do not contain immanent meanings that differences among interpretations have historical bases and that these variations are due to social political and economic conditions as well as the viewers constructed images of themselves After proposing a theory of reception study the author demonstrates its application mainly through analyzing the varying responses of audiences to certain films at specific moments in history Staiger gives special attention to how questions of class gender sexual preference race and ethnicity enter into film viewers interpretations Her analysis reflects recent developments in post structuralism cognitive psychology psychoanalysis and cultural studies and includes a discussion of current reader response models in literary and film studies as well as an alternative approach for thinking about historical readers and spectators
