Primary Schools Work Chris James, Michael Connolly, Gerald Dunning, Tony Elliott, 2006-02-28 Chris James Michael Connolly Gerald Dunning and Tony Elliott have produced a comprehensive analysis of the very effective primary school Although the research for the book draws on the authors experiences in Welsh Primary Schools the range of literature cited and the analytical frameworks employed ensure that their findings have a much broader relevance They define a very effective school as one that provides high levels of attainment and rich educational experiences despite being located in extremely challenging circumstances A key insight of the book is that although these schools are consequently extraordinary their practice was in many ways quite ordinary This is because these schools worked in much the same way as the very best of schools have always done In many ways this as the authors note is an optimistic message that all children deserve to be educated in such very effective schools The virtue of How Very Effective Primary Schools Work is that it makes clear those characteristics and strategies that can help every school to become great David Hopkins HSBC iNet Chair of International Leadership and formerly Chief Adviser on School Standards to the Secretary of State 2002 2005 All children especially the poorest deserve capable mature and well adjusted teachers and leaders who work together to lay firm foundations of learning and behaviour then enrich and elevate everyone's learning far beyond that in optimistic cultures of security persistence and hope Based on solid research from 18 outstanding schools in challenging circumstances this is the vital message of this important and unique book Chris James and his colleagues show that highly effective schools need high functioning adults and communities who expect and get the best from everyone dedicate themselves to others without burning themselves out are not frightened of challenges and contradictions stay around to fulfil their obligations to others and see their efforts bear fruit and are emotionally comfortable in their own skin If you want to become more effective as a school you will need to become more effective and adjusted as a teacher a leader and an all round human being This inspiring and indispensable book will stir and steer all who read it in that educationally essential quest Andy Hargreaves Thomas More Brennan Chair in Education Boston College All good teachers and headteachers are concerned with improving pupil attainment In high attainment schools they must recognize how to sustain success In schools with low attainment levels they must come to understand the challenges they face and find ways of overcoming the difficulties This practical research based book describes the key approaches used by very effective schools The authors explain how success can be achieved and maintained and describe ways of working that bring about high levels of pupil attainment They also explain why these ways of working are successful This book is essential reading for headteachers teachers students of educational leadership and management school governors and those who work in local authorities

Developing School Leaders in the Pacific Narsamma Lingam,Govinda Ishwar Lingam,2023-08-31 This book provides detailed insights on the training and development for Pacific Island school leaders It draws extensively on original empirical research that explores school leaders perceptions of how leadership and management training impacted their professional practices and how these practices in turn impacted the dynamics of school operations This book addresses a critical need to understand how to support leadership development for all Pacific schools but especially in schools that are faced with the increasing challenges of learning and teaching conditions In small island developing states in the Pacific region school leaders face a myriad of challenges due to limited human and material resources and a fragile economic base Written by Pacific Islander authors this book provides insights from different countries in the Pacific Islands It shows how contextual challenges can exert enormous pressure on school leaders who are leading and managing schools without any leadership preparation Given the importance of effective leadership practices and its impact on student learning outcomes this book aims to be a source of reference for practitioners and educational authorities who have a vested interest in the provision of quality education in the Pacific region and beyond

Education Disrupted Les Stein,Alex Stein,Jessica Stein,2013-11-14 Failing schools have become the latest academic cottage industry and they serve as lightning rods for the controversy that continues to surround the No Child Left Behind Act of 2001

Surprisingly there are only a handful of books that address the topic of turning around failing schools and even fewer that provide a meaningful discussion on how individual schools should avoid failure from the outset This book will help public school educators understand that turnaround efforts are based on sound leadership principles nothing more nothing less It also provides school leaders with the critical skills to turn around failing schools and more importantly prevent their schools from failing in the first place Individual chapters address topics such as setting institutional priorities establishing a positive school culture improving communications developing classroom leadership putting the school on a sound financial footing and using data to guide the school turnaround In essence this book serves as a practical guide for instructional and institutional leaders on how to make a real difference in the success of our nation s schools Parliamentary Papers Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons,1902 Kenya Gazette ,1979-04-27 The Kenya Gazette is an official publication of the government of the Republic of Kenya It contains notices of new legislation notices required to be published by law or policy as well as other announcements that are published for general public information It is published every week usually on Friday with occasional releases of special or supplementary editions within the week
