Sudan in Pictures Francesca Davis DiPiazza,2006-01-01 Describes the social cultural and economic history of the Sudan
Sudan in Pictures ,1988 Introduces the land history government people and economy of the largest African country in area
The Lost Boys of Sudan Mark Bixler,2006 In 2000 the United States began accepting 3 800 refugees from one of Africa s longest civil wars They were just some of the thousands of young men known as Lost Boys who had been orphaned or otherwise separated from their families in the chaos of a brutal conflict that has ravaged their home country of Sudan since 1983 This book focuses on four of these refugees Theirs however is a typical story one that repeated itself wherever the Lost Boys were found across America It is a story of the countless challenges of making it in a strange new place after years on the run in Sudan or in refugee camps in Kenya and Ethiopia As we immerse ourselves in the Lost Boys daily lives we also get to know the social services professionals and volunteers celebrities community leaders and others who guided them with occasional detours toward self sufficiency Along the way the author looks closely at the ins and outs of U S refugee policy the politics of international aid the history of Sudan and the radical Islamist underpinnings of its government Dust jacket

Sudan Paul Clammer,2005 The wide appeal of this first dedicated guide to Sudan will satisfy the needs of aid workers ecotravelers and those with diverse interests in topics such as archaeology travel photography hiking and diving Picture Coverage of the World Heinz Dietrich Fischer,2011 The Pulitzer Prizes for Press Photography are latecomers within the prestigious award system Established in 1942 during World War II they started with a general category called Photography covering all kinds of photographs After about a quarter century in 1968 this award category was divided into two separate prize groups entitled Spot News Photography and Feature Photography This book presents the decision making processes that lead to the annual Pulitzer Prize winners Additionally in each decision making case one award earning photo is reproduced to give an idea about the broad spectrum of aspects and themes declared prize worthy by the jurors Series Pulitzer Prize Panorama Vol 2 Sudan in Pictures Sudan. Maktab al-Isti'lāmāt al-Markazī,1962 Ethnography on the Underground Migratory Routes from Sudan to the North Livio Amigoni,2025-06-02 This book uses an ethnography of the migratory route from Sudan to the EU to understand how undocumented migration experiences take place and breed underground forms of mobilities and survival strategies It pays particular attention to the production circulation and resilience of migratory knowledge in transnational networks and how those produce and sustain specific mobility practices The related research questions focus on how and which narratives and popular imaginations circulate and foster high risk journeys towards Europe referred to as sombok understanding how these kind of journeys are interpreted and framed according to gender religion and family traditions discerning how border regimes produce specific migration careers decision making processes and forms of resistance and cooperation with other actors how the figure of the smuggler is framed by people on the move and how one group of smugglers interpret their activities at the Ventimiglia border and how the practices of homing on the move and solidarity housing experiences take place and prop underground routes This book will be of interest to scholars of migration

Photography in Africa Richard Vokes,2012 Gives an ethnographic account of the complexities of the use of photography in Africa both historically and in contemporary practice This collection of studies in African photography examines through a series of empirically rich historical and ethnographic cases the variety of ways in which photographs are produced circulated and engaged across a range of social contexts In so doing it elucidates the distinctive characteristics of African photographic practices and cultures vis vis those of other forms of vernacular photography worldwide In addition these studies develop areflexive turn examining the history of academic engagement with these African photographic cultures and reflecting on the distinctive qualities of the ethnographic method as a means for studying such phenomena The volume critically engages current debates in African photography and visual anthropology First it extends our understanding of the variety of ways in which both colonial and post colonial states in Africa have used photography as a means for establishing and projecting their authority Second it moves discussion of African photography away from an exclusive focus on the role of the the studio and looks at the circulations through which the studios products the photographs themselves later pass as artefacts of material culture Last it makes an important contribution to our understanding of the relationship between photography and ethnographic research methods as these have been employed in Africa RICHARD VOKES is Senior Lecturer in Anthropology and Development Studies at the University of Adelaide Australia and author of Ghosts of Kanungu
