Sudan Nations In Conflict:

Livelihoods in Sudan amid armed conflict: Evidence from a national rural household survey Kirui, Oliver K., Ahmed, Mosab, Siddig, Khalid, Taffesse, Alemayehu Seyoum, Abushama, Hala, Dorosh, Paul A., Fakihi, Ali, Terefe, Fekadu, Nohra, Nada, AlAzzawi, Shireen, Intini, Vito, Merouani, Walid, 2024-04-19 Analysis of a comprehensive survey of Sudanese rural households conducted from November 2023 to January 2024 by IFPRI and UNDP reveals significant socioeconomic impacts of the ongoing armed conflict on the Sudanese population underscoring the need for immediate and targeted policy and programmatic interventions The conflict has severely disrupted rural household incomes and exacerbated existing vulnerabilities related to their housing and access to infrastructure and services Most households live in inadequate housing conditions with disparities in access to water electricity and sanitation services posing additional challenges Rural households low access to assets including agricultural land further complicates their livelihoods The conflict primarily concentrated in urban areas particularly Khartoum has triggered mass migration with significant numbers relocating to states like Aj Jazirah and Gedaref These migrants often from relatively better off backgrounds face substantial income losses necessitating basic needs support and enhanced provision of public services particularly for the large families that are more likely to migrate Agriculture a critical sector for rural livelihoods has been significantly affected across all states Most households reported not cultivating land during the summer season of 2023 due to the conflict The sharp reduction in the area of crops planted underscores the need for support for farming activities particularly for smallholder households The survey highlights extensive exposure to shocks among rural households with personal shocks such as illnesses among household members being the most common Natural and climatic shocks although less prevalent alongside conflict related shocks like theft and violence emphasize the complex challenges faced by these communities Market access and disruptions have further impacted rural households with a considerable proportion of rural households unable to sell or buy goods primarily due to high prices and sharp reductions in income for most households These market challenges coupled with the overall economic instability necessitate interventions aimed at maintaining and improving market accessibility and functionality to promote recovery and resilience The findings from the analysis of the survey data lend support to designing and implementing comprehensive strategies that address the immediate needs of displaced populations and other rural households affected by income losses and market disruptions Enhancing public services supporting livelihoods building resilience through shock responsive social protection systems agricultural and economic interventions and ensuring equitable access to resources and markets for all households particularly those headed by women and vulnerable groups are the principal policy recommendations that emerged from this analysis This study of rural household livelihoods amid the armed conflict in Sudan provides a foundation for targeted interventions and policy reforms aimed at mitigating the conflict's impacts and fostering long term resilience and economic stability Sudan, Darfur and the Nomadic Conflicts Philip

Steele,2012-08-01 The different peoples making up Sudan have a long history of ethnic conflict There has been civil war between the north and the south as well as conflict among the various ethnic communities and nomadic groups living within these regions Readers examine the civil unrest that has divided the country for decades as well as the rebellion and massacres of the Darfur region Factors contributing to the area s ongoing conflicts including clashes over oil water land and human rights are also explored In addition future prospects for Sudan and the new Republic of South Sudan which seceded in July 2011 are discussed

Introduction to Sudan Gilad James, PhD, Sudan is a country located in northeastern Africa bordered by Egypt to the north Libya to the northwest Chad to the west Central African Republic to the southwest South Sudan to the south Ethiopia to the southeast and the Red Sea to the northeast The country is home to over 40 million people and is one of the largest in Africa in terms of land area It is also one of the most diverse countries in terms of languages cultures and religions with Arabic and Islam being predominant in the northern regions while different African languages and religions are more prevalent in the south Since its independence from colonial rule Sudan has experienced widespread violence and instability including two civil wars that lasted for several decades and resulted in the secession of South Sudan in 2011 Even after the split Sudan still faces numerous challenges including economic crisis political turmoil ongoing conflicts in Darfur and other regions and a large number of refugees and internally displaced people However the country also has significant resources and potential including oil reserves mineral deposits and a strategic location at the crossroads of Africa and the Middle East

Nationalism and Intra-State Conflicts in the Postcolonial World Fonkem Achankeng,2015-09-28 This book highlights the complexities of nationalism and the struggles of different groups left unaddressed within the nation states of a postcolonial world The central question is what happened to the worldly and radical visions of freedom liberty and equality that animated intellectual activists and policy makers from Woodrow Wilson in the 1920s This book analyzes the outcome of lumping disparate groups of people together under one nation state and holding them together against the knowledge of the incompatibility theory of plural states In a world of arbitrarily and colonially mapped sovereign states groups and nations with distinctive histories and cultures trapped within the borders of sovereign states want the freedom to decide their own destinies This book challenges deconstructs and decolonizes Western epistemologies related to postcolonial state formation and maintenance In examining the freedom concept that no human group ought to be determining the independence of other human groups this book constructs an alternative conceptualization of nations and peoples rights in the twenty first century in which radical hopes and global dreams are recognized as central to internal nationalism struggles

Darfur and the Crisis of Governance in Sudan Salah M. Hassan,Carina E. Ray,2009 This book provides the most comprehensive balanced and nuanced account yet published of the Darfur conflict s roots and the contemporary realities that shape the experiences of those living in the region

Community of West African States Southern African Development Community and the East African Community The book will be an invaluable resource for researchers academics and policymakers working in the areas of law political science human rights peace studies development studies and African studies Gender, Race, and Sudan's Exile Politics Nada Mustafa Ali, 2015-07-29 Gender Race and Sudan's Exile Politics examines the gendered and racialized discourses and practices of the Sudanese opposition in exile through the opposition movements of the 1990s and early 2000s and discusses the history through which these discourses evolved The military coup that brought the National Islamic Front NIF now National Congress Party NCP to power in 1989 not only forced most political parties trade unions and activists in Sudan into either exile politics or underground activism it also urged many of Sudan's political forces and activists to rethink the meaning of belonging and of the Old Sudan In the mid 1990s this involved a rethinking of the relationship between religion and politics acknowledging Sudan's diversity acknowledging the need to restructure Sudan's economy and politics to ensure equal access and participation for the historically marginalized and committing to self determination for the people of South Sudan The concept of the New Sudan broadly captured this rethinking This book interrogates the relationship between women's organizations and activism in exile on one hand and nationalist transformative and other political movements and processes on the other It further discusses transnational coalition building across difference including racial difference between women's organization seeking to transform gender relations in Sudan and South Sudan Leadership, Nation-building and War in South Sudan Sonja Theron, 2022-06-02 For over fifty years the people of South Sudan fought for the right to be citizens of an independent nation state When this goal was finally achieved however it quickly became evident that the South Sudanese nation was not nearly as cohesive as hoped The result has been a catastrophic civil war Spanning South Sudan's nation building struggle from its inception up until the current civil war this book challenges the notion that the continued violence of this process can be reduced to either identity difference or the fault of individual leaders Rather it uses the leadership process to understand the complex progressions and relationships that have characterised South Sudan's nation building trajectory The book argues that the core driving force behind the current conflict in South Sudan can be found not in ethnicity the resource curse or power struggle but in a set of destructive relationships that have fueled violence and oppression in the country for the better part of a century This cyclical leadership process has entrapped the country in an increasingly destructive and contradictory nation building process that continues to spiral and disintegrate Navigating Sudan's conflict: Research insights and policy implications: Proceedings of a conference Ahmed, Mosab O. M., Abushama, Hala, Siddig, Khalid, Kirui, Oliver K., Dorosh, Paul A., Taffesse, Alemayehu Seyoum, 2025-04-01 This report synthesizes the key discussions and outcomes of the Navigating Sudan's Conflict Research Insights and Policy Implications conference held on March 5 2024 in Nairobi Kenya Convening a diverse group of experts in research development and humanitarian efforts the conference aimed to explore actionable solutions for the socioeconomic challenges triggered by Sudan's ongoing conflict

Participants at the conference delved into the conflict's adverse impacts on agriculture, markets, employment, and food security, as well as its wider regional impacts. Notably, the conference findings underscore the urgent need for supporting smallholder farmers, stabilizing markets, generating employment opportunities, and enhancing agricultural productivity within a comprehensive recovery strategy. Furthermore, conference participants stressed the importance of innovative data gathering, collaborative policy formulation, international support, and coordination to ensure effective interventions. This report succinctly presents the interventions discussed in the conference's research and panel discussion sessions, particularly the pivotal insights offered in each to guide policy that will build peace, strengthen resilience, and relaunch and accelerate human and economic development efforts in Sudan. States of Disorder, Ecosystems of Governance Adam Day, 2022-03-28

Today's vision of world order is founded upon the concept of strong, well-functioning states, in contrast to the destabilizing potential of failed or fragile states. This worldview has dominated international interventions over the past 30 years, as enormous resources have been devoted to developing and extending the governance capacity of weak or failing states, hoping to transform them into reliable nodes in the global order. But with very few exceptions, this project has not delivered on its promise: countries like Somalia, Afghanistan, South Sudan, and the Democratic Republic of the Congo (DRC) remain mired in conflict despite decades of international interventions. States of Disorder addresses the question: Why has UN state building so consistently failed to meet its objectives? It proposes an explanation based on the application of complexity theory to UN interventions in South Sudan and DRC, where the UN has been tasked to implement massive stabilization and state building missions. Far from being ungoverned spaces, these settings present complex dynamical systems of governance with emergent properties that allow them to adapt and resist attempts to change them. UN interventions based upon assumptions that gradual increases in institutional capacity will lead to improved governance fail to reflect how change occurs in these systems and may, in fact, contribute to underlying patterns of exclusion and violence. Based on more than a decade of the author's work in peacekeeping, this book offers a systemic mapping of how governance systems work and indeed work against UN interventions. Pursuing a complexity-driven approach instead helps to avoid unintentional consequences, identifies meaningful points of leverage, and opens the possibility of transforming societies from within. Encyclopedia of Conflicts Since World War II James Ciment, 2015-03-27 Thoroughly revised to include 25 conflicts not covered in the previous edition, as well as expanded and updated information on previous coverage, this illustrated reference presents descriptions and analyses of more than 170 significant post-World War II conflicts around the globe. Organized by region for ease of access, Encyclopedia of Conflicts Since World War II Second Edition provides clear, in-depth explanations of events not covered in such detail in any other reference source. Including more than 180 detailed maps and 150 photos, the set highlights the conflicts that dominate today's headlines and the events that changed the course of late twentieth-century history. South Sudan's Fateful Struggle Steven C. Roach, 2023 In this book, Steven C. Roach addresses the effects of the South Sudan war.

in South Sudan showing how it has troubled the transition to statehood and the transitional government of national unity Throughout he stresses how the government has failed to adequately promote core standards of accountability and shows how the Sudan People's Liberation Movement remained a largely militaristic organization that dominated control of the country's political destiny and became a powerful deterrent to democracy security justice and national unity Comprehensive in scope the book represents the first systematic examination of the foundations of South Sudan's quandary both before and after its civil war Yet it offers hope for a moral reckoning through the promising efforts to advance hybrid justice and to pressure the government to implement a truth commission war crimes court and reparations commission
