Suffolks Historic Farms:

Suffolk's Historic Farms Peter Hopper, 2004-06 Suffolk is a farming county with a rich agricultural heritage In this new book inspired by his weekly column in the East Anglian Daily Times Peter Hopper features eight of Suffolk's most ancient and interesting farming estates revealing their history through the stories of the generations of families that have lived and farmed there He has uncovered a wealth of fascinating detail through interviews and research and his account is illustrated with photographs of some of the most picturesque corners of the county The moated St John's Manor Farm at Battisford near Stowmarket has existed for more than 1 000 years and was once owned by the Order of St John the Knights Hospitaller while Glemham Hall at Little Glemham has been home to the Cobbold brewing family since 1923 The first member of the family to live there was Captain John Ivan Murray Cobbold the first chairman of Ipswich Town after the club turned professional in 1936 Priory Farm at Preston St Mary near Lavenham boasts the splendid and historically important timber frame barn that was once used as the famous auction rooms in the popular TV series Lovejoy and a Roman site on the farm was excavated by Channel 4's Time Team Kentwell Hall at Long Melford regularly hosts Tudor re-creation days which give visitors a flavour of what it would have been like to live and work on the estate in the 16th century With his journalist's eye Peter Hopper has picked out gems of information and interesting asides to add depth to his survey of these historically important farms

Readers will learn about an attempt to reintroduce a butterfly extinct in the county discover how many oaks it took to build an average mediaeval house in Suffolk and read about the hoarder who eventually established a farm museum to display his collection

Long Island Food: A History from Family Farms & Oysters to Craft Spirits T.W. Barritt, 2015 Beyond its crowded highways Long Island serves up a plentiful eclectic bounty with a side of history Enticing appetites from Nassau to Montauk food writer and Long Island native T W Barritt explores how immigrant families built a still thriving agricultural community producing everything from crunchy pickles and hearty potatoes to succulent Long Island duckling Experience the rise and fall of Long Island's bustling oyster industry and its reemergence today And meet the modern day pioneers in community agriculture wine cheese fine dining and craft spirits who are reinventing Long Island's food landscape and shaping a delicious future

Suffolk County Through Time Richard Panchyk, 2019 Suffolk County the second largest county in New York State is a very diverse place both geographically and culturally Home to 1.5 million people it features waterfront villages on the north and south shores On its eastern end it is also a vacation paradise for thousands every summer Much has changed over time in Suffolk County new highways have been built historic buildings and sites have been obliterated and housing developments and shopping centers of all types and sizes have sprung up Yet despite all of this progress there is still so much of the county's storied past visible Suffolk's rich farming heritage is evident in much of the county with numerous roadside farm stands and U-pick locations offering everything from corn to peaches From Cold Spring Harbor to Orient Point and Montauk Suffolk County is filled with history and the images in this book capture many important

England's Rural Realms Edward Bujak,2007-10-24 The English countryside in the nineteenth century experienced the shifting power struggle from the great landed estates towards democratisation Challenging received scholarship that the landed estates declined in power and patronage Bujak places the Victorian globalisation of trade alongside the democratisation of the English countryside By doing so he reveals that the economic decline of the great landed estates was balanced by their continued social and political influence in the countryside up to the Great War With its focus on Suffolk a county at the forefront of agricultural improvement and thus hardest hit by the agricultural depression the patterns revealed by England's Rural Realm demonstrates the durability of the great estate system across the English countryside A History of British Livestock Husbandry, 1700-1900 Robert Trow-Smith,2013-11-05 First Published in 2005 History books have told us for far too long that farming in Britain was in the eighteenth century Tull's drill Townshend's turnips and Bakewell's metamorphosis of the cow and sheep in the nineteenth century corn laws Coke's enlightened Norfolk squire dom and the collapse of the cereal market and in both centuries enclosures In this volume the author has taken the evidence sieved and analysed it The result of the analysis may or may not show the animal husbandry at least of these two centuries in a truer light The present book is a sequel to the author's History of British Livestock Husbandry to 1700 The History and Antiquities of Dartford John Dunkin,1844 The Agrarian History of England and Wales: Volume 3, 1348-1500 Edward Miller,Joan Thirsk,1991-07-18 The third volume of The Agrarian History of England and Wales which was first published in 1991 deals with the last century and a half of the Middle Ages It concerns itself with the new demographic and economic circumstances created in large measure by endemic plague English Historical Documents W.D.
