Inside Agitators Hester Eisenstein, 1996. Is a woman friendly state possible? Can women achieve full social citizenship? At a time when backlash against people of color, women and the poor is accelerating, this account of the experiences of Australian feminists is illuminating. Australian feminists succeeded in making women's issues like child care and domestic violence part of the main stream political agenda. Inside Agitators is the first full length study of the Australian femocrats published in the United States. Hester Eisenstein herself, a former femocrat, chronicles the efforts of a cohort of women feminist bureaucrats who changed the gender landscape from the initial invitation to enter government by Labor in 1973 to the rise of neo liberalism and the contemporary attack on the public sector. Connecting the femocrats to specifically Australian features of political culture and political economy, this book analyzes the implicit political theory of the femocrats. Eisenstein addresses the issues of strategies for social change, class, race and racism, sexuality and sexual politics, gendered experience and accountability to the women's movement. This important study explores the possibilities and limits of the contemporary attempt by the women's movement to constitute women as a gender interest.

and to use state power as an instrument for social change Author note Hester Eisenstein Professor in the Department of American Studies at the State University of New York at Buffalo held posts at both the Office of Equal Opportunity in Public Employment and the Education Department in New South Wales Australia She is the author of several books including Contemporary Feminist Thought Gendering Government Louise Chappell, 2003-07 Whether working towards equal pay anti domestic violence laws or the creation of refuges and childcare centres women engage with and work within state structures This text examines this interaction and compares feminist involvement with political institutions in Australia and Canada
