Narratives of the Religious Self in Early-Modern Scotland David George Mullan, 2016-04-22 Drawing on a rich yet untapped source of Scottish autobiographical writing this book provides a fascinating insight into the nature and extent of early modern religious narratives Over 80 such personal documents including diaries and autobiographies manuscript and published clerical and lay feminine and masculine are examined and placed both within the context of seventeenth century Scotland and also early modern narratives produced elsewhere In addition to the focus on narrative the study also revolves around the notion of conversion which while a concept known in many times and places is not universal in its meaning but must be understood within the peculiarities of a specific context and the needs of writers located in a specific tradition here Puritanism and evangelical Presbyterianism These conversions and the narratives which provide a means of articulation draw deeply from the Bible including the Psalms and the Song of Solomon The context must also include an appreciation of the political history especially during the religious persecutions under Charles II and James VII and later the changing and unstable conditions experienced after the arrival of William and Mary on her father's throne. Another crucial context in shaping these narratives was the form of religious discourse manifested in sermons and other works of divinity and the work seeks to investigate relations between ministers and their listeners. Through careful analysis of these narratives viewing them both as individual documents and as part of a wider genre a fuller picture of seventeenth century life can be drawn especially in the context of the family and personal development. Thus the book may be of interest to students in a variety of areas of study including literary historical and theological contexts. It provides for a greater understanding of the motivations behind such personal expressions of early modern religious faith whose echoes can still be heard today.

History of the Early Settlers of Sangamon County, Illinois John Carroll Power, 1876 New Monthly Magazine, and Universal Register Thomas Campbell, Samuel Carter Hall, Edward Bulwer Lytton Baron Lytton, Theodore Edward Hook, Thomas Hood, William Harrison Ainsworth, William Ainsworth, 1820 The Death of Josseline Margaret Regan, 2010-10-13 Dispatches from Arizona the front line of a massive human migration including the voices of migrants Border Patrol ranchers activists and others. For the last decade Margaret Regan has reported on the escalating chaos along the Arizona Mexico border ground zero for immigration since 2000. Undocumented migrants cross into Arizona in overwhelming numbers a state whose anti immigrant laws are the most stringent in the nation. And Arizona has the highest number of migrant deaths. Fourteen year old Josseline a young girl from El Salvador who was left to die alone on the migrant trail was just one of thousands to perish in its deserts and mountains. With a sweeping perspective and vivid on the ground reportage Regan tells the stories of the people caught up in this international tragedy. Traveling back and forth across the border she visits migrants stranded in Mexican shelters and rides shotgun with Border Patrol agents in Arizona hiking with them for hours in the scorching desert she camps out in the thorny wilderness with No More Deaths activists and meets with angry ranchers and vigilantes Using Arizona as a microcosm Regan explores a host of urgent issues the border militarization that threatens the rights of U S citizens the environmental damage wrought by the border wall the desperation that compels migrants to come north and the human tragedy of the unidentified dead in Arizona s morgues
