Disappearance Илья Трифонов, 1996 First published posthumously in 1987 during the post glasnost rise of literary freedom. Disappearance is a work of earlier times. Originally begun in the 1950s, this novel of childhood moves back and forth between 1937 and 1942, two troubled years in Soviet history when the disappearances of family and friends during the Stalinist purges and the Second World War become regular occurrences in the difficult life of a young Russian man.

The Old Man Илья Трифонов, 1999 The Old Man veers between a contemporary effort to buy a dacha and the memories of an incident during the Civil War. A questionable action in the past haunts the present and throws into relief the materialism that has come to replace revolutionary idealism by suggesting that this idealism may have been tainted in the first place. Трифонов implicitly blames the past for the ills of the present. While the setting and situation are very Soviet, the quandary Трифонов describes has universal significance.
