Social Patterns In Australian Literature:

Social Patterns in Australian Literature T. Inglis Moore, 2023-07-28 This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1971 Social Patterns in Australian Literature Tom Inglis Moore, Colonial Australian Fiction Ken Gelder, Rachael Weaver, 2017-04-07 Over the course of the nineteenth century a remarkable array of types appeared and disappeared in Australian literature the swagman the larrikin the colonial detective the bushranger the currency lass the squatter and more Some had a powerful influence on the colonies developing sense of identity others were more ephemeral But all had a role to play in shaping and reflecting the social and economic circumstances of life in the colonies In Colonial Australian Fiction Character Types Social Formations and the Colonial Economy Ken Gelder and Rachael Weaver explore the genres in which these characters flourished the squatter novel the bushranger adventure colonial detective stories the swagman's yarn the Australian girl's romance Authors as diverse as Catherine Helen Spence Rosa Praed Henry Kingsley Anthony Trollope Henry Lawson Miles Franklin Barbara Baynton Rolf Boldrewood Mary Fortune and Marcus Clarke were fascinated by colonial character types and brought them vibrantly to life As this book shows colonial Australian character types are fluid contradictory and often unpredictable When we look closely they have the potential to challenge our assumptions about fiction genre and national identity The preliminary pages and introduction to this work are available free to download at the Sydney eScholarship Repository <https://hdl.handle.net/2123/16435> Contents Introduction The Colonial Economy and the Production of Colonial Character Types 1 The Reign of the Squatter 2 Bushrangers 3 Colonial Australian Detectives 4 Bush Types and Metropolitan Types 5 The Australian Girl Works Cited Index About the series The Sydney Studies in Australian Literature series publishes original peer reviewed research in the field of Australian literature The series comprises monographs devoted to the works of major authors and themed collections of essays about current issues in the field of Australian literary studies The series offers well researched and engagingly written re-evaluations of the nature and importance of Australian literature and aims to reinvigorate its study both in Australia and internationally Australia's Secular Foundations Malcolm Wood, 2016-09-23 Explaining how Australia's secular society derives from its colonial past this book examines the environmental and social context that encouraged godlessness including the convict system the bush materialism and cultural development religious practice and sectarianism the state's policy of denominational even handedness to ensure social harmony the challenges to faith that science and critical biblical scholarship posed and churchmen's attempts to foist a moral code on society and their ambivalent attitudes to society's poor and distressed Australian Literary Manuscripts in North American Libraries Nan Bowman Albinski, 1997 Chinese in Australian Fiction, 1888-1988, Translation as

Criticism Anna Gadd Colombi, 2018-07-27 Themes places characters and voices of Elizabeth Jolley's Mr Scobie's Riddle are explored in detail in this monograph which provides different narratological and translational analyses of the novel as well as an academic translation into Italian. Considering the challenges and issues posited by a literary work's translation helps to shed light on the original work itself. In this manner the translation is to be seen as a further analytical instrument to gain insight into the original novel. The purpose of this work is to obtain a deeper understanding of the complicated microcosm created by Jolley in the nursing home of St Christopher and St Jude: the typically Australian themes of migration, isolation, place and displacement; the Australian culture specific elements; the ensemble of curious characters and their entertaining voices. This book strives to preserve the above elements in translation as the expression of something other, a different culture, and to take Italian readers on a journey to the Australia depicted in Mr Scobie's Riddle so that Jolley's characters' voices can echo in the Italian language. Canon Constitution and Canon Change in Children's Literature Bettina

Kümmerling-Meibauer, Anja Müller, 2016-12-01 This volume focuses on the de-canonization processes in children's literature considering the construction and cultural/historical changes of canons in different children's literatures. Chapters by international experts in the field explore a wide range of different children's literatures from Great Britain, Germany, Scandinavia, the Low Countries, Eastern and Central Europe as well as from Non-European countries such as Australia, Israel and the United States. Situating the inquiry within larger literary and cultural studies conversations about canonicity, the contributors assess representative authors and works that have encountered changing fates in the course of canon history. Particular emphasis is given to sociological canon theories which have so far been under-represented in canon research in children's literature. The volume therefore relates historical changes in the canon of children's literature not only to historical changes in concepts of childhood but to more encompassing political, social, economic, cultural and ideological shifts. This volume's comparative approach takes cognizance of the fact that if canon formation is an important cultural factor in nation-building processes, a comparative study is essential to assessing transnational processes in canon formation. This book thus renders evident the structural similarities between patterns and strategies of canon formation emerging in different children's literatures.

Patrick White's Fiction Carolyn Bliss, 1986-08-18 This study examines all eleven novels of Patrick White, the great Australian writer and Nobel Prize winner. It begins from the observation that major characters in his novels undergo a necessary redemptive or facilitating failure. This failure paradoxically enables their success within the context of what White has called the overreaching grandeur which circumscribes human existence. Evolution of this theme is traced through forty years of White's fiction from his first novel Happy Valley (1939) to his most recent work The Twyborn Affair (1979). Comprehensive in its scope, this book is informed by a thorough knowledge of White's poetry, plays, short stories and autobiography as well as his novels. It is also unique in stressing that White's world view derives from a distinctly Australian experience. It thus links him to a country in which he is deeply rooted and to a heritage he continued to affirm. Heritage,

Labour and the Working Classes Laurajane Smith, Paul Shackel, Gary Campbell, 2012-05-23 Heritage Labour and the Working Classes is both a celebration and commemoration of working class culture. It contains sometimes inspiring accounts of working class communities and people telling their own stories and weaves together examples of tangible and intangible heritage: place, history, memory, music and literature. Rather than being framed in a social inclusion framework which sees working class culture as a deficit, this book addresses the question: What is labour and working class heritage, how does it differ or stand in opposition to dominant ways of understanding heritage and history, and in what ways is it used as a contemporary resource? It also explores how heritage is used in working class communities and by labour organizations and considers what meanings and significance this heritage may have while also identifying how and why communities and their heritage have been excluded. Drawing on new scholarship in heritage studies, social memory, the public history of labour and new working class studies, this volume highlights the heritage of working people, communities and organizations. Contributions are drawn from a number of Western countries including the USA, UK, Spain, Sweden, Australia and New Zealand and from a range of disciplines including heritage and museum studies, history, sociology, politics, archaeology and anthropology. Heritage Labour and the Working Classes represents an innovative and useful resource for heritage and museum practitioners, students and academics concerned with understanding community heritage and the debate on social inclusion/exclusion. It offers new ways of understanding heritage, its values and consequences, and presents a challenge to dominant and traditional frameworks for understanding and identifying heritage and heritage making. Social Pattern in Australian Literature Tom Inglis Moore, 1971 'A world-proof life' Marivic Wyndham, 2007-01-01 Eleanor Dark 1901-1985 is one of Australia's most celebrated writers of the inter-war years. Born with the twentieth century, a Federation baby, she published ten novels, amongst them one of the best-loved Australian stories of all time, The Timeless Land. Her life spanned successive global crises: two world wars, the economic depression of the 1930s, the Cold War, each issuing its own challenges to the artist and the people's writer she thought herself to be. By far the most privileged writer of her generation, her ultimate challenge was a personal one: to unlock the gates of her world-proof life to a society and a world in crisis. The first cross-cultural biography of this famous Australian writer, Marivic Wyndham's rich and controversial portrait of Eleanor Dark is based on extensive research of the author's public and private lives. A Reference Guide for English Studies Michael J. Marcuse, 1990-01-01 This ambitious undertaking is designed to acquaint students, teachers and researchers with reference sources in any branch of English studies which Marcuse defines as all those subjects and lines of critical and scholarly inquiry presently pursued by members of university departments of English language and literature. Within each of 24 major sections, Marcuse lists and annotates bibliographies, guides, reviews of research, encyclopedias, dictionaries, journals and reference histories. The annotations and various indexes are models of clarity and usefulness, and cross-references are liberally supplied where appropriate. Although cost-conscious librarians will probably consider the several other excellent
