Socialist Dilemmas Henryk Flakierski, Thomas T. Sekine, 2019-07-26 This book consisting of eight related articles deals with several dimensions of socialism in the 1980s just before the beginning of the great changes which took place in Eastern Europe Profound changes in the political economy of the world in the 1970s led to a decline of over confidence and over optimism characteristic of the earlier times both in the West and in the East The painful experience of stagnation ended the grand Keynesian dream and led to the return of neo conservatism in the West The disappointing pace of industrial and technological progress during the Brezhnev era and increasing shortages of productivity of communism in the East With both sides in the grip of political and economic uncertainties the ideological confrontation seemed to have lost much of its sharp edge No longer did the accepted dogmas and ideologies of the past appear either valid or convincing The presupposition of the debate on comparative economic systems were in need of fundamental revisions It was in this perspective that the Political Economy Workshop at York University undertook to feature a series of lectures on socialism in its 1988 sessions Of about a dozen presentations by York University scholars and invited speakers eight were subsequently made available in the form of articles and are published in this volume These articles cover a wide range of issues both theoretical and practical and from both the Western and the Eastern perspective It is recognized by all authors that neither the East European experiments in communism nor the Western process into social democracy have been a great success The clue to what might lie beyond the socialist dilemmas in the age of perestroika will be found only by going through once again to the circumstances which led to the failure of socialism thus far

Socialism: The Only Practical Alternative to Contemporary Capitalism Tatah Mentan, 2012-06-27 Since the end of World War II global capitalism spearheaded by US financial interests and backed by the most lethal military force that has ever been assembled has consolidated its power over the world economy In the past decades especially transnational corporations have tightened their control over national governments and international institutions The imposition of free trade policies and the increasing privatization of social services have facilitated the accumulation of fabulous wealth for the owners of capital at the expense of working people and the environment worldwide Contemporary capitalism now dominates every major sector of the world economy The social and environmental costs of contemporary capitalism are prohibitive The global megatrends of rising inequality and absolute poverty political instability and global climate change all compounded and accelerated by this predatory mode of production are adversely affecting the lives and threatening the future of every inhabitant of nations and the entire world In view of these megatrends and the current global economic crisis the conclusion that contemporary capitalism does not serve the interests of the vast majority of the people on the planet and is both economically and environmentally unsustainable is self evident History offers harsh lessons The political violence of the 20th century which resulted in an estimated 200 million deaths and untold economic and environmental destruction cautions us to work for socialism in the 21st century with every means at our disposal except violence Facing the awful power and willingness of capitalism to coerce and corrupt we must find ways to make soft power prevail Clearly a revolution is in order it is time to place the socialist alternative on the national and world agenda The Political Economy of Privatization

Thomas Clarke, Christos Pitelis, 2005-08-17 This book considers the many facets of the privatization process in advanced industrialised countries along with the marketization of Eastern Europe and the pressures on developing countries to adopt privatization as the route to growth Market Forces in Planned Economies Oleg T Bogomolov, 2016-07-27 Rebuilding

Downtrodden Job Market and Madhouse Society Marvin F. Burgess, 1996 This work covers all major areas which have had a destructive impact against America's business manufacturing job market Strategy and techniques are clearly described identified and detailed for rebuilding America's full time permanent job market
