Texts Tests:

Text Complexity and Reading Comprehension Tests Erik Castello, 2008 Based on the analysis of a specially compiled corpus of internationally recognized English as a foreign language EFL reading tests at different levels of proficiency this volume explores the relation between the complexity of written texts and the difficulty of reading comprehension tests It brings together linguistic investigations into the text inherent complexity of the tests and a study of the data derived from their administration to groups of Italian university students The study of text complexity draws on corpus linguistics text linguistics and systemic functional linguistics Both quantitative and qualitative analyses are carried out on the language used in the reading texts and in the related tasks that make up the corpus of tests The assessment of test difficulty on the other hand is informed by research on language testing and in particular by findings and methodologies of Classical Test Theory and Item Response Theory Relevant aspects of these theories are used to analyze and interpret both the data obtained from the administration of the tests and the data collected by means of feedback questionnaires completed by test takers The application of such diverse methodologies and the subsequent comparison of the results of the analyses has brought out interesting correlations between text inherent complexity perceived test difficulty and actual test difficulty Manual of mental and physical tests v.1, 1914 Guy Montrose Whipple, 1914 Writing and Revising in Second Language

Classrooms Jing Chen, 2025-02-05 This book contributes to the field of L2 writing with a focus on instruction in revision Theoretically this research provides a better understanding of students metacognitive knowledge about revision and their self efficacy for text revision in EFL writing such understanding is vital to make pedagogical connections between cognitive research self efficacy theory and instructional research in writing Moreover the designed questionnaire for data collection and analysis in this study can be employed as a diagnostic or consciousness raising tool in the L2 writing classrooms or be used as a research tool to chart the development of students metacognitive knowledge about revision and self efficacy for text revision over time to contribute to this line of research Pedagogically this study examined the effects of the SRSD model an approach that has shown its effectiveness in improving learners metacognition and impacting their self efficacy in both L1 and L2 writing in the context of revision in an EFL context Hence it broadens the understanding of the feasibility and effectiveness of the SRSD model Teaching Authentic Language Arts in a Test-Driven Era , Reading for levels The authors teach a clear and concise instructional framework for students at all learning levels from those with special learning needs to those taking honors and Advanced Placement courses The book also includes A direct correlation to disciplinary literacy making the book an even more valuable resource in a wide range of classrooms Explanation of the social and personal dimensions for building a foundation for engaged learning Discussions of the value of setting aside dedicated class time for independent silent reading With collaboration tips that go beyond the classroom and advice on building a cognitive reading toolbox Reading for Understanding is an indispensable resource for teachers at the Grade 6 and up literacy coaches reading teachers community college instructors and other school leaders

An Investigation of Teachers' Questions and Tasks to Develop Reading Comprehension Ghazali Mustapha, 2020-02-03 Teachers are constantly seeking ways to improve their teaching and thereby enhance the learning of their students One method of doing this is to bring critical and creative thinking skills to the forefront of the curriculum This has been emphasized by the Malaysian Ministry of Education via the KBSM syllabus in order to teach critical and creative thinking by considering the use of programs like Bloom's taxonomy of educational objectives in classroom practice This study demonstrates how the higher order skills can be integrated into the secondary school reading curriculum The main aim of the study is to investigate how teachers design reading comprehension questions RCQs and reading comprehension tasks RCTs in relation to the demands of higher order thinking to produce students with critical minds It focuses primarily on the use of COGAFF taxonomy a cognitive affective taxonomy adapted from Bloom's and Krathwohl's to formulate higher order reading questions and tasks as a means to develop critical and creative thinking skills In a pilot study in Britain with forty Malaysian teachers and in the main field study in Malaysia 150 subjects teachers and student teachers have yielded about one thousand RCQs and one thousand RCTs In line with many research findings of question and task design 91.2% of the RCQs and 83.6% of RCTs produced during the pretest were of low order types Subjects attended a workshop emphasizing question and task designing using the COGAFF taxonomy Dramatically during the posttest 74.4% of the RCQs and 80.6% of the RCTs were transformed into higher order inferential forms The other major thrust of the study is to demonstrate how higher order questions can be used to design equally higher order tasks that can be utilized as a thinking skills approach in the teaching of reading comprehension lessons in secondary schools Thinking tools and strategies as suggested by Beyer Guilford Gardner and several others and their implications for the teaching of reading comprehension and training of teachers in Malaysia are also discussed
