Textual Criticism And Scholarly Editing:

Textual Criticism and Scholarly Editing George Thomas Tanselle,1990 Textual Criticism and Scholarly Editing George Thomas Tanselle,1990-01-01 Scholarly Editing in the Computer Age Peter L. Shillingsburg,1996 A practical introduction to the aims controversies and procedures of scholarly editing Digital Scholarly Editing Dr Elena Pierazzo,2015-08-28 This book provides an up to date coherent and comprehensive treatment of digital scholarly editing organized according to the typical timeline and workflow of the preparation of an edition from the choice of the object to edit the editorial work post production and publication the use of the published edition to long term issues and the ultimate significance of the published work The author also examines from a theoretical and methodological point of view the issues and problems that emerge during these stages with the application of computational techniques and methods Building on previous publications on the topic the book discusses the most significant developments in digital textual scholarship claiming that the alterations in traditional editorial practices necessitated by the use of computers impose radical changes in the way we think and manage texts documents editions and the public It is of interest not only to scholarly editors but to all involved in publishing and readership in a digital environment in the humanities The Work and The Reader in Literary Studies Paul Eggert,2019-08-29 Reflects on and re imagines the role of the scholarly edition and its reader in the twenty first century Scholarly Editing David C. Greetham,1995 Written by acknowledged experts in literary studies this collection of twenty five essays surveys the history of scholarly editing describes the major research in a variety of disciplines summarizes the resources available to scholars and analyzes the issues currently facing textual editions The book begins with a survey of scholarly editing following by four essays on the long tradition of editing the Bible and Greek and Latin classics The next cluster of essays proceeds through the major periods of British and American literature from medieval to modern further subdividing the Renaissance and the nineteenth century by genre and including a chapter devoted to Shakespeare Additional essays cover other European literatures French Old French and early modern Italian medieval Spanish German and Russian The concluding essays discuss representative non European literatures Arabic and Sanskrit and the nonliterary editing of folk literature in various languages Each chapter includes a history of scholarly editing in the field a citation of exemplary editions and an introduction to a recommended list of further readings This collection will be of considerable interest to both those who are new to scholarly editing and those who have experience editing texts in one period or literature and would like to learn about the practices in other fields Theories of the Text David C. Greetham,1999 Theories of the Text is the first book to address the changing practice of bibliography textual criticism and scholarly editing in a comprehensive way It opens up the debate on a range of issues relating to these three practices Devils and Angels Philip G. Cohen,1991 Literary theory and textual criticism have much to teach each other writes Philip Cohen who has collected this anthology of essays that seeks to bridge what he sees as a wide rift between textual and literary critics While most Anglo American textual scholars now stress the importance of authorial intention and its key role in editorial and interpretative work many literary theorists still tend to ostracize the author and his intentions from any serious literary discussion The contributors to this collection many of whom are well known for both their practical and theoretical work in editorial fields look to recast in different ways the assumptions and working methods of Anglo American editorial scholarship

Editing Documents and Texts Beth Luey, Kathleen Gorman, 1990 Over the past twenty years the field of scholarly editing has expanded and altered immeasurably In Editing Documents and Texts Beth Luey has compiled for the first time 900 references from nearly 200 journals and books that explain how scholarly editors do their work and the theories behind their editing Bridging the traditional gap between historical and literary editing Luey surveys the relevant scholarship in all editorial fields and presents a thorough picture of the state of the discipline Anyone interested in the editing of documents and texts whether an undergraduate or graduate student instructor or a beginning or experienced editor will find Editing Documents and Texts an indispensable reference

Textual Criticism and Sacred Texts Signe Cohen, 2023-03-20 In Textual Criticism and Sacred Texts Signe Cohen looks at the text critical scholarship on sacred texts across disciplines She traces the development of the genealogical method and discusses its role in textual criticism today The book examines the applicability of traditional text critical methods to oral texts as well as the roles of translations and commentaries in textual criticism Cohen then turns to the under theorized question of the relationship between religion and text critical scholarship and outlines ethics of textual criticism applied to religious texts She then discusses how new digital technologies will change the textual scholarship of the future and proposes new ways that scholars can collaborate across sub disciplines
