Thats Funny You Dont Look Like A Teacher Interrogating Images Identity And Popular Culture:

That's Funny You Don't Look Like A Teacher! Sandra J Weber, Claudia Mitchell, 2002-11 How children and popular culture perceive the teacher

International Handbook of Self-Study of Teaching and Teacher Education Practices J. John Loughran, Mary Lynn Hamilton, Vicki Kubler LaBoskey, Tom L. Russell, 2007-07-03 The International Handbook on Self study of Teaching and Teacher Education Practices is of interest to teacher educators teacher researchers and practitioner researchers This volume offers an encyclopaedic review of the field of self study examines in detail self study in a range of teaching and teacher education contexts outlines a full understanding of the nature and development of self study explores the development of a professional knowledge base for teaching through self study purposefully represents self study through research and practice illustrates examples of self study in teaching and teacher education

Critical Readings in Teacher Education, 2008-01-01 Like other fields of study teacher education defines itself both by what it includes and by what it excludes Teacher educators and researchers have spent a great deal of time seeking and attempting to eradicate the flaws in existing structures and practices but significantly less time learning to perceive the absences The premise of this book is that until we can identify and begin to address what is absent teacher education will be constrained by a perennial recycling of concerns that have characterized so much of research policy and practice to date If teacher education is to have a different future we need to ask different and difficult questions This book with contributions from theorists in Australia Canada and the United States addresses the challenges we face in establishing a more hopeful future for teacher education The authors provocative contributions identify what is missing in teacher education while providing critical counterpoints to existing frames of reference in the field In writing against the grain they open up new conceptual spaces and exciting trajectories for a different teacher education

From Teacher Thinking to Teachers and Teaching Cheryl J. Craig, Paulien C. Meijer, Jan Broeckmans, 2013-07-04 This volume covers advances that have occurred in the thirty year existence of the International Study Association on Teachers and Teaching ISATT the organization that helped transition the study of teacher thinking to the study of teachers and teaching in all of its complexities

Just Who Do We Think We Are? Claudia Mitchell, Kathleen O'Reilly-Scanlon, Sandra Weber, 2013-04-15 Drawing upon diverse and specific examples of self study described here by the practitioners themselves this unique book formulates a methodological framework for self study in education This collection brings together a diverse and international range of self studies carried out in teacher education each of which has a different perspective to offer on issues of method and methodology including memory work fictional practice collaborative autobiography auto ethnography phenomenology image based approaches Such ethical issues likely to arise from self study as informed consent self disclosure and crises of representation are also explored with depth and clarity As method takes centre stage in educational and social scientific research and self study becomes a key tool for research training practice and professional development in education Just Who Do We Think We Are provides an invaluable resource for anyone undertaking this form of practitioner research Diversifying the Teacher Workforce Christine E. Sleeter, La Vonne I. Neal, Kevin K. Kumashiro, 2014-07-25 Diversifying the Teacher Workforce critically examines efforts to diversify the teaching force and narrow the demographic gap between who teaches and who populates U S classrooms While the demographic gap is often invoked to provide a needed rationale for preparing all teachers and especially White teachers to work with students of color it is far less often invoked in an effort to examine why the teaching force remains predominantly White in the first place Based on work the National Association for Multicultural Education is engaged in on this phenomenon this edited collection brings together leading scholars to look closely at this problem They examine why the teaching force is predominantly White from historical as well as contemporary perspectives showcase and report available data on a variety of ways this problem is being tackled at the pre service and teacher credentialing levels and examine how a diverse and high quality teaching force can be retained and thrive This book is an essential resource for any educator interested in exploring race within the context of today s urban schools Reinventing Ourselves as Teachers Claudia Mitchell, Sandra Weber, 2003-10-04 Designed for use by teachers and teacher educators this text should help both novice and experienced teachers reinterpret their working lives The reader is led on a path of personal exploration that goes beyond standard approaches and leads from the personal to the critical Illustrative material is drawn from all levels from kindergarten to high school to illuminate issues and questions fundamental to teachers lives Film and literary narratives supply further case studies and contribute to the fusion of critical reflection and everyday realities that typically inform teachers experiences of work Autoethnography, Self-Narrative and Teacher Education Mike Hayler, 2012-01-01 Autoethnography Self Narrative and Teacher Education examines the professional life and work of teacher educators In adopting an autoethnographic and life history approach Mike Hayler develops a theoretically informed discussion of how the professional identity of teacher educators is both formed and represented by narratives of experience The book draws upon analytic autoethnography and life history methods to explore the ways in which teacher educators construct and develop their conceptions and practice by engaging with memory through narrative in order to negotiate some of the ambivalences and uncertainties of their work The author s own story of learning embedded within the text was shared with other teacher educators who following interviews wrote self narratives around themes which emerged from discussion The focus for analysis develops from how professional identity and pedagogy are influenced by changing perceptions and self narratives of life and work experiences and how this may influence professional culture content and practice in this area The book includes an evaluation of how using this approach has allowed the author to investigate both the subject and method of the research with implications for educational research and the practice of teacher education Audience Scholars and students of education and the education of teachers researchers interested in autoethnography and self narrative The Figure of the Teacher in Comics David Lewkowich, 2024-10-12 This book explores the distinctive narrative and representational gestures used to portray the personal and professional lives of teachers in comics While serving as a reference for conceptualizing teachers in literary and popular culture this book also turns to comics as a means to better understand and interpret lived emotional experiences of teaching Lewkowich discusses the cultural history of teachers in North American comics and provides a series of thematic studies on the split and secret identities of teachers teacher s deaths by murder and the teacher s relationship to the thought bubble He also outlines the psychic and social consequences of reading and making comics with preservice teachers
