Clean up your mess, Shell!

Smoke

on the Water Dario Fazzi,2023-10-31 The U S government military and industry once saw ocean incineration as the safest and most efficient way to dispose of hazardous chemical waste Beginning in the late 1960s toxic chemicals such as PCBs and other harmful industrial byproducts were taken out to sea to be destroyed in specially designed ships equipped with high temperature combustion chambers and smokestacks But public outcry arose after the environmental and health risks of ocean incineration were exposed and the practice was banned in the early 1990s Smoke on the Water traces the rise and fall of ocean incineration showing how a transnational environmental movement tested the limits of U S political and economic power Dario Fazzi examines the anti ocean incineration movement that emerged on both sides of the Atlantic arguing that it succeeded by merging local advocacy with international mobilization He emphasizes the role played at the grassroots level by women migrant workers and other underrepresented groups who were at greatest risk Environmental groups for their part gathered and shared evidence about the harms of at sea incineration building scientific consensus and influencing international debates Smoke on the Water tells the compelling story of a campaign against environmental degradation in which people from marginalized communities took on the might of the U S military industrial complex It offers new insights into the transnational dimensions of environmental regulation the significance of nonstate actors in international history and the making of environmental justice movements

Decommissioning the Brent Spar Paula Owen,Tony Rice,1999-04-08

Decommissioning the Brent Spar chronicles the events leading up to the recent decision to recycle the offshore installation in a Norwegian fjord the Greenpeace campaign to stop it being dumped at sea the repercussions of Shell s decision to abort the decommissioning at the eleventh hour and the dialogue processes that have occurred to attempt to resolve the issue This book will give a balanced impartial account of the whole situation to its present day its key aim being to inform the reader about the facts and mechanisms of the dialogue process and the need to approach decisions in a different way Readers will benefit from an account of the mistakes made by both sides the input from government the scientific community the press and public and can apply this knowledge to future environmental issues

Marine Conservation Bob Earll,2018-10-08 In the last 50 years marine conservation has grown from almost nothing to become a major topic of global activity involving many people and organisations Marine conservation activities have been applied to a huge diversity of species habitats ecosystems and whole seas Many marine conservation actions have focused on human impacts on the marine environment from development and pollution to the impacts of fisheries Whilst science has provided the backbone of thinking on marine conservation perhaps the biggest change over this period has been the use of an ever increasing range of techniques and disciplines to further marine conservation ends Bob Earll explores what marine conservation involves in practice by providing a synthesis of the main developments from the viewpoints of 19 leading practitioners and pioneers who have helped shape its progress and successes Their narratives highlight the diversity and richness of activity and the realities of delivering marine conservation in practice with reference to a host of projects and case studies Many of these narratives demonstrate how innovative conservationists have been often developing novel approaches to problems where little information and no frameworks exist The case studies described are based on a wide range of European and international projects This book takes an in depth look at the reality of delivering marine conservation in practice where achieving change is often a complicated process with barriers to overcome that have nothing to do with science Marine conservationists will often be working with stakeholders for whom marine conservation is not a priority This book aims to help readers describe and understand those realities and shows that successful and inspirational projects can be delivered against the odds

Environmental Risks and the Media Barbara Adam, Stuart Allan, Cynthia Carter, 2013-01-11 Environmental Risks and the Media explores the ways in which environmental risks threats and hazards are represented transformed and contested by the media At a time when popular conceptions of the environment as a stable natural world with which humanity interferes are being increasingly contested the medias methods of encouraging audiences to think about environmental risks from the BSE or mad cow crisis to global climate change are becoming more and more controversial Examining large scale disasters as well as everyday hazards the contributors consider the tensions between entertainment and information in media coverage of the environment How do the media frame expert counter expert and lay public definitions of environmental risk What role do environmental pressure groups like Greenpeace or eco warriors and green guerrillas play in shaping what gets covered and how Does the media emphasis on spectacular events at the expense of issue sensitive reporting exacerbate the public tendency to overestimate sudden and violent risks and underestimate chronic long term ones The Alignment Factor Cees B.M. Van Riel, 2012-03-29 The importance of creating a favourable impression is hard to overstate in all walks of life in business it s vital to achieve strategic goals Customers journalists bloggers investors governments and other groups are all important stakeholders in an organizations performance and in persuasively communicating a company s ethical and socially responsible behaviour these groups can be kept onside Supported throughout by lively examples this book contains guidance for implementing strategies that engage stakeholders highlighting those organizations which employ communication professionals as key performers Van Riel reveals how a dominant logic develops among executives which influences styles and techniques of trust building communication The practical insights demonstrated via cases including Google Unilever and Barclays make this book useful reading for MBA and other graduate classes across areas such as public relations and reputation management as well as thinking managers across the globe Environmental Health Perspectives ,1993

International Environmental Policy Lynton Keith Caldwell,Paul Stanley Weiland,1996 In this newly revised and expanded edition of the award winning International Environmental Policy Lynton Keith Caldwell updates his comprehensive survey of the global international movement for protection of the environment Serving as a history of international cooperation on environmental issues this book focuses primarily on the development of international agreements and institutional arrangements both governmental and nongovernmental along with the impact of science technology trade and communication on environmental policy With implications for multinational commerce population policy agriculture energy issues biological and cultural diversity transnational equity ideology and education this book takes a broad view of the policy outcomes of what may be the most important social movement of the 20th century and addresses the events and politics that have significantly affected the movement over the last twenty years and will continue to affect it into the next century

The Greenpeace Of The North Sea: Bestsellers in 2023 The year 2023 has witnessed a remarkable surge in literary brilliance, with numerous captivating novels captivating the hearts of readers worldwide. Lets delve into the realm of top-selling books, exploring the captivating narratives that have charmed audiences this year. The Greenpeace Of The North Sea : Colleen Hoover "It Ends with Us" This poignant tale of love, loss, and resilience has captivated readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover skillfully weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can prevail. The Greenpeace Of The North Sea : Taylor Jenkins Reids "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This spellbinding historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reids compelling storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery. The Greenpeace Of The North Sea : Delia Owens "Where the Crawdads Sing" This mesmerizing coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens crafts a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, captivating readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These popular novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of engaging stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a masterful and gripping novel that will keep you guessing until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
