The Language Of Oppression :

The Language of Oppression Haig A. Bosmajian, 1974 Examines decadence in our language especially that language which leads to dehumanization and degradation of human beings Powerful illustrations may be found in the fact that for instance Hitler's Final Solution appeared reasonable once the Jews were successfully labelled by the Nazis as sub humans parasites vermin or bacilli So too the subjugation of the American Indian was defensible since they were defined as barbarians and savages The author of this engrossing text that was originally published in 1974 by Public Affairs Press successfully identifies and critically comments on the racist sexist and ethnic slurs still predominant in society today with the hope that this decadence will be cured Winner of the 1983 George Orwell Award from the Committee on Doublespeak of the NCTE normally ignored First of all such people are not encouraged to respect and represent themselves in their original language They develop a sense of self inadequacy That feeling gives an individual a feeling of guilt This unreasonable guilt that a marginalized is subjected to disturbs his communicative competence As a result he will try to develop sense of negativism related towards his own language This feeling is the initial reaction to the process which is going to over bulldoze the victim in due course of time The reader will find such instances of victimization and also example of doing violence with words in the following chapters
