The Language Of The Classroom

Phil Hiver, Ali H. Al-Hoorie, Sarah Mercer

The Language Of The Classroom:

The Dynamics of the Language Classroom Ian Tudor, 2001 Focus on the Language Classroom Dick Allwright, Kathleen M. Bailey, 1991-04-25 The authors set out to define the aims principles and objectives of recent research into what exactly happens in the language classroom to describe the findings of this work and to relate these to teaching practice Process and Experience in the Language Classroom Michael Legutke, Howard Thomas, Christopher N. Candlin, 2014-06-06 Process and Experience in the Language Classroom argues the case for communicative language teaching as an experiential and task driven learning process The authors raise important questions regarding the theoretical discussion of communicative competence and current classroom practice They propose ways in which Communicative Language Teaching should develop within an educational model of theory and practice incorporating traditions of experimental and practical learning and illustrated from a wide range of international sources Building on a critical review of recent language teaching principles and practice they provide selection criteria for classroom activities based on a typology of communicative tasks drawn from classroom experience The authors also discuss practical attempts to utilise project tasks both as a means of realising task based language learning and of redefining the roles of teacher and learner within a jointly constructed curriculum Understanding the Language Classroom S. Gieve, I. Miller, 2005-11-30 The starting point for this collection is a chapter by Dick Allwright on the language learning and teaching classroom experience entitled Six Promising Directions in Applied Linguistics The other distinguished contributors respond to this discussion with their own interpretations and from their own experience The collection problematizes prescription efficiency and technical solutions as orientations to classroom language learning Complexity and idiosyncrasy on the other hand are recognized as central concepts in a move towards centralizing teachers and learners own understanding of classroom life in the contexts of language learning adult literacy education and language teacher education The Language of the Classroom Arno A. Bellack, Joel Robert Davitz, 1965 Understanding Language Classroom Contexts Martin Wedell, Angi Malderez, 2013-04-11 Arguably the whole point of education is to effect change in what people know and are able to do Globalization has contributed to a common perception worldwide of the need to introduce changes to the teaching and learning of languages The success of many attempts to do so has been limited by insufficient consideration of implementation contexts Understanding Language Classroom Contexts explores and illustrates how what happens in any language classroom is influenced by and can be an influence on the contexts in which it is situated A clear understanding of these influences is thus the starting point for planning effective change The book considers many visible and invisible features of the multiple layers of any context and provides a framework for understanding the types of factors that may influence whether changes planned by a teacher or externally initiated are likely to be successful The book will help teachers and educational managers or change planners outside the classroom to understand why their classrooms are as they are and so to make informed decisions about what can or cannot or not easily be changed and suggests how any changes might be appropriately managed
