Autonomy in Education Walter Berka,Jan De Groof,Hilde Penneman,European Association for Education Law and Policy,2000-04-13 The push towards greater autonomy is one of the three main trends in every modern educational policy alongside quality assurance and quality evaluation techniques and the need to devote attention to special and often disadvantaged target groups It is however difficult to derive a unified concept of autonomy from the comparative indicators which are published on a regular basis and it has emerged that there are significant differences depending on the specific area and the administrative organisation of education in the country in question During the discussions of the annual Congress of the European Association for Education Law and Policy ELA in Salzburg 1998 it was apparent that autonomy has to be considered in its various applications Autonomy for school boards is realised through management administrative mechanisms management of staff and pedagogical options Autonomy of administration requires competence the willingness to establish an autonomous administration and awareness of each party's responsibility in the educational process The contents of this Yearbook are an answer to the question of how legislatures are responding to the trend towards greater responsibility decentralisation and autonomy It is an overview of the efforts made by the Member States of the European Union to apply the principle of subsidiarity

Modernization as Ideology Michael E. Latham, 2003-06-19 Providing new insight on the intellectual and cultural dimensions of the Cold War Michael Latham reveals how social science theory helped shape American foreign policy during the Kennedy administration He shows how in the midst of America's protracted struggle to contain communism in the developing world the concept of global modernization moved beyond its beginnings in academia to become a motivating ideology behind policy decisions After tracing the rise of modernization theory in American social science Latham analyzes the way its core assumptions influenced the Kennedy administration's Alliance for Progress with Latin America the creation of the Peace Corps and the strategic hamlet program in Vietnam But as he demonstrates modernizers went beyond insisting on the relevance of America's experience to the dilemmas faced by impoverished countries Seeking to accelerate the movement of foreign societies toward a liberal democratic and capitalist modernity Kennedy and his advisers also reiterated a much deeper sense of their own nation's vital strengths and essential benevolence At the height of the Cold War Latham argues modernization recast older ideologies of Manifest Destiny and imperialism

The Politics of Academic Autonomy in Latin America Fernanda Beigel, 2016-03-03 Academic autonomy has been a dominant issue among Latin American social studies given that the production of knowledge in the region has been mostly suspected for its lack of originality and the replication of Euro American models Politicization within the higher education system and recurrent military interventions in universities have been considered the main structural causes for this heteronomy and thus the main obstacles for scientific achievements This groundbreaking book analyses the struggle for academic autonomy taking into account the relevant differences between the itinerary of social and natural sciences the connection of institutionalization and prestige building professionalization and engagement From the perspective of the periphery academic dependence is not merely a vertical bond that ties active producers and passive reproducers Even though knowledge produced in peripheral communities has low rates of circulation within the international academic system this doesn t imply that their production is or always has been the result of a massive import of foreign concepts and resources This book intends to show that the main differences between mainstream academies and peripheral circuits are not precisely in the lack of indigenous thinking but in the historical structure of academic autonomy which changes according to a set of factors mainly the role of the state in the higher education system This historical structure explains the particular features of the process of professionalization in Latin American scientific fields
