diseases Spanning Europe from the British Isles to Italy and from the Canary Islands to Cyprus these contributions will be of interest to earth scientists geographers historians sociologists anthropologists and climatologists but are also relevant to students and non specialist readers interested in medieval archaeology and history as well as those studying human geography and disaster studies Despite a different set of beliefs relating to the natural world and protection against environmental hazards the evidence suggests that medieval communities frequently adopted a surprisingly modern well informed and practically minded outlook      Hearings United States.
