America: The New Imperialism Victor G. Kiernan, 2020-05-05 The invasion and occupation of Iraq have sparked considerable discussion about the nature of American imperialism but most of it is focused on the short term The classical historical approach of this book provides a convincing and compelling analysis of the different phases of American imperialism which have now led to America becoming a global hegemon without any serious rivals Victor Kiernan one of the world's most respected historians has used his nuanced knowledge of history literature and politics to trace the evolution of the American Empire he includes accounts of relations between Indians and white settlers readings of the work of Melville and Whitman and an analysis of the way that money and politics became so closely intertwined Eric Hobsbawm's preface provides an insight into his own thoughts on American imperialism and a valuable introduction to Victor Kiernan's work Together they shed useful light on today's urgent debates about the uses and misuses of seemingly unlimited military power a lack of respect for international agreements and the right to pre-emptive defense

Language Planning is a resurgent academic discipline reflecting the importance of language in issues of migration, globalisation, cultural diversity, nation building, education and ethnic identity. Written as an advanced introduction, this book engages with all these themes but focuses specifically on language planning as it relates to education, addressing such issues as bilingualism and the education of linguistic minority pupils in North America and Europe, the educational and equity implications of the global spread of English and the choice of media of instruction in post colonial societies. Contextualising this discussion, the first two chapters describe the emergence and evolution of language planning as an academic discipline and introduce key concepts in the practice of language planning. The book is wide ranging in its coverage with detailed discussion of the context of language policy in a variety of countries and communities across North America, Europe, Africa and Asia.
