ENJOY THE CHALLENGE Nationalism and History Education Rachel Hutchins, 2016-02-26 History education by nature transmits an official version of national identity
National identity is not a fixed entity and controversy over history teaching is an essential part of the process of redefining and regenerating the nation
France and the United States have in particular experienced demographic and cultural shifts since the 1960s that have resulted in intense debates over national identity
This volume examines how each country's national history is represented in primary schools social studies textbooks and curricula and how they handle contemporary issues of ethnicity diversity gender socio economic inequality and patriotism
By analyzing each country separately and comparatively it demonstrates how various groups including academics politicians and citizen activists have influenced education and how the process of writing and rewriting history perpetuates a nation
Drawing on empirical studies of the United States and France this volume provides insight into broader nationalist processes and instructive principles for similar countries in the modern world
History of Our Country Sonya Abbye Taylor, 2005 Nationalism in the English-Speaking World Rachel Hutchins-Viroux, Jeremy Tranmer, 2009-01-23 A great deal has been written in recent years about nationalism
Yet scholars remain sharply divided as to a coherent theoretical model of this phenomenon and many have called for further empirical research
This volume pursues this line of inquiry examining a variety of geographical contexts within the English speaking world including Australia Canada India the United Kingdom and the United States at different historical periods
These interdisciplinary studies combine elements of sociology political science history literature and cultural studies

Williams, 2017-02-08 How do schools protect young people and call on the youngest citizens to respond to violent conflict and division operating outside and sometimes within school walls
What kinds of curricular representations of conflict contribute to the construction of national identity and what kinds of encounters challenge presumed boundaries between us and them
Through contemporary and historical case studies drawn from Cambodia Egypt Northern Ireland Peru and Rwanda among others this collection explores how societies experiencing armed conflict and its aftermath imagine education as a space for forging collective identity peace and stability and national citizenship
In some contexts the erasure of conflict and the homogenization of difference are central to shaping national identities and attitudes
In other cases collective memory of conflict functions as a central organizing frame through which citizenship and national identity are re constructed with embedded messages about who belongs and how social belonging is achieved The essays in this volume illuminate varied and complex inter relationships between education conflict and national identity while accounting for ways in which policymakers teachers youth and community members replicate resist and transform conflict through everyday interactions in educational spaces [RETRACTED] Voices of Social Justice and Diversity in a Hawai'i Context ,2019-09-24
