Souls With Bodies:

Bodies and Souls, or Spirited Bodies? Nancey Murphy, 2006-01-12 Are humans composed of a body and a nonmaterial mind or soul or are we purely physical beings Opinion is sharply divided over this issue In this clear and concise book Nancey Murphy argues for a physicalist account but one that does not diminish traditional views of humans as rational moral and capable of relating to God This position is motivated not only by developments in science and philosophy but also by biblical studies and Christian theology The reader is invited to appreciate the ways in which organisms are more than the sum of their parts That higher human capacities such as morality free will and religious awareness emerge from our neurobiological complexity and develop through our relation to others to our cultural inheritance and most importantly to God Murphy addresses the questions of human uniqueness religious experience and personal identity before and after bodily resurrection

The Metaphysics of Sir William Hamilton Sir William Hamilton, 1879 The Collected Works Dionysius the Areopagite, 2022-01-04 Dionysius the Areopagite or Pseudo Dionysius the Areopagite remains one of the most enigmatic figures of the early Christianity He was a Greek author Christian theologian and Neoplatonic philosopher of the late 5th to early 6th century who wrote a set of works known as the Corpus Areopagiticum or Corpus Dionysiacum The author pseudonymously identifies himself in the corpus as Dionysios portraying himself as Dionysius the Areopagite the Athenian convert of Paul the Apostle mentioned in Acts 17:34 This attribution to the earliest decades of Christianity resulted in the work being given great authority in subsequent theological writing in both the East and the West The Dionysian writings and their mystical teaching were universally accepted throughout the East amongst both Chalcedonians and non Chalcedonians and also had a strong impact in later medieval western mysticism most notably Meister Eckhart Its influence decreased in the West with the fifteenth century demonstration of its later dating but in recent decades interest has increased again in the Corpus Areopagiticum

The Soul of Theological Anthropology Joshua R. Farris, 2016-11-25 Recent research in the philosophy of religion anthropology and philosophy of mind has prompted the need for a more integrated comprehensive and systematic theology of human nature This project constructively develops a theological accounting of human persons by drawing from a Cartesian as a term of art model of anthropology which is motivated by a long tradition As was common among patristics medievals and Reformed Scholastics Farris draws from philosophical resources to articulate Christian doctrine as he approaches theological anthropology Exploring a substance dualism model the author highlights relevant theological texts and passages of Scripture arguing that this model accounts for doctrinal essentials concerning theological anthropology While Farris is not explicitly interested in thorough critique of materialist ontology he notes some of the significant problems associated with it Rather the present project is an attempt to revitalize the resources found in
