The Language Of Allegory Defining The Genre:

The Language of Allegory Maureen Quilligan, 1992 The Language of Allegory examines a body of literature not often treated as a unified genre Reading a number of texts that are traditionally characterized as allegories and that cover a wide time span Maureen Quilligan identifies the distinctive generic elements they share Originally published in 1979 this highly regarded work by a well known feminist critic and theorist is now available in paperback back book cover Literatures of Exile in the English Revolution and its Aftermath, 1640-1690 Dr Philip Major, 2013-04-28 Original and thought provoking this collection sheds new light on an important yet understudied feature of seventeenth century England s political and cultural landscape exile Through an essentially literary lens exile is examined both as physical departure from England to France Germany the Low Countries and America and as inner mental withdrawal In the process a strikingly wide variety of contemporary sources comes under scrutiny including letters diaries plays treatises translations and poetry The extent to which the richness and disparateness of these modes of writing militates against or constructs a recognisable rhetoric of exile is one of the book s overriding themes Also under consideration is the degree to which exilic writing in this period is intended for public consumption a product of private reflection or characterised by a coalescence of the two Importantly this volume extends the chronological range of the English Revolution beyond 1660 by demonstrating that exile during the Restoration formed a meaningful continuum with displacement during the civil wars of the mid century This in depth and overdue study of prominent and hitherto obscure exiles conspicuously diverse in political and religious allegiance yet inextricably bound by the shared experience of displacement will be of interest to scholars in a range of disciplines

Encyclopedia of the British Novel Virginia Brackett, Victoria Gaydosik, 2015-04-22 Praise for the print edition comprehensive Recommended The Cartographic Imagination in Early Modern England D.K. Smith, 2016-04-01 Working from a cultural studies perspective author D K Smith here examines a broad range of medieval and Renaissance maps and literary texts to explore the effects of geography on Tudor Stuart cultural perceptions He argues that the literary representation of cartographically related material from the late fifteenth to the early seventeenth century demonstrates a new strain not just of geographical understanding but of cartographic manipulation which he terms the cartographic imagination Rather than considering the effects of maps themselves on early modern epistemologies Smith considers the effects of the activity of mapping the new techniques the new expectations of accuracy and precision which developed in the sixteenth century on the ways people thought and wrote Looking at works by Spenser Marlowe Raleigh and Marvell among other authors he analyzes how the growing ability to represent physical space accurately brought with it not just a wealth of new maps but a new array of rhetorical techniques metaphors and associations which allowed the manipulation of texts and ideas in ways never before possible A Journey to the High Places Christopher Felix Bezzina, 2012-12-24 Since his existence the human being has explored various ways in his quest for God Part of this search is related to humanity s yearning for true harmony and joy in the world Christian spirituality as a unique spirituality one encounters today imparts various ways one can respond to this longing One of these ways is through allegorical narratives Specifically this study analyzes the spirituality of Hannah Hurnard 1905 1990 by intertextually perusing her most famous allegorical narrative Hinds Feet on High Places A Journey to the High Places is divided into four chapters In chapter 1 the allegorical narrative is subjectively considered in all its aspects and the central themes are expressed without any reference to other secondary connections Chapter 2 analyzes the allegorical narrative by relating this narrative with other material that Hannah Hurnard published These other narratives provide the tools which Hannah employed in the composition of this allegorical narrative Thus chapter 2 presents an intertextual analysis between her other publications and Hinds Feet on High Places Likewise chapter 3 presents another intertextual analysis between the many biblical abstracts and their relation to the narrative in the hope of showing her biblical interpretations Several spiritual themes that emerged from the preceding chapters are discussed in chapter 4 presenting a consistent spirituality In presenting the themes one notes that the strong points and weaknesses of Hannah's spirituality are related to other Christian spiritual traditions In order to conduct a comprehensive study the introductory section of this study deals with the significance of allegory and spirituality

Narrative Factuality

Monika Fludernik, Marie-Laure Ryan, 2019-12-16 The study of narrative the object of the rapidly growing discipline of narratology has been traditionally concerned with the fictional narratives of literature such as novels or short stories But narrative is a transdisciplinary and transmedial concept whose manifestations encompass both the fictional and the factual In this volume which provides a companion piece to Tobias Klauk and Tilmann Kppe's Fiktionalit t Ein interdisziplin res Handbuch the use of narrative to convey true and reliable information is systematically explored across media cultures and disciplines as well as in its narratological stylistic philosophical and rhetorical dimensions At a time when the notion of truth has come under attack it is imperative to reaffirm the commitment to facts of certain types of narrative and to examine critically the foundations of this commitment But because it takes a background for a figure to emerge clearly this book will also explore nonfactual types of narratives thereby providing insights into the nature of narrative fiction that could not be reached from the narrowly literary perspective of early narratology

The Reception of Northrop Frye, 2021-08-31

The widespread opinion is that Northrop Frye's influence reached its zenith in the 1960s and 1970s after which point he became obsolete his work buried in obscurity This almost universal opinion is summed up in Terry Eagleton's 1983 rhetorical question Who now reads Frye In The Reception of Northrop Frye Robert D Denham catalogues what has been written about Frye books articles translations dissertations and theses and reviews in order to demonstrate that the attention Frye's work has received from the beginning has progressed at a geomantic rate Denham also explores what we can discover once we have a fairly complete record of Frye's reception in front of us such as Hayden White's theory of emplotments applied to historical writing and Byron Almén's theory of musical narrative The sheer quantity of what has been written about Frye reveals that the only valid response to Eagleton's rhetorical question is a very large and growing number the growth being not incremental but exponential Allegorical Form and Theory in Hildegard of Bingen's Books of Visions Dinah Wouters, 2022-12-05 This book analyses how the three books of visions by Hildegard of Bingen use the allegorical vision as a form of knowledge It describes how the visionary's use of allegory and allegorical exegesis is linked to theories of cognition interpretation and prophecy It argues that the form of the allegorical vision is not just the product of a medieval symbolic mentality but specific to Hildegard's position and the major transformations taking place in the prescholastic intellectual milieu such as the changing use of Scripture or the shift from traditional hermeneutics to cognitive language philosophy The book shows that Hildegard uses traditional forms of knowledge prophecy the vision monastic theology allegorical hermeneutics in startlingly innovative ways by combining them and by revising them for her own time Dialectical Passions Gail Day, 2010-12-05 Exploring core debates in discourses on art from the New Left to theories of critical postmodernism and beyond Day counters the belief that recent tendencies in art fail to be adequately critical and challenges the political inertia that results from these conclusions Thomas Pynchon Harold Bloom, 2003 A collection of critical essays on Thomas Pynchon's work
