Sociological Abstracts Leo P. Chall, 1978 Stabilization and Structural Adjustment Finn Tarp, 2002-09-11 This book reveals and examines the relevance of the macroeconomic theory and models behind recommendations for stabilization and structural adjustment Alternative analytical approaches are discussed This is done on the basis of an up to date review of developments in sub saharan Africa during the 1980 s and within a common analytical framework Negotiating Structural Adjustment in Africa Hilary Hodgson, United Nations Development Programme, 1994 Essential reading for those involved in implementing adjustment programmes the findings of this UNDP commissioned research set out to analyse experiences and provide a set of development objectives Insufficient attention has been paid in the programmes to the links between macroeconomic policy changes and microeconomic behaviour which has had a negative impact on investment and activity BR In association with UNDP FSG and QEH Adjustment in Africa Ishrat Husain, Rashid Faruquee, 1994 This collection of case studies focuses on the processes and outcomes of reform programs in seven African countries Cote d'Ivoire Ghana Kenya Nigeria Senegal and Tanzania chosen for the wide variety of conditions present before their individual adjustment programs began The World Bank's recent policy research report Adjustment in Africa Reforms Results and the Road Ahead concludes that the adjustment programs launched in 29 countries in the mid 1980 s have resulted in some improvement in the overall policy environment These improvements have been strongest in the macroeconomic and agricultural spheres and weakest in the areas of finance and public enterprise The study also finds that reform programs work in the countries where policy performance has been good conversely poor policy progress has been reflected in poor performance This volume presents case studies of seven country experiences to supplement and reinforce findings from the Policy Research Report The studies confirm that whenever adjustment programs are vigorously pursued results are strongly positive from the viewpoints of growth and alleviation of poverty A key element in ensuring a successful adjustment program is strong motivation and commitment by the leadership in each nation Too many abrupt unpredictable and frequent changes and reversals of policies erode the credibility of the programs intensify the uncertainties and slow down investor confidence In short the success of reforms hinges on policy stability continuity and predictability Constraints on the Success of Structural Adjustment Programmes in Africa Charles Harvey, 2016-07-27 This book reports why orthodox structural adjustment measures do not have the expected results in Africa Orthodox measures may be necessary but are frequently not sufficient because of structural factors some peculiar to individual countries some found more widely Six chapters report on extensive fieldwork in Kenya Tanzania Zambia and Zimbabwe three chapters compare countries in Africa recovery from disaster labour markets new financial markets and one makes comparisons with Asia and Latin America of employment policies Adjustment in Africa, 1994 Structural Adjustment Reconsidered David E. Sahn, Paul A. Dorosh, Stephen D. Younger, 1999-08-13 In this 1998 study the authors isolate the effect of specific policy measures associated with adjustment programs in ten African countries Policy Adjustment in Africa Chris Milner, A.J. Rayner, 1992-06-18 The volume provides a range of case studies and both complements and advances core texts on economic development The topics addressed cover a range of issues around the theme of policy adjustment Structural Adjustment in Africa Bonnie Campbell, John Loxley, 1989-11-24 Providing overviews of states and sectors classes and companies in the new international division of labour this series treats polity economy dialectics at global regional and national levels This volume in the series looks at the complexities of structural adjustment in Africa Small Enterprises Adjusting to Liberalization in Five African Countries Ronald L. Parker, Randall Riopelle, William F. Steel, 1995 World Bank Discussion Paper No 271 This study incorporates data from comparable surveys across five African countries Ghana Malawi Mali Senegal and Tanzania to analyze how small and micro enterprises have been positively and negatively affected by policy liberalization schemes Some grow rapidly by adapting their products while others stagnate because of import competition and increased self employment Comparisons were made between small firms with 6 to 49 workers and microenterprises with fewer than 6 The study suggests a two pronged strategy 1 to facilitate widespread participation in microenterprises broad measures are needed to lower the costs of entry generate demand for their goods and services raise the educational level and incomes of the poor and encourage informal financial institutions 2 to stimulate growth of potentially dynamic enterprises well targeted measures may be appropriate to lower the costs of entry increase access to credit and provide demand driven business services Also available in French ISBN 0 8213 3907 0 Stock No 13907 Adjusting to Policy Failure in African Economies David E. Sahn, 1994 In this timely volume sixteen specialists examine the external and domestic factors that precipitated Africa's economic crisis and the nature and consequences of the process of reform designed to restore macroeconomic stability and accelerate the rate of economic growth The authors explore the efforts of ten diverse countries in sub Saharan Africa to rectify economic distortions of the past and weaknesses in institutional structures Their case studies include Ghana Guinea Zaire Cameroon Niger Malawi Mozambique Tanzania Gambia and Madagascar Through Structural Adjustment to Transformation in Sub-Saharan Africa Hasa Mfaume Mlawla, Reginald Herbold Green, 1998 As a contribution to the structural adjustment debate this study sets out a series of important factual judgemental normative and contextual issues relevant for understanding and explaining past performance and experience of Structural Adjustment in Africa It is a product of ten studies from the Institute of Development Studies in which thirteen sub Saharan countries participated The contributors review the experience of a number of sub Saharan African countries in designing and executing stabilization and adjustment programmes during the 1970s and 1980s The eight parts include the macro framework sectoral issues politics and governance the World Bank experience the way forward and country reports Microeconomies and Structural Adjustment in Africa ,1998

Negotiating Structural Adjustment in Africa Hilary Hodgson,1994 There is clear need to formulate alternative approaches to the present structural adjustment programs in Africa These programs have not ventured beyond economic stabilization sanitization of public finances and an ideological reorientation toward minimal government Insufficient attention to the links between macroeconomic policy changes and microeconomic behavior has negatively affected investment and activity The UNDP commissioned the Food Studies Group at the University of Oxford to analyze recent experiences and to provide an appropriate set of development objectives Their findings provide essential reading for all those involved in preparing negotiating and implementing adjustment programs Structural Adjustment in Sub-Saharan Africa Robert Lensink,1996 Offers an overview of the debate on adjustment programmes financed by the World Bank and the IMF in Africa during the 1980s Compares Africa with several other developing regions Describes the structure of the World Bank and the IMF and their credit facilities for financing adjustments A Future for Africa Bade Onimode,1992 Africa's societies and their economies are in crisis with mounting external debts and falling incomes leading to collapsing infrastructure more widespread disease illiteracy malnourishment and social conflict The text argues that the problems are not insuperable but that whereas their causes are largely external the only long term solutions rest in African hands The author shows that the adjustment programmes imposed by the World Bank and the IMF on many African countries have compounded the disastrous impact that foreign debt trade restrictions and falling export prices have had With the threats of proposed changes in the structure of world trade they amount to the virtual recolonization of much of the continent and offer its people little hope To the contrary real development will only be achieved through long term strategies appropriate to African circumstances which return control of its abundant resources to Africans themselves and which ensure greater democracy and accountability in African political structures The author is a member of the Economic Commission for Africa and Chair of the Institute for African Affairs
