Accommodating Muslims under Common Law Salim Farrar,Ghena Krayem,2016-07-15 The book explores the relationship between Muslims the Common Law and Shar ah post 9 11 The book looks at the accommodation of Shar ah Law within Western Common Law legal traditions and the role of the judiciary in particular in drawing boundaries for secular democratic states with Muslim populations who want resolutions to conflicts that also comply with the dictates of their faith Salim Farrar and Ghena Krayem consider the question of recognition of Shar ah by looking at how the flexibilities that exists in both the Common Law and Shar ah provide unexplored avenues for navigation and accommodation The issue is explored in a comparative context across several jurisdictions and case law is examined in the contexts of family law business and crime from selected jurisdictions with significant Muslim minority populations including Australia Canada England and Wales and the United States The book examines how Muslims and the broader community have framed their claims for recognition against a backdrop of terrorism fears and how Common Law judiciaries have responded within their constitutional and statutory confines and also within the contemporary contexts of demands for equality neutrality and universal human rights Acknowledging the inherent pragmatism flexibility and values of the Common Law the authors argue that the controversial issue of accommodation of Shar ah is not necessarily one that requires the establishment of a separate and parallel legal system Tolerance and Coercion in Islam Yohanan Friedmann,2003-06-30 Since the beginning of its history Islam has encountered other religious communities both in Arabia and in the territories conquered during its expansion Muslims faced other religions from the position of a ruling power and were therefore able to determine the nature of that relationship in accordance with their world view and beliefs Yohanan Friedmann s original and erudite study examines questions of religious tolerance as they appear in the Qur an and in the prophetic tradition and analyses the principle that Islam is exalted above all religions discussing the ways in which this principle was reflected in various legal pronouncements The book also considers the various interpretations of the Qur anic verse according to which No compulsion is there in religion noting that despite the apparent meaning of this verse Islamic law allowed the practice of religious coercion against Manichaeans and Arab idolaters as well as against women and children in certain circumstances *Annual Report on International Religious Freedom 2005, April 2006, 109-2 Joint Committee Print, ,2006 Dynamism in the Urban Society of Damascus Toru Miura,2015-11-16 This book presents a new perspective on Islamic urban society a dynamism of social networking and justice which caused both rapid development and sudden decay in the li iyya quarter Founded in the northern suburbs of Damascus by Hanbali ulama who migrated from Palestine to Syria in the mid 12th century the quarter developed into a city through waqf endowments It has attracted the attention of historians and travelers for its unique location popular movements and religious features Through the study of local chronicles topographies and archival sources and through modern field research Toru Miura explores the history of the li iyya quarter from its foundation to the early 20th century comparing it to European Chinese and Japanese cities Muslim Perceptions of Other Religions Jacques Waardenburg,1999-08-19 Since its inception Islam and its civilization have been in continuous relationships with other religions cultures and civilizations including not only different forms of Christianity and Judaism inside and outside the Middle East Zoroastrianism and Manicheism Hinduism and even Buddhism but also tribal religions in West and East Africa in South Russia and in Central Asia including Tibet The essays collected here examine the many texts that have come down to us about these cultures and their religions from Muslim theologians and jurists travelers and historians and men of letters and of culture Annual Report, International Religious Freedom United States. Department of State,2008 Civil society in the Middle East. 2 (2001) Augustus Richard Norton,2001 Leading scholars assembled by the Civil Society in the Middle East program provide lucid informed essays on the quality of political life weighing the role of civil society and assessing the prospects for political reform in the Middle East Islamic Law and Society Emine Enise Yakar,2021-09-30 This book places context at the core of the Islamic mechanism of ift to better understand the process of issuing fatw s in Muslim and non Muslim countries thus highlighting the connection between context and contemporaneity on one hand and the adaptable perception of Islamic law on the other. The practice of ift is one of the most important mechanisms of Islamic law that keeps Islamic thought about ethical and legal issues in harmony with the demands, exigencies and developments of time. This book builds upon the existing body of work related to the practice of ift but takes the discussion beyond the current debates with the intent of unveiling the interaction between Islamic legal methodologies and different environmental contexts. The book specifically addresses the three institutions: Saudi Arabia's Dar al Ift, Turkey's Diyanet and America's FCNA and their Islamic legal opinions (*fatw*s) in a comparative framework. This demonstrates the existence of complex and diverse ideas around similar issues within contemporary Islamic legal opinions that is further complicated by the influence of international social, political, cultural and ideological contexts. The book thus unveils a more complicated range of interactive constituents in the process of the practice of ift and its outputs (*fatw*s). The work will be of interest to academics and researchers working in the areas of Islamic law, Middle Eastern studies, religion and politics.

Civil Society in the Middle East, Volume 2 Norton, 2021-11-15. Civil Society in the Middle East is a project of the Department of Politics and the Koverkian Center for Near Eastern Studies, New York University. Project director is Augustus Richard Norton, Boston University. While there is wide disagreement about the outcome among those who follow events in the Middle East, there is little doubt that the regimes in the region are under increasing pressure from their citizens. In rich and poor states alike, incipient movements of men and women are demanding a voice in politics. Recent political developments in Jordan, Yemen, Lebanon, even the future state of Palestine, clearly show the vitality and dynamism of civil society: the melange of associations, clubs, guilds, syndicates, federations, unions, parties and groups which provide a buffer between state and citizen and which are now so clearly at the forefront of political liberalization in the region. Civil Society in the Middle East, a two-volume set of papers providing an unusually detailed and rich assessment of contemporary politics within the Middle East and in this sense alone quite literally peerless, is the result of a project of the Department of Politics and the Kevorkian Center for Near Eastern Studies at New York University. Volume I contains contributions by Augustus Richard Norton, Raymond A. Hinnebusch, Laurie Brand, Muhammad Muslih, Mustafa Kamil al Sayyid, Ghanim al Najjar and Neil Hicks. Eva Bellin, Jill Crystal, Saad al Din Ibrahim and Alan Richards.
