Social Disintegration and Popular Resistance in the Ottoman Empire, 1881-1908 Donald Quataert, 1983      Social Disintegration and popular resistance in the Ottoman Empire 1881-1908 Donald Quataert, 1983      Many Ways of Speaking about the Self Ralf Elger, Yavuz Köse, 2010 Contributions originally presented at a conference held in Munich in 2007      The Oxford Handbook of Global Realisms Vaysman, 2025-11-04 Realism is an artistic practice that aims to faithfully represent reality. Historically it has been practiced across different media from early pictorial art and epic oral narratives through literature and visual arts to film music and digital media. However an understanding of what it means to faithfully represent reality is not universal rather it varies from culture to culture. The Oxford Handbook of Global Realisms approaches realism as a transnational transhistorical and intermedial global phenomenon. It brings the diversity of global realisms to the fore showcasing previously underrepresented and marginalized theories practices forms and media of realist cultural production      The Urban Social History of the Middle East, 1750-1950 Peter Sluglett, 2008-12-08 The great cities of the Middle East and North Africa have long attracted the attention and interest of historians. With the discovery and wider use over the last few decades of Islamic court records and Ottoman administrative documents our knowledge of Middle Eastern cities between the seventeenth and early twentieth centuries has vastly expanded. Drawing upon a treasure trove of documents and using a variety of methodologies the contributors succeed in providing a significant overview of the ways in which Middle Eastern cities can be studied as well as an excellent introduction to current literature in the field      Collective Trauma and the Armenian Genocide Pamela Steiner, 2021-02-25 In this pathbreaking study Pamela Steiner deconstructs the psychological obstacles that have prevented peaceful settlements to longstanding issues. The book re-examines more than 100 years of destructive ethno-religious relations among Armenians Turks and Azerbaijanis through the novel lens of collective trauma. The author argues that a focus on embedded transgenerational collective trauma is essential to achieving more trusting productive and stable relationships in this and similar contexts. The book takes a deep dive into history analysing the traumatic events examining and positing how they motivated the actions of key players both victims and perpetrators and revealing how profoundly these traumas continue to manifest today among the three peoples stymying healing and inhibiting achievement of a basis for positive change. The author then proposes a bold new approach to conflict resolution as a complement to other perspectives such as power based analyses and international human rights. Addressing the psychological core of the conflict the author argues that a focus on embedded collective trauma is essential in this and similar arenas      Printing Class R. Michael Bracy, 2010-12-16 Printing Class explores the manners and challenges in which alternating constructions of national identity were articulated in the writings of Isa al-Isa and his newspaper Filastin. The analysis illuminates an expression of national identity in Palestine in which Isa struggled to combine multiple political realities that constituted Palestinian society as well as social class and ideological prejudices of contributing journalists. After its initial publication in February 1911 Filastin quickly became the largest circulated newspaper in Palestine and remained under the singular guidance of its founder and editor Isa al Isa of Jaffa thereby allowing a unique look into an active and dynamic articulation of national identity from a newly forming middle class in Palestine that was meant for widespread dissemination among the Arab population The time period under consideration will be limited to Isa s work between 1911 and 1931 as this time marked a complex interaction of Ottoman Zionist Arabist and Mandatory influences that challenged the formation of national identity Filastin is often cited in the examination of various aspects of Palestine nationalism however it has not been systematically treated as a single text until now Sovereign Debt and International Financial Control Ali

Co?kun Tunçer,2015-08-26 This book revisits an important chapter of financial history in the Middle East and the Balkans from 1870 1914 During this period capital flows in the form of sovereign debt increased rapidly throughout the region The spiral of heavy government borrowing eventually culminated in defaults on foreign obligations in the Ottoman Empire 1875 Egypt 1876 Greece 1893 and Serbia 1895 In all four cases introducing international financial control over the finances of the debtor states became the prevalent form of dealing with defaults The different cases of international financial control became increasingly refined and they marked important milestones in the evolution of the global governance of sovereign debt before 1914 For the defaulting states however the immediate impact of international financial control was infringement of sovereignty The extent of international financial control and the borrowing capacity of debtor states varied in each case as well as the degree of resistance towards it This book documents the characteristics of international financial control in a comparative perspective It relates sovereign debt default and international financial control to political and fiscal systems and raises questions about the tension between national sovereignty and global capital It sheds light on the impact of international financial control on the long term credibility and fiscal capacity of the debtor states in question The author demonstrates that the governments decisions to borrow internationally and their attitudes towards international financial control were heavily influenced by domestic political and fiscal factors Bibliography of European Economic and

Rise of the Bourgeoisie, Demise of Empire Fatma Müge Göçek, 1996 Examining the process of Westernization and social change during the 18th and 19th centuries in the Ottoman Empire this study uses archival documents and historical chronicles to argue that social change precedes and contributes to the process of Westernization

How to Make a Wetland Caterina Scaramelli, 2021-03-16 How to Make A Wetland tells the story of two Turkish coastal areas both shaped by ecological change and political uncertainty On the Black Sea coast and the shores of the Aegean farmers scientists fishermen and families grapple with livelihoods in transition as their environment is bound up in national and international conservation projects Bridges and drainage canals apartment buildings and highways as well as the birds water buffalo and various animals of the regions all inform a moral ecology in the making Drawing on six years of fieldwork in wetlands and deltas Caterina Scaramelli offers an anthropological understanding of sweeping environmental and infrastructural change and the moral claims made on livability and materiality in Turkey and beyond Beginning from a moral ecological position she takes into account the notion that politics is not simply projected onto animals plants soil water sediments rocks and other non human beings and materials Rather people make politics through them With this book she highlights the aspirations moral relations and care practices in constant play in contestations and alliances over environmental change

Before the Nation Nicholas Doumanis, 2013 Before the Nation argues that there is more than a grain of truth to nostalgic traditions following genocide It points to the fact that intercommunalism a mode of everyday living based on the accommodation of cultural difference was a normal and stabilizing feature of multi ethnic societies

Turkey Before and After Atatürk Sylvia Kedourie, 2012-10-12 Turkey s modern history has been unstable and contradictory National identity continues to be an issue as Turks are faced with joining the West and preserving their own culture The emergence of Islamicism contributes to the question of how safe the secular constitutional democracy is Turkey Erik J.

Zürcher,2017-12-21 This revised edition builds upon and updates its twin themes of Turkey s continuing incorporation into the capitalist world and the modernization of state and society It begins with the forging of closer links with Europe after the French Revolution and the changing face of the Ottoman Empire in the 19th century Zürcher argues that Turkey s history between 1908 and 1950 should be seen as a unity and offers a strongly revisionist interpretation of Turkey s founding father Kemal Atatürk In his account of the period since 1950 Zürcher focuses on the growth of mass politics the three military coups the thorny issue of Turkey s human rights record the alliance with the West and relations with the European Community Turkey s ambivalent relations with the Middle East the increasingly explosive Kurdish question and the continuing political instability and growth of Islam The Power of the People Murat Metinsoy,2021-11-11 A fresh interpretation of the foundation of modern Turkey demonstrating the crucial role of ordinary people under Atatürk in the 1920s and 30s Collective and State Violence in Turkey Stephan Astourian,Raymond Kévorkian,2020-11-01 Turkey has gone through significant transformations over the last century from the Ottoman Empire and Young Turk era to the Republic of today but throughout it has demonstrated troubling continuities in its encouragement and deployment of mass violence In particular the construction of a Muslim Turkish identity has been achieved in part by designating internal enemies at whom public hatred can be directed This volume provides a wide range of case studies and historiographical reflections on the alarming recurrence of such violence in Turkish history as atrocities against varied ethnic religious groups from the nineteenth century to today have propelled the nation s very sense of itself
