Essays Presented to Raymond Firth. Edited by Maurice Freedman. [With a Portrait.].* Raymond Firth, 1967 Essays on

Social Organisation and Values Raymond Firth, 2021-03-24 In this volume Professor Firth has brought together and commented upon a number of his papers on anthropological subjects published over the last thirty years All these essays relate in different ways to his continuing interest in the study of social process especially in the significance within a social context of individual choice and decision Although some specialist studies are included e g the group of papers dealing with the Polynesian island of Tikopia the main themes of the book are broad ones and there are important general essays on such topics as social change social structure and organization modern society in relation to scientific and technological progress and the study of values mysticism and religion by anthropologists There is also a hitherto unpublished chapter on anthropology as a developing science Just Talk Karen J. Brison, 1992-09-18 A very carefully thought out and also a very innovative piece of work the book will have an appreciative readership among Melanesian specialists students of political anthropology and sociolinguists Andrew Strathern University of Pittsburgh Colonial Subjects Peter Pels, Oscar

Salemink, 2000 Probes the relationship between the conditions of colonial modernization and the methods of anthropological knowledge Encyclopedia of Anthropology H. James Birx, 2006 Focuses on physical social and applied anthropology archaeology linguistics and symbolic communication Topics include hominid evolution primate behaviour genetics ancient civilizations cross cultural studies and social theories The Anthropology of Art Howard Morphy, Morgan

Perkins, 2009-02-04 This anthology provides a single volume overview of the essential theoretical debates in the anthropology of art Drawing together significant work in the field from the second half of the twentieth century it enables readers to appreciate the art of different cultures at different times Advances a cross cultural concept of art that moves beyond traditional distinctions between Western and non Western art Provides the basis for the appreciation of art of different cultures and times Enhances readers appreciation of the aesthetics of art and of the important role it plays in human society

Filiation And Affiliation Harold W Scheffler, 2018-02-23 Announcements in the 1970s and 1980s of the death of kinship and descent as subjects of anthropological study were highly premature These subjects continue routinely to be encountered in the course of empirical ethnographic research and to be reported upon in ethnographies or they are ignored at the peril of ethnographers pathetically unprepared to deal with them Moreover considerable evidence has accumulated that systems of social relations built on relations of genealogical connection exhibit a remarkable degree of orderliness about which it is possible already to make a number of substantial empirical generalizations especially about the qualities of social relations within and between groups As the masters of the subject always stressed kinship and political and rural organization are closely interdependent structures In this wide ranging theoretical and comparative ethnographic study Harold Scheffler demonstrates that there is a simple reason why detection of this order has been too long delayed and has given rise to more destructive than to constructive debate in social anthropology

A Return to the Object Susanne Kuchler, Timothy Carroll, 2020-11-26 This book draws on the work of anthropologist Alfred Gell to reinstate the importance of the object in art and society Rather than presenting art as a passive recipient of the artist's intention and the audience's critique the authors consider it in the social environment of its production and reception A Return to the Object introduces the historical and theoretical framework out of which an anthropology of art has emerged and examines the conditions under which it has renewed interest It also explores what art does as a social and cultural phenomenon and how it can impact alternative ways of organising and managing knowledge Making use of ethnography museological practice the intellectual history of the arts and sciences material culture studies and intangible heritage the authors present a case for the re-orientation of current conversations surrounding the anthropology of art and social theory This text will be of key interest to students and scholars in the social and historical sciences arts and humanities and cognitive sciences

Power, Protest and Participation Subrata K. Mitra, 2021-09-05 This book first published in 1992 examines the attitudes of local elites the hinge between Indian state and rural society towards protest and participation in development illuminating arguments about the nature of the state as well as the development process It looks at the role of local elites in India both as the representatives of the state and of the rest of rural society and explains their importance in the country's development The book deals with the elites' contribution to the credibility of the state and examines the strategies through which they manipulate the allocation of resources and influence the pace and direction of social change It contrasts the rural elites in two areas one more economically advanced than the other The elites in the first area were shown to be capable of combining institutional participation with radical protest whilst in the other they tended to rely on state channels to achieve reform The author concludes that despite the different settings both groups were informed active and responsive to political conditions This contrasts with the conventional view that local elites of the dominant castes oppress the lower ones by obstructing reforms for reasons of self interest
