Social Psychology Of Developing Adults:

A Social Psychology of Developing Adults Thomas O. Blank, 1982 A Social Psychology of Developing Adults Thomas O. Blank, 1982 Historical Social Psychology (Psychology Revivals) Kenneth Gergen, Mary Gergen, 2014-01-27 The vast majority of research in social psychology focuses on momentary events an attitude is changed dissonance is reduced a cognition is primed and so on Little attention is paid to the unfolding of events over time to social life as an ongoing process in which events are related in various ways as life unfolds Originally published in 1984 Historical Social Psychology opens a space for theory and research in which temporal process is central Contributors to this broad ranging work provide a rich range of perspectives from the theoretical to the methodological from micro sequences to the life span and from contemporary history to the long dur e Together these authors set the stage for a major shift in the focus of social psychological inquiry The Oxford Handbook of Reciprocal Adult Development and Learning Carol Hoare, 2011-09-06 This second edition of The Oxford Handbook of Reciprocal Adult Development and Learning explores how advances in one dimension so often lead to positive changes in the other This is new terrain in psychology and learning Implications for research practice and policy emanate from review of empirical literature and theoretical perspectives The Social Psychology of Aging Scott F. Madey, 2018-12-07 This special issue highlights how social psychology can further the understanding of important social health interpersonal and intergenerational issues facing people as they age This issue has three goals to generate more interest in aging as an area of study for social psychologists by showcasing researchers who are currently integrating basic social psychological research with issues in aging and lifespan development to challenge readers to think about how their research programs can interconnect with issues in aging and to demonstrate how social psychological processes have direct application to many of the issues facing people as they age Handbook of Adult Development and Learning Carol Hoare, 2006 Adult development and learning have always existed as two separate fields of study with development falling under psychology and learning under education Recent advances in theory research and practice however have made it clear that an important reciprocal relationship exists between them advances in development frequently lead to learning and conversely learning quite often fuels development The synchronicity between development and learning is responsible for positive changes in many capacities including insight intelligence reflective and meta cognition personality expression interpersonal competence and self efficacy This synchronicity is also leading to the growth of a new discipline at the borders of adult development and learning The Handbook of Adult Development and Learning is the first to bring together the leading scholars from both adult development and learning to explore what will form the foundation for this new discipline the latest research at the intersection of these fields It examines six major aspects of their intersection foundations key areas of integration the self system higher reaches of development and learning essential contexts and specific applications An introductory chapter explains why it is so important to recognize and fuel the growth of this new discipline Subsequent chapters review the latest theoretical and empirical literature and provide a rich itinerary for future research This handbook is a must read for all who promote optimal aging It will be an invaluable reference for scholars in development and education as well as rich resource for policy makers and practitioners such as corporate executives and human resource personnel Life-span Perspectives and Social Psychology R. The Oxford Handbook of Identity Development

Kate C. McLean, Moin U. Syed, 2015 Identity is defined in many different ways in various disciplines in the social sciences and sub-disciplines within psychology. The developmental psychological approach to identity is characterized by a focus on developing a sense of the self that is temporally continuous and unified across the different life spaces that individuals inhabit. Erikson proposed that the task of adolescence and young adulthood was to define the self by answering the question 'Who Am I?'. There have been many advances in theory and research on identity development since Erikson's writing over fifty years ago and the time has come to consolidate our knowledge and set an agenda for future research. The Oxford Handbook of Identity Development represents a turning point in the field of identity development research. Various and disparate groups of researchers are brought together to debate, extend and apply Erikson's theory to contemporary problems and empirical issues. The result is a comprehensive and state-of-the-art examination of identity development that pushes the field in provocative new directions. Scholars of identity development, adolescent and adult development and related fields as well as graduate students, advanced undergraduates and practitioners will find this to be an innovative, unique and exciting look at identity development.

The Handbook of Social Psychology

Gardner Lindzey, 1998 This handbook for social psychologists has been updated to reflect changes in the field since its original publication. New topics include emotions, self and automaticity and it is structured to show the levels of analysis used by psychologists.

Adult Educational Psychology

, 2008-01-01 Adult Educational Psychology is useful for those encountering psychology as a subject in adult education courses as well as those with an interest in the psychology of adult development. It is directly relevant for teachers in higher education, instructors in technical and further education, staff development and human resource practitioners as well as community educators. It provides the first major text of its type offering a wide-ranging and comprehensive introduction to educational psychology from an adult perspective. It covers fundamental topics such as human development, social psychology, social learning, emotion, motivation, interest, intelligence, cognition, retention and learning. Applied chapters focus on skill development, psychological testing and human judgement. Fifteen contributors introduce the reader to recent advances in psychology with an emphasis on learning and adjustment in adulthood. Each chapter concludes with major references, questions for review and exercises.
