Domination and Power Peter Miller, 2019-11-21 First published in 1987 Our understanding of the nature of power in western societies is currently undergoing a major reassessment The significance of this reassessment emerges forcefully through comparing the writings of the principal exponents of Critical Theory Max Horkheimer Herbert Marcuse and Jürgen Habermas with those of Michel Foucault Peter Miller suggests that these two traditions embody fundamentally distinct philosophical and sociological principles He grounds his analysis in the concepts of domination Critical Theory and power Foucault Miller identifies the notion of subjectivity as central to a differentiation of the respective approaches of Critical Theory and Foucault For Critical Theory it is the repression of subjectivity which provides the evidence of domination and the rationale for its critique while for Foucault subjectivity in western societies is fabricated through power and linked to the deployment of specific knowledges Miller shows that despite the achievements of Critical Theory in bringing to light the repressive nature of advanced industrial societies its thinking is inadequate as a basis for future analysis and critique He argues that Foucault s genealogy of the modern subject which highlights the role of the human sciences in its fabrication is a more fruitful basis for charting and investigating the mode of operation of contemporary forms of power The book includes a survey of all published works by Foucault up to the time of his death in 1984 and commentaries on the writings of Max Horkheimer Herbert Marcuse and J rgen Habermas
