Social Power and the Turkish State Tim Jacoby, 2004-08-02 This book focuses on the historical sociology of the Turkish state seeking to compare the development of the Ottoman Turkish state with similar processes of large scale historical change in Europe identified by Michael Mann in The Sources of Social Power Jacoby traces the contours of Turkey's modernisation with the intention of formulating a fresh way to approach state development in countries on the global economic periphery particularly those attempting to effect closer ties with northern markets It also highlights matters of social change pertinent to states grappling with issues relating to political Islam minority identity and irredentist dissent

A History of Social Justice and Political Power in the Middle East Linda T. Darling, 2013-05-02 From ancient Mesopotamia into the 20th century the Circle of Justice as a concept has pervaded Middle Eastern political thought and underpinned the exercise of power in the Middle East The Circle of Justice depicts graphically how a government's justice toward the population generates political power military strength prosperity and good administration This book traces this set of relationships from its earliest appearance in the political writings of the Sumerians through four millennia of Middle Eastern culture It explores how people conceptualized and acted upon this powerful insight how they portrayed it in symbol painting and story and how they transmitted it from one regime to the next Moving towards the modern day the author shows how although the Circle of Justice was largely dropped from political discourse it did not disappear from people's political culture and expectations of government The book demonstrates the Circle's relevance to the Iranian Revolution and the rise of Islamist movements all over the Middle East and suggests how the concept remains relevant in an age of capitalism A must read for students policymakers and ordinary citizens this book will be an important contribution to the areas of political history political theory Middle East studies and Orientalism
