Socialist Entrepreneurs Iván Szelényi, 1988 Studies the lives of people who combine wage labour for the government with part time family agricultural production Entrepreneurship and Small Business Development in Post-Socialist Economies David Smallbone, Friederike Welter, 2008-07-25 This book examines entrepreneurship and small business in Russia and key countries of Eastern Europe showing how far small businesses have developed and discusses how far market reforms and a market mentality have been taken up by ordinary people in the real everyday economy For each of the countries examined Russia Ukraine Belarus Poland The American Bibliography of Slavic and East European Studies Patt Leonard, Rebecca Routh, 2020-02-27 This bibliography first published in 1957 provides citations to North American academic literature on Europe Central Europe the Balkans the Baltic States and the former Soviet Union Organised by discipline it covers the arts humanities social sciences life sciences and technology Trust, Property and Social Change in a Southern Slovakian Village Davide Torsello, 2003 Slovakia is a young and little studied country of the former socialist bloc As in all post socialist Eurasia continuing transformations of everyday practices are still inadequately understood This study combines anthropological and historical methods to search for alternative ways of reading post socialism in the rural community More specifically it applies the notions of trust and property to map the outcomes of over a hundred years of turbulent social change but not in the way that mainstream economists and political scientists have used these concepts Trust and property acquire analytic significance only when contextualised into the practices and ideologies of the actors This allows the observer to grasp the nuances of apparently ambivalent behaviour and uttered mistrust in other villagers and local institutions Ambiguity veils subtle strategies for keeping up with the instability of the times and obtaining the best one can from the present By providing a theoretically grounded ethnographical account of historical transformation the book makes an original anthropological contribution to the classic theme of social change in rural societies while at the same time engaging constructively with other social science approaches to postsocialism Myth of the Social Volcano Martin Whyte, 2010-02-24 This book reports the results of the first systematic nationwide survey in China of the attitudes that ordinary Chinese citizens have toward increased inequalities generated by the market reform program launched in 1978 Russian Modernisation Markku Kivinen, Terry Cox, 2018-02-02 Russia's post Soviet modernisation is complex and subject to changing interpretations among Russian political leaders and observers of Russia This has created serious problems for understanding Russia and the changes it is currently undergoing With this in mind a new Finnish Centre of Excellence was established in 2012 at the Aleksanteri Institute of the University of Helsinki under the title Choices of Russian Modernisation This collection of essays represents some of the first examples of the Centre's research Reflecting the broad range of issues explored in the work of the Centre it covers questions of Russia's historical legacy technological development energy economy political regime political opposition social development religious life and external relations The authors are all members of or affiliated to the Centre of Excellence This book was originally published as a special issue of Europe Asia Studies

Women Traders in Cross-Cultural Perspective Linda J. Seligmann, 2002-03-01 This innovative volume studies women as economic political and cultural mediators of space gender value and language in informal markets Drawing on diverse methodologies multisited fieldwork linguistic analysis and archival research the contributors demonstrate how women move between and knit together household and marketplace activities This knitting together pivots on how household practices and economies are translated and transferred to the market as well as how market practices and economic principles become integral to the nature and construction of the household Exploring the cultural identities and economic practices of women traders in ten diverse locales Bolivia Ghana Hungary India Indonesia Mexico Morocco Nicaragua Peru and the Philippines the authors pay special attention to the effects of global forces national economic policies and nongovernmental organizations on women's participation in the market and the domestic sector The authors also consider the impact that women's economic and political activities in social movements public protests and more hidden kinds of subversive behavior have on state policy on the attitudes of different sectors of society toward female traders and on the dynamics of the market itself A final theme focuses on the cultural dimension of mediation Many women traders straddle cultural spheres and move back and forth between them Does this affect their participation in the market and their identities How do ties of ethnicity or acts of reciprocity affect the nature of commodity exchanges Do they create exchanges that are neither purely commodified nor wholly without calculation Or is it more often the case that ethnic commonalities and reciprocity merely mask the commodification of social and economic exchanges Does this straddling lead to the emergence of new kinds of hybrid identities and practices In considering these questions the authors specify the ways in which consumers contribute to identity formation among market women

State Socialism in Eastern Europe Eszter Bartha, Tamás Krausz, Bálint Mezei, 2023-07-10 This volume brings together a diverse set of scholars to address the long theoretical conceptual and political debate on the interpretation of actually existing socialism in the Soviet Union and Eastern Europe While the major paradigms totalitarianism neo totalitarianism revisionism post revisionism modernization and the world system analysis are well known in the Western English language literature the concept of state socialism which has strong theoretical roots in Hungary going back to the works of György Lukács and István Mészáros received less international attention This book contributes to a productive discussion about viable alternatives to capitalism by introducing and theoretically elaborating on the concept and practice of state socialism highlighting the historical significance of Hungary's experiment with the new economic mechanism of 1968 It generates a common point of reference for various generations of anti systemic thinkers scholars and activists to move beyond Cold War simplifications and ideological divides and contributes to the discussion about anti capitalist alternatives which are relevant today for the global left The chapter Dance Around a Sacred Cow Women s Night Work and the Gender Politics of the Mass Worker in State Socialist Hungary and Internationally is available open access under a Creative Commons Attribution NonCommercial NoDerivatives 4 0 International License via link springer.com

the world Contributors provide an assessment of the overall social globalization phenomenon in the global world as well as an outlook of transformations of global social inequality in the future This book will be a timely addition for students and scholars of globalization studies social inequality sociology and cultural and social anthropology Institutional Change Sven-Erik Sjostrand, 2016-06-16 This book brings together some 15 papers drawn from the 330 papers presented at the Third Annual Conference of the Society for the Advancement of Socio Economics in Stockholm Sweden in June 1991 Part 1 outlines a basic theory of institutional change Parts 2 and 3 examine case studies in international experience with institutional change The authors of the original papers include Douglas North Amitai Etzioni Oliver Williamson as well as eminent scholars from Eastern and Western Europe representing views and analyses from ten different countries Business Leaders and New Varieties of Capitalism in Post-Communist Europe Katharina Bluhm, Bernd Martens, Vera Trappmann, 2013-09-23

Business leaders exert extraordinary influence on institution building in market economies but they think and act within institutional settings This book combines both an elite approach with a varieties of capitalism approach Comparing Poland Hungary and East and West Germany we perceive the transformations in East Central Europe and in Germany after 1989 as being intertwined Based on a joint survey this book seeks to measure the level of the convergence of ideas among European business leaders assuming it to be more extensive than the institutional convergence expected under the dominance of neoliberal discourse Analyzing the institutional framework organizational features like size ownership and labour relations and subjective characteristics like age social origin career patterns and attitudes of the recent business elites we found significant differences between countries and the types of organization The growing importance of economic degrees and internationalization shows astonishingly little explanatory power on the views of business leaders The idea of a coordinated market economy is still relatively widespread among Germans while their Hungarian and Polish counterparts are more likely to display a minimalist view of corporate responsibility to society and adverse attitudes towards employee representation However their attitudes frequently tend to be inconsistent which mirrors the mixed type of capitalism in East Central Europe

The Crisis of Socialism in Europe Christiane Lemke, Gary Marks, 1992 The revolutions in Eastern Europe and the recasting of socialism in Western Europe since 1989 have given rise to intense debate over the origins character and implications of the crisis of socialism Is socialism in ideological electoral or organizational decline Is the decline inevitable or can socialism be revitalized This volume draws together historians and political scientists of Eastern and Western European politics to address these questions The collection begins with an historical overview of socialism in Western Europe and moves toward the suggestion of a framework for a post socialist discourse Among the topics covered are the birth and death of communism and a regime type in Eastern Europe how different forms of national communism were smothered by Sovietization in the postwar period the origins of revolutions in Eastern Europe the potential for social democracy in Hungary the role of the Left in a reunified Germany and directions for the Left in general Contributors Geoff Eley Konrad Jarausch between religion and ethnicity the intersection between culture and imperial national wartime and revolutionary political agendas migration women s and gender history ideologies and political movements the legacy of communism and the ways in which various states in East Central Europe deployed and were formed by the politics of memory and commemoration This book uses new methodologies in order to fundamentally reshape perspectives on the development of East Central Europe over the past three centuries Transnational and comparative in approach this volume presents the latest research on the social cultural political and economic history of modern East Central Europe providing an analytical and comprehensive overview for all students of this region
