The Life And Work Of Writer Annie Trumbull Slosson A Connecticut Local Colorist:

The Life and Work of Writer Annie Trumbull Slosson Edward Ifkovic, 2004 Annie Trumbull Slosson 1832 1926 was an important short story writer who epitomized the American local color movement that flourished after the Civil War and ended at the beginning of the twentieth century Along with writers like Sarah Orne Jewett Mary Wilkins Freeman and Elizabeth Stuart Phelps she helped establish the popular and critical model of the short story in which location and idiosyncratic characterization identified a particular region of the United States In New England women dominated the genre for the isolated farms and desolate villages were often places where women and old men lived the young men had died in the war or had gone west in search of gold Slosson s first work The China Hunter s Club 1878 helped establish the viability of local dialect building on the tradition established by Harriet Beecher Stowe and Catherine Sedgwick But in her two most important volumes Seven Dreamers 1890 and Dumb Foxglove and Other Stories 1898 she reached full maturity with stories that developed the mystical psychological ramifications of her characters mostly older women who abandoned the old style Congregational Calvinist puritanism of their forebears and Archives of Desire J. Samaine Lockwood, 2015-09-14 In this thought provoking study of nineteenth century America J Samaine Lockwood offers an important new interpretation of the literary movement known as American regionalism Lockwood argues that regionalism in New England was part of a widespread woman dominated effort to rewrite history Lockwood demonstrates that New England regionalism was an intellectual endeavor that overlapped with colonial revivalism and included fiction and history writing antique collecting colonial home restoration and photography The cohort of writers and artists leading this movement included Sarah Orne Jewett Alice Morse Earle and C Alice Baker and their project was taken up by women of a younger generation such as Charlotte Perkins Gilman and Pauline Elizabeth Hopkins who extended regionalism through the modernist moment Lockwood draws on a diverse archive that includes fiction material culture collecting guides and more Showing how these women intellectuals aligned themselves with a powerful legacy of social and cultural dissent Lockwood reveals that New England regionalism performed queer historical work placing unmarried women and their myriad desires at the center of both regional and national history

Inherit the Holy Mountain Mark Stoll, 2015 Inherit the Holy Mountain puts religion at the center of the history of American environmentalism rather than at its margins demonstrating how religion provided environmentalists with content direction and tone for the environmental causes they espoused
