The Light that Failed Ivan Krastev, Stephen Holmes, 2019-10-31

A landmark book that completely transforms our understanding of the crisis of liberalism from two pre eminent intellectuals Why did the West after winning the Cold War lose its political balance In the early 1990s hopes for the eastward spread of liberal democracy were high And yet the transformation of Eastern European countries gave rise to a bitter repudiation of liberalism itself not only there but also back in the heartland of the West In this brilliant work of political psychology Ivan Krastev and Stephen Holmes argue that the supposed end of history turned out to be only the beginning of an Age of

Imitation Reckoning with the history of the last thirty years they show that the most powerful force behind the wave of populist xenophobia that began in Eastern Europe stems from resentment at the post 1989 imperative to become Westernized Through this prism the Trump revolution represents an ironic fulfillment of the promise that the nations exiting from communist rule would come to resemble the United States In a strange twist Trump has elevated Putin s Russia and Orb n s Hungary into models for the United States Written by two pre eminent intellectuals bridging the East West divide

Most of the novel is set in London but many important events throughout the story occur in Sudan and Port Said It follows the life of Dick Helder an artist and painter who goes blind and his unrequited love for his childhood playmate Maisie It is Kipling s first novel written when he was 26 years old and is semi autobiographical being based upon his own unrequited love for Florence Garrard Though it was poorly received by critics the novel has managed to remain in print for over a century It was also adapted into a play two silent films as well as a drama film      Summary of Stephen Holmes & Ivan Krastev's The Light That Failed Everest Media,2022-06-22T22:59:00Z Please note This is a companion version not the original book Sample Book Insights 1 In 1990 John Feffer a 26 year old American spent several months traveling Eastern Europe in hopes of understanding its post communist future He was fascinated and puzzled by the contradictions he encountered The capitalist future had arrived but its benefits and burdens were unevenly distributed 2 After 1989 the global spread of democracy was envisioned as a version of the fairy tale of Sleeping Beauty where the Prince of Freedom would only have to slay the Dragon of Tyranny and kiss the princess to awaken a previously dormant liberal majority But the kiss proved bitter and the revived majority turned out to be more resentful and less liberal than expected 3 The origins of populism are complex but they are partly rooted in the humiliations of struggling to become at best an inferior copy of a superior model After 1989 there were no alternatives to liberal political and economic models This led to a contrarian desire to prove that there were alternatives 4 The revolutions of 1989 were largely unmarred by the cut throat methods and human suffering that are usually part of root and branch political upheaval They were instead characterized by their hostility to utopias and political experiments      The Light that Failed Rudyard Kipling,1903 After returning to London following the war in the Sudan war artist Dick Helder is gradually losing his sight He struggles to complete his masterpiece the portrait of Bessie Broke a Cockney girl before his eyesight fails him
