What is Said R. Bertolet, 2012-12-06 The notion of what someone says is perhaps surprisingly some what less clear than we might be entitled to expect Suppose that I utter to my class the sentence I want you to write a paper reconciling the things Russell claims about propositions in The Philosophy of Mathematics for next week A student who was unable to get up in time for class that day asks another what I said about the assignment Several replies are in the offing One an oratio recta or direct speech report is He said I want you to write a paper reconciling the things Russell claims about propositions in The Philosophy of Mathematics for next week Another an oratio obliqua or indirect speech report consists in the response He said that he wants us to write a paper reconciling Yet another reflecting a perhaps accurate estimate of the task involved editorializes He said he wants us to do the impossible Or aware of both this and my quaint custom of barring those who have not successfully completed the assignment from the classroom one might retort He said he doesn't want to meet next week Since says is construable in these various ways it is at best unhelpful to write something like Alice said Your paper is two days late thereby saying that Tom's paper was two days late DancePlay Diane Lynch-Fraser, 2000 The creation of a professional therapist and former dancer Danceplay brings to parents a new and wonderful way for interacting with their very young children even before verbal exchange has fully begun Designed for eighteen month to four year olds and their mothers and fathers it is a stimulating approach to fostering a child's social and intellectual growth through creative physical play The exercises based on the insights and knowledge of developmental psychologists progress from simple movements suitable for the eighteen month old to sequences involving complex ideas and actions for the four year old Level One begins with stretching and limbering and gradually moves to an exploration of the body and its parts In Level Two the child learns to distinguish self from environment through a variety of danceplays And the focus of Level Three is integration as games music and movement develop the ability to perceive a situation as a complex experience Touching is emphasized throughout and the fun and sharing add immeasurably to the everyday interaction between parent and child Charming line drawings illustrate an easy to follow text and necessary equipment is limited to simple household items It is difficult to imagine an easier more pleasurable way to help your child develop as he or she grows Travels in a Tree House John S. Workman, 2001-01-01 In a collection of separate mostly unrelated essays written for his newspaper column over many years Workman charms with his grace comforts with his wisdom and makes us smile with his wit Like his previous collections of inspirational columns Open Windows and Fireflies in a Fruitjar this is a book to be read and given as a gift to those we love
