The Trapper's Daughter: A Story of the Rocky Mountains Gustave Aimard, 2020-09-28 Admitting the Holocaust Lawrence L. Langer, 1996-06-20 In the face of the Holocaust writes Lawrence L Langer our age clings to the stable relics of faded eras as if ideas like natural innocence innate dignity the inviolable spirit and the triumph of art over reality were immured in some kind of immortal shrine immune to the ravages of history and time But these ideas have been ravaged and in Admitting the Holocaust Langer presents a series of essays that represent his effort over nearly a decade to wrestle with this rupture in human values and to see the Holocaust as it really was His vision is necessarily dark but he does not see the Holocaust as a warrant for futility or as a witness to the death of hope It is a summons to reconsider our values and rethink what it means to be a human being These penetrating and often gripping essays cover a wide range of issues from the Holocaust's relation to time and memory to its portrayal in literature to its use and abuse by culture to its role in reshaping our sense of history's legacy In many Langer examines the ways in which accounts of the Holocaust in history literature film and theology have extended and sometimes limited our insight into an event that is often said to defy understanding itself He singles out Cynthia Ozick as one of the few American writers who can meet the challenge of imagining mass murder without flinching and who can distinguish between myth and truth On the other hand he finds Bernard Malamud's literary treatment of the Holocaust never entirely successful it seems to have been a threat to Malamud's vision of man's basic dignity and he argues that William Styron's portrayal of the commandant of Auschwitz in Sophie's Choice pushed Nazi violence to the periphery of the novel where it disturbed neither the author nor his readers He is especially acute in his discussion of the language used to describe the Holocaust arguing that much of it is used to console rather than to confront He notes that when we speak of the survivor instead of the victim of martyrdom instead of murder regard being gassed as dying with dignity or evoke the redemptive rather than grievous power of memory we draw on an arsenal of words that tends to build verbal fences between what we are mentally willing or able to face and the harrowing reality of the camps and ghettos A respected Holocaust scholar and author of Holocaust Testimonies The Ruins of Memory winner of the 1991 National Book Critics Circle Award for criticism Langer offers a view of this catastrophe that is candid and disturbing and yet hopeful in its belief that the testimony of witnesses in diaries journals memoirs and on videotape and the unflinching imagination of literary artists can still offer us access to one of the darkest episodes in the twentieth century Brokenvegetable Luke Ouellette,2008-10-18 This is a book of poetry written emotionally through the eyes of someone with more than one perspective on life It goes from the hardest graphic violence to the softest heartfelt words and all in less than 175 pages American Bandstand John A. Jackson,1999 Based on extensive interviews with dozens of photographs this is a riveting and uncensored account of a show that managed to survive countless revolutions in popular music 36 halftones The Hinterkaifeck Murders Madina Fedosova,2025-04-30 1922 Hinterkaifeck Bavaria A small farm becomes the scene of a tragedy that shocked Germany and went down in history as one of the most brutal and enigmatic crimes of the 20th century Six people are brutally murdered The police are baffled Motives remain unclear This book is a fictional exploration of the events at Hinterkaifeck an attempt to understand what really happened and why this crime remains unsolved to this day The Case of the Lazy Lover Erle Stanley Gardner,2023-05-31 A man tells everyone that his wife has run away with his best friend who seems to have a strange lack of enthusiasm about the affair The case leads to murder and a trial that hinges on multiple sets of footprints Aspects of Management Planning for Cultural World Heritage Sites Simon Makuvaza,2017-11-23 Every site that is inscribed on the World Heritage List WHL must have a management plan or some other management system According to the UNESCO

Operational Guidelines the purpose of a management plan is to ensure the effective protection of the nominated property for present and future generations This requirement was in part necessitated by the need to implement real systems of monitoring on the management of World Heritage Sites Since its implementation in 2005 discussion on the function and the contents of management plans for World Heritage Sites has grown tremendously The discussions have mainly been focused on the theoretical frameworks of World Heritage site management plans and proposals of practical guidelines for their implementation This volume provides a platform for heritage practitioners especially those working at Cultural World Heritage Sites to put in writing their experiences and impressions about the implementation of site management plans at properties that are inscribed on the WHL Cultural World Heritage Sites in this case refer to world heritage properties such as archaeological sites cultural landscapes religious sites and architectural structures The book also seeks to examine the extent to which site management plans have been or are being implemented at Cultural World Heritage Sites

Process Facilitation in Psychoanalysis, Psychotherapy and Social Work Sylvia O'Neill, 2018-07-03 Process Facilitation in Psychoanalysis Psychotherapy and Social Work elaborates a differential theory of therapeutic engagement with full reference not only to psychoanalysis and to psychotherapy but also surprisingly to social work When contemporary social work with the marginalised achieves mutual constructive collaboration social workers characteristically notice an unfolding process Could this correspond to the analytic process of psychoanalysis Sylvia O'Neill seeks to explain theoretically and to illustrate clearly in practice just how a quasi autonomous therapeutic process becomes established The theory underpinning the book is Jean Luc Donnet's conceptualisation of the establishment of the analytic process in psychoanalysis through introjection of the analytic setting Donnet designates the psychoanalytic setting as the analytic site O'Neill proceeds to trace by means of detailed clinical discussion the analogous process by which a viable therapeutic process can become established through created found discovery and introjection of the relevant site or setting in psychoanalytic psychotherapy and in social work Amongst the most important elements are the practitioner's internalised theoretical principles The book demonstrates that unconscious introjection figures more importantly in effective therapeutic engagement than a conscious therapeutic alliance An important corollary for social work is that contrary to popular myth no prior psychological mindedness is required The differential theory of Process Facilitation in Psychoanalysis Psychotherapy and Social Work is equally relevant to psychodynamic counselling Leningrad ,
