Social Science and Government A. B. Cherns, W. I. Jenkins, R. Sinclair, 2013-10-11 Tavistock Press was established as a co-operative venture between the Tavistock Institute and Routledge Kegan Paul RKP in the 1950s to produce a series of major contributions across the social sciences. This volume is part of a 2001 reissue of a selection of those important works which have since gone out of print or are difficult to locate. Published by Routledge 112 volumes in total are being brought together under the name The International Behavioural and Social Sciences Library Classics from the Tavistock Press. Reproduced here in facsimile, this volume was originally published in 1972 and is available individually. The collection is also available in a number of themed mini sets of between 5 and 13 volumes or as a complete collection. Whitehall and the Labour Problem in late-Victorian and Edwardian Britain Roger Davidson, 2024-09-18 Most interpretations of late Victorian and Edwardian social and economic trends have relied heavily upon the industrial labour statistics published by Whitehall. This book, originally published in 1985, incorporates a critical examination of the human resources motivation and statistical techniques which generate that data base. It focuses on the production structure and output of the official statistics relating to a range of imperfections in the labour market and industrial relations characterised by contemporary social observers, administrators and policy makers as the labour problem. This study makes a significant contribution to the recent debate over the nature and motivation of late Victorian and Edwardian social policy. It provides a case study with which to assess the hypotheses put forward by social scientists as to the relationship between social statistics and policy. Thirdly, in examining the motivation of official statisticians, the book will illuminate the changing role of the expert in British government growth since 1800. This book, with its wide range of primary sources, will be valuable to students of the history of late Victorian and Edwardian Britain and to the development of British industrial relations and the welfare state. A Strategic Approach to Urban Research and Development: Social and Behavioral Science Considerations National Research Council (U.S.). Committee on Social and Behavioral Urban Research, 1969. Contemporary Challenges in Social Science Management Anne Marie Thake, Kiran Sood, Ercan Özen, Simon Grima, 2024-04-15 Enriched and strengthened with European case studies of real life situations providing practical and industry insights. Part A and B collate experts in Economics, Finance, Public Policy, Human Resources and Risk Management contributing on employability, labour markets, sustainability and skills of the future from across the globe. Social Science Research and Decision-making Carol H. Weiss, Michael J. Bucuvalas, 1980. Social Studies for Secondary Schools Alan J. Singer, 2014-10-08 Now in its 4th edition, this popular text for secondary social studies methods courses integrates discussions of educational goals and the nature of history and social studies with ideas for organizing social studies curricula, units, lessons, projects and activities. A major theme throughout is that what teachers choose to teach and the way they teach reflect their broader understanding of society, history and the purpose of social studies education. Advocating an inquiry and activity-based view of social studies teaching that respects the points of view of students and teachers and based in practice and experience it offers systematic support and open honest advice for new teachers Each chapter addresses a broad question about social studies education sub chapters begin with narrower questions that direct attention to specific educational issues Lesson ideas and materials in the book and online are especially designed to help new teachers to address common core learning standards to work in inclusive settings and to promote literacy and the use of technology in social studies classrooms Chapters include highlighted Learning Activities Teaching Activities and Classroom Activities designed to provoke discussion and illustrate different approaches to teaching social studies and conclude with recommendations for further reading and links to on line essays about related social studies topics Activities are followed by four categories Think it over Add your voice to the discussion Try it yourself and It s your classroom All of these are supported with online teaching material Designed for undergraduate and graduate pre service social studies methods courses this text is also useful for in service training programs as a reference for new social studies teachers and as a resource for experienced social studies educators who are engaged in rethinking their teaching practice New in the Fourth Edition Provides a number of new lesson ideas paired with online lesson plans and activity sheets in every chapter Takes a new focus on data driven standards based instruction especially in relation to the common core curriculum Addresses the interactive nature of learning in updated technology sections Reflects current trends in history education Includes more of what the author has learned from working teachers Offers a wealth of additional on line material linked to the text

Exaggerated Claims? David Walker,2015-11-30 David Walker s analysis is incisive and hard hitting Anyone who believes in the power of social science to inform better policy making should take his criticisms seriously Sue Duncan Former Chief Government Social Researcher and Head of the Government Social Research Service David Walker has written an unofficial summary of ESRC s achievements and struggles He brings to the task long experience of the organisation and of the key players a great familiarity with the literature and a sceptical nature The result is stimulating instructive contentious and sometimes even infuriating David Rhind Chair of the Nuffield Foundation What is the role of the state in distributing research money How do arm s length funding agencies relate to public policy and business This original study looks at the main social science funding agency in the UK which was established 50 years ago It examines how funding decisions are related to power The critical and policy aspects of successful research bids are discussed Walker asks the tricky question why has social science research not achieved a more salient role in state policy formation and management strategy is the funding agency responsible Insightful engrossing and highly original the book will be required reading for anyone who has written or will write a Social Science research bid and more widely for students of power knowledge and culture

The Politics of Social Science Research P. Ratcliffe,2001-06-18 This book addresses

some of the key questions facing contemporary social scientists What is the point of our research Who undertakes it Does it have any impact on the social world it attempts to characterize if so what It does so by focusing on international research on identity and inequality grounded in race and ethnic difference The contributors to the volume ask searching questions about the politics of research funding the empowerment of minorities and the prospects for meaningful change

Politics and Policies for Water Resources Management in India M. Dinesh Kumar, 2020-06-29 This comprehensive volume explores the interface between politics and policy making in the water management sector of India The authors discuss the nature of the political discourse on water management in India and what characterizes this discourse They also explore how this discourse has influenced the process of framing water related policies in India particularly through the academics bureaucrat politician nexus and the growing influence of the civil society groups on policy makers which are the defining feature of this process and which have produced certain policy outcomes that are not supported by sufficient scientific evidence The book reveals that the social and management sciences despite being increasingly relevant in contemporary water management are unable to impress upon traditional engineer dominated water administration to seek solutions to complex water problems owing to a lack of interdisciplinary perspective in their research The authors also examine the current deadlock in undertaking sectoral reforms due to existing water policies not being honoured This collection includes several research studies which suggest legal institutional policy alternatives for addressing the problems in areas such as irrigation rural and urban water supply flood control and adaptation to climate variability and change It was originally published as a special issue of the International Journal of Water Resources Development
