A critical approach to the social acceptance of renewable energy infrastructures Susana Batel, David Rudolph, 2021-08-25 This book provides a critical approach to research on the social acceptance of renewable energy infrastructures and on energy transitions in general by questioning prevalent principles and proposing specific research pathways and lines of inquiry that look beyond depoliticised business as usual discourses and research agendas on green growth and sustainability It brings together authors from different socio geographical and disciplinary backgrounds within the social sciences to reflect upon discuss and advance what we propose to be five cornerstones of a critical approach overcoming individualism and socio cognitivism repoliticisations recognising and articulating power relations for interdisciplinarity interventions praxis and political engagement with research and overcoming localism and spatial determinism As such this book offers academics students and practitioners alike a comprehensive perspective of what it means to be critical when inquiring into the social acceptance of renewable energy and associated infrastructures

Handbook of Marriage and the Family Suzanne K. Steinmetz, Marvin B. Sussman, 2013-11-11 The lucid straightforward Preface of this Handbook by the two editors and the comprehensive perspectives offered in the Introduction by one of them leave little for a Foreword to add It is therefore limited to two relevant but not intrinsically related points vis a vis research on marriage and the family in the interval since the first Handbook Christensen 1964 appeared namely the impact on this research of the politicization of the New Right and of the Feminist Enlightenment beginning in the mid sixties about the time of the first Handbook In the late 1930s Willard Waller noted Fifty years or more ago about 1890 most people had the greatest respect for the institution called the family and wished to learn nothing whatever about it Everything that concerned the life of men and women and their children was shrouded from the light Today much of that has been changed Gone is the concealment of the way in which life begins gone the irrational sanctity of the home The aura of sentiment which once protected the family from discussion clings to it no more We want to learn as much about it as we can and to understand it as thoroughly as possible for there is a rising recognition in America that vast numbers of its families are sick from internal frustrations and from external buffeting We are engaged in the process of reconstructing our family institutions through criticism and discussion 1938 pp 3 4      Reconstructing Sociology Douglas V. Porpora, 2015-09-03 A general critique of sociology particularly sociology in the United States from a critical realist perspective      A Handbook of Critical Approaches to Literature Wilfred L. Guerin, 1992 The third edition of this highly successful survey of critical responses to literature covers the significant critical and theoretical developments of the past decade while retaining the essential clarity of definition and accessibility that distinguished the earlier editions Offering a new chapter on feminist approaches to literature and shorter sections on the new historicism narratology and dialogics and hermeneutics the new edition also features a substantial new section on structuralism post structuralism and deconstruction and a unique section on reader response The editors have also substantially revised and updated all bibliographical references both within individual chapters and in the list of supplementary readings      Introducing Sociology Kenneth Murray Knuttila, 2002 This new edition offers an alternative approach to sociology that has been adapted from the work of British sociologist Anthony Giddens and infused with the philosophy of the controversial American sociologist C Wright Mills This approach begins by examining the structure and organization of biological reproduction and material production within a society Knuttila argues that sociology must be understood as a distinct way of thinking about human social behaviour in our diverse social worlds
