Law-Making in the International Community G.M. Danilenko, 2024-01-15 As the world approaches the end of the twentieth century it becomes clear that the global legal system governing relations between the members of the international community is passing through a period of profound change The traditional lawmaking techniques established largely at the beginning of this century were constituted so as to provide for only gradual reforms within a limited and homogeneous community of states Faced with a growing number of global problems the international community has discovered that the traditional legal system lacks effective procedures for rapid generation of new international legal norms Law Making in the International Community examines to what extent the transformations in the social and the legal infrastructures of the international community have affected the traditional rules determining how international law is to be made or changed By focusing on actual state practice official statements of governments and the pronouncements of the World Court this book seeks to clarify the content and significance of the existing community consensus concerning the authoritative methods of lawmaking

Law-Making in the People's Republic of China Jianfu Chen, Yuwen Li, Jan Michiel Otto, Maurice V. Polak, 2021-10-25 Who are the legislators and what are the products of the legislative process in China How does a law come into being What meaning should we ascribe to these legislative products from the perspective of legal certainty Can we recognise a Chinese approach to or style of law making What technical legislative problems have Chinese jurists identified and what sorts of solutions to them are being considered These are the questions which Law making in the PRC attempts to solve The volume opens with papers on the historical perspective of law making on ideology and law making and on a comparison between the PRC's legal framework and the frameworks of other legal systems Part II deals with various Institutions and Actors involved and offers analyses of the National People s Congress the State Council departmental rule making local law making law making in autonomous regions public participation and the proposed law on law making by academics Part III offers three case studies in which important areas of legal development are analysed from a law making point of view The selected areas are administrative law contract law and criminal law Democracy in International Law-Making Salar Abbasi,2021-12-20 This book provides a critique of current international law making and draws on a set of principles from Persian philosophers to present an alternative to influence the development of international law making procedure The work conceptualizes a substantive notion of democracy in order to regulate international law making mechanisms under a set of principles developed between the twelfth and seventeenth centuries in Persia What the author here names democratic egalitarian multilateralism is founded on the idea of egalitarian law by Suhrawardi the account of substantial motion by Mulla Sadra and the ideal of intercultural dialectical democracy developed by R m Following a discussion of the conceptual flaws of the chartered and customary sources of international law it is argued that democratic egalitarian multilateralism could be a source for a set of principles to regulate the procedures through which international treaties are made as well as a criterion for customary international law ascertainment Presenting an alternative drawn from a less dominant culture to the established ideas of international law making the book will be essential reading for researchers and academics working in public international law history of law legal theory comparative legal theory Islamic law and history The Law Quarterly Review ,1918 The American Journal of International Law ,1913 Statutes & Their Interpretation in the First Half of the Fourteenth Century Theodore Frank Thomas Plucknett,1922 The Law Magazine and Law Review, Or, Quarterly Journal of Jurisprudence ,1871 Ohio Law Bulletin ,1920
